AMERICAN FAMILY SHOWS DECREASES

Number of Persons Less Than Ten Years Ago, 1920 Census Says.
(Washington Dispatch)
Decrease during the decade in the average number of persons in a family and to a dwelling in the United States is indicated by comparative statistics made public today by the Census Bureau.
The 1920 census showed, the statement said, that the nation's population was grouped into 24,351,476 families, residing in 20,697,204 dwellings, making an average of 4.3 persons to a family, and 51.1 persons to a dwelling.
In 1910 the average number of persons to a family was 4.5 and to a dwelling 5.2 per cent.
As shown by the 1920 census the average size of families was greatest in Southern States and smallest in Western States, the bureau announced. The number of persons to a dwelling was greatest in the New England States.
Among individual states the average to a family in 1920 ranged from 3.5 in Nevada to 5 in North Carolina.

Another Brock Quality.

(Marshville Cor. Monroe Journal)
When Judge Brock was a boy, my grandfather, the late Rev. R. T. N. Stevenson, was serving a work in Anson County. A prolonged illness had come to Judge Brock's family, he himself probably being one of the patients. My grandfather was privileged to aid them in their distress and to help them in every way that he could. Years afterwards when age and failing health necessitated his (my grandfather's) superannuating, Judge Brock remembering the act of kindness shown his family and himself, and knowing that a Methodist preacher's life is not conducive to the accumulating of worldly goods, went to my grandfather, recalled the incident of the years before, which had completely passed from the latter's memory, and asked if there was any way in which he could now be of service. As it happened my grandfather was well provided for and it was not necessary to make use of Judge Brock's generous offer, but the fine spirit he displayed in remembering and offering to aid one whom in former years had aided him will always be cherished in our family down through the generations. It is significant that though my grandfather was the recipient or many kind words and good wishes when he retired, yet Judge Brock was the only one who went out of his way to make sure that he would suffer for nothing in his age and feebleness.

Red Cross Gives $310,000 to Aid 'Clean-Up' Drive

An appropriation of $310,000 for Red Cross work in connection with the "clean-up" campaign instituted by the Government to bring the claims of all disabled service men who are entitled to Federal aid before the proper government bureau for action, has been made by the American Red Cross. The Executive Committee of the American Red Cross in making the appropriation authorized the appropriation of $35,000 of this sum to the American Legion to defray the expense of the Legion representatives assigned to the various districts of the Veterans Bureau.
The remainder of the appropriation was authorized for apportionment among the several Divisions of the Red Cross for carrying on that part of the "clean-up" work that falls directly upon the Red Cross organization.

Young America Sends Vast Relief To Needy Abroad

Various relief projects of the Junior American Red Cross in European countries resulted in helping 237,000 destitute children during the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of the American Red Cross for that period. The growth of the activities of the Juniors abroad is manifested by a comparison which shows this figure is 200,000 larger than that of the previous fiscal year.
The National Children's Fund raised by school children, members of the Junior American Red Cross, was drawn upon for $420,557 for these projects. Receipts for the National Children's Fund during the last fiscal year totalled $155,317.

America Succors Russians

Food, clothing and medical relief costing $700,000 has been provided by the American Red Cross for the thousands of Russian refugees stranded last year in Constantinople and vicinity.

Red Cross Trains 147 Blind Vets In Useful Work

Training designed to fit them for the battle of life was taken by 147 blind ex-service men at the Red Cross Institute for the Blind, near Baltimore, Md., during the fiscal year 1920-1921, according to the report of the Institute for that period.
Of this number, 19 have gone on to other institutions, in almost every case to institutions where those having sight are receiving advanced education. The blind ex-service men who have entered such institutions are provided with special text-books in Braille, reading which they were taught at the Red Cross Institute.
Twelve men have passed from the Institute to successfully carry on some occupation or business for which they were fitted by special training. A few have withdrawn from the Institute because of poor physical condition, 14 are receiving further "training on the job" and 87 are still in training.

Red Cross Plans $6,000,000 Effort To Save Children

Medical care and clothing for thousands of children in Central and Eastern Europe are outlined as the activities of the American Red Cross in Europe for the current year, says a statement on the eve of the Annual Roll Call of the organization. These activities, supplemental to the feeding operations of the European Relief Council of which Herbert Hoover is chairman, are designed to provide the most adequate and balanced relief within the resources of private philanthropy.
Through the establishment of child welfare stations in the centers of population of those countries where adequate medical care is not now obtainable, the American Red Cross plans to provide the medical assistance needed to restore these children to a normally healthy life. The sum of $6,000,000 has been made available for this work.

The Cloud.

He was a pilgrim pale and tired,
He stopped a passerby:
"I seek a taxless spot," he cried,
"To rest before I die."
My house and lot and car are taxed;
The things I wear and eat
And buy and sell, alas! as well
As water, light and heat.

Character In the Face.

A command of words and a faculty for acquiring languages is denoted by eyes that are prominent and full underneath. A Grecian nose denotes passive endurance. An energetic person has long, narrow nostrils, an aquiline nose, and that part of the cheek lying between the nose and the cheek bone very prominent. Much space between the eyebrows and the eye at the outer corner denotes great love of enjoyment. A square, high broad forehead denotes faithfulness.
