The Winter Wonder Place.

With the opening of an all-good highway between Charlotte and Pinehurst the people of this section are going to become better acquainted with the wonders that have been established in that part of the sandhills. The foundation of Pinehurst as a winter resort is an old story, but few of our home people have the remotest idea of the progress that has been made in its development or in its character. The reports in the newspapers from time to time have proved lamentably inadequate. The revelation comes when one drives up to the doors of any of the great hotels which have been opened there. One institution in particular, rivals in elegance and splendor, as it exceeds in proportions, the best of the famed Florida resort hotels. Mr. Tufts, the founder of the place, long since convinced the Northern people that ideal conditions existed at Pinehurst and vicinity, and it was an easy matter to enlist Northern investment in golf links, lakes, clubhouses and hotels. Pinehurst is now one of the most finely-equipped resort places in the Nation. The indoor life is one of all the taste and magnificence that can be developed by ingenuity and money. The days are spent in the open on the links, or on the drivers and footpaths, and in the evenings the lobbies and halls develop scenes of animation with swarms of elegantly gowned women and men in full evening dress. All the rules of high society life prevail. There is no colored help. Maids and waitresses, porters and bellboys, are brought from the North and give service that can come only from the hands of the well-trained. Each hotel maintains a fine band and all manner of indoor entertainment is provided. —Charlotte Observer.
