CALOMEL SALIVATES EVEN WHEN CAREFUL

Treacherous Drug Can Not Be Trusted and Next Dose May Start Trouble.

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue, and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury, quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

The Policewoman. (Times-Dispatch)
In the near future two women will be added to the police force of Richmond. There is every reason to believe they will be as useful here as their sisters in an identical role have been elsewhere. The following sentence reproduced from The Times-Dispatch of yesterday indicates to those who will give the matter a moment's reflection just where and how the women police will fit in: "Their duties will be similar to those of a police matron and their activities confined to theaters, dance halls, depots, hotels and investigation of cases in which a woman would be at an advantage and particularly adapted to make an inquiry."
