OBITUARY

MRS. MARY L. HARGROVE

In many obituaries only the dates of birth and death, and mention of surviving relatives are given, but the life and triumphant death of this good woman deserve more than a passing notice. She was born in Camden Co., N. C., Feb. 10th, 1846; educated at the Oxford Baptist College and Greensboro College; became a Christian early in life; married Col. Tazwell Hargrove March 18th, 1868, and after a quiet, peaceful term of seventy-six years was taken from our midst Dec. 7th, 1922.

Quiet and lady-like in manners, sweet and lovely in disposition, she easily made friends of children and old people as well as her equal associates, and servants, after years in her service, bear testimony to her goodness and kindness. Faithful in her Christian duties she was much interested in Sunday School teaching from her earliest Christian profession and in the parlor of her home was organized our Baraca Class, grown from a small beginning to its present number. These young men, were ever near her heart. Nothing would bring a smile to her face quicker than a sight or mention of one of them. She said, "Give my love to my boys and all the church people—tell them I loved them." She conquered by love, the greatest of all virtues, which ran as a beautiful thread through her every action. Submissive, without a murmur or complaint amid severest suffering, thoughtful for the comfort of others, appreciative of the least attention from anxious friends she taught a lesson which will awaken deeper aspirations in our hearts to so live as to meet Death, undismayed willingly, trusting in the Blessed Savior.

A friend bending low said, "God will take care of you." She replied, "Yes—I have trusted him too often not to know that." In great pain of body she expressed a wish for sleep and softly murmured, "He giveth His Beloved Sleep." She asked to be told truly and honestly if the doctor said she was going. Receiving for answer—"Yes—he has wondered that the end tarried so long" in a clear voice she over and over again answered, "Bless the Lord—Bless the Lord."

Her favorite hymn was:
"Father, whatever of earthly bliss Thy sovereign will denies, Accepted at a throne of grace, Let this petition rise:
Give one a calm, a thankful heart, From every murmur free; The blessings of thy grace impart, And make me hie for thee."

A short service was held in the Methodist church and her body borne to the family burying ground near Townsville and laid beside her husband Col. Tazwell Hargrove to await the resurrection morn.

May her mantle fall upon those who loved her and mourn, not without hope of meeting her again in the Eternal Home. E. C. P.

Women and the Prohibition Vote.
(Presbyterian Standard.)

The Federal Director of Prohibition for Massachusetts, in a public address, said, before the election, that it was his opinion, based upon extensive observation, that 60 per cent of the women of Massachusetts would vote against prohibition. When one examines the returns, he will find that something of that kind must be true.

We, however, take comfort in the fact that while such may be the condition of affairs in a section where the foreign element is so large, in other sections, such as the Southern States, where it is a negligible quality, the contrary will be the case.

Wherever you find wine-drinking women, do not count on their support. Besides the natural disposition to safeguard their own interests, it is always true that drink of any kind blunts the moral sensibilities, which is only another way of saying that the conscience is seared, and therefore will fail to do its appointed work.

Let us not count always on woman's support of "dry" laws, but first find out whether drinking among them is prevalent or not, and also what per cent of their section is of foreign birth. Let us remember that there are women, and women.

SCIENCE MAKES POULTRY PAY

Some hens take a long time to moult. Many pullets don't begin laying until 7 or 8 months when they should be laying at five. The result is that poultry raisers do not get eggs at the very time when they are worth the most.

Science has found a way to increase the output of winter eggs by using a product made from peanuts.

If you want winter eggs, get a bag of Gubernut Laying Feed that makes mash unnecessary and insures each hen getting enough protein to quickly grow new feathers—makes pullets lay at five months.

Just on feed to buy, for it contains all the vital elements necessary to egg production—elements that ordinary poultry feeds lack. The cracked peanut cake and fish scrap which go into every bag turn loafers into layers. Growing and laying records are both being made with this feed.
