

IN OLD PENSACOLA

The State of Florida is a virtual paradise for the bird and animal lover. This is partly due to the wonderful scenery and partly due to the many varieties of winged and four-footed life to be found there. Wild hogs may still be seen there, and occasionally other wild creatures. Florida's chief asset in this connection, however, is the marvelous bird life. There the birds live in perpetual sunshine, flying amongst the trees and flowers, while balmy breezes blow in from the Gulf and Atlantic. Pensacola, one of the oldest cities in the State, offers historic and scenic opportunities for sight-seeing, as well as good chances to observe and study the many varieties of sea and shore birds. Gulls follow the ships into the Bay and cranes may be observed wading in the marshes. There are innumerable varieties to please the eye. One person took the trolley from Pensacola to the Naval Air Station, seven miles out at the head of the Bay, and counted more than thirty varieties of birds seen on the ride.

Never Had a Chance.
(Louisville Courier-Journal.)
For 30 years, Morris Sheppard had qualified for his filibuster feat. In Texas and elsewhere, he has always been ready and prepared to talk on any subject with or without notice, and with or without limitation. He can unveil a monument and lay a cornerstone in alternating seconds and with alternating sentences. He can, in one breath, praise the Union or Confederate soldier's heroism and in the next breath expound the humanitarianism of the Woodmen of the World, the Y. M. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, the Knights of Pythias, the Elks, the Eagles, the Lions and the Owls. If ever he drops the League of Nations, and opens up on Grant or Lee, Sheridan or Jackson, K C's K. P's, Elks, Eagles, Lions or Owls, Mr. Jones of Washington might as well take the ship subsidy bill back to the White House and lay it out with flowers.

SUBSCRIBE TO
OXFORD PUBLIC LEDGER
$1.50 Per Year in Advance

COX IS ELATED OVER BIG GAINS

Declares Tanlac Ended Stomach Trouble And Built Him Up 25 Pounds.

M. E. Cox, of Hapeville, Ga., valued employee of a large Oakland City manufacturing concern, is still another who declares he has found the Tanlac treatment a safe and sure road to health, strength and working efficiency. In telling his experience he said recently:

"For three years I suffered from stomach trouble and was in an awful run-down condition. I had indigestion so bad I could not eat anything but what it caused the worst of pains in my stomach. My nerves were all undone, and altogether I got no rest day or night, and could do no work."

"When I started on Tanlac I weighed a hundred and twenty pounds, but now I tip the scales at a hundred and forty-five, a gain of twenty-five pounds. After taking several bottles of Tanlac I am sound and well, working steady every day, and I am glad to make a statement for the good it might do others."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 35-million bottles sold.

THE FARMER AND THE TAX GATHERER

(Utah Educational Review.)

Once upon a time there lived in a rich and fertile valley a thrifty farmer. His three children, a girl and two boys attended a nearby school where they were taught daily by a splendid woman of much learning and real worth. Now it so happened that the tax gatherer became very oppressive to the farmer, in so much that he groaned aloud and called out lustily against those that did thus oppress him. But instead of his burden being lifted, his tax became heavier. At last he cried out in his anguish, "This teacher of my children is robbing me. I must withhold one-tenth part of her salary." So he called upon other farmers, and they did positively decide that the tenth part of the teacher's wage should not be paid to her.

Now the total sum of this farmer's taxation amounted to one hundred dollars in coin of the realm. It so happened that one half part of all this sum was expended for learning of various kinds, and the other half part for other matters. Out of the fifty dollars expended for learning, thirty dollars was the sum paid to teacher for their wage.

Now this farmer wailed bitterly and the wise men of the country did reduce the wage of this teacher one-tenth part. In this way the farmer was greatly enriched to the extent of one-tenth of thirty dollars which he had paid for teachers' wages and his heart was gladdened because of the enrichment.

Now it so happened that this good teacher of much learning and real worth discovered that she could not live on the nine-tenths part of her wage, for the total would scarce serve to keep her from the public house for the poor. Therefore, with much sorrow in her heart, she left the school and the children she loved and journeyed to another city, where they received her gladly.

But it followed that a school must needs be kept, and the people searched the highways and byways and found a person to keep the school for the sum of money offered. But she was not trained, neither did she know the art of teaching. The farmer's two sons became rebellious and would not go to school and the daughter failed to learn many things that she should have learned, and she learned many things she ought not to have learned.

And when the farmer said bitterly in his heart, "O that we had again for our children the splendid teacher that went away from us," the only solace he had was that in the days of oppression he had saved three whole dollars, although by doing so he had deprived his three children of the inspiration that a good teacher imparts.

—Gold bar mothers of America, with Mrs. Ben S. Boyd, of Knoxville, Tennessee, as leader, are rallying to prevent another world war. Mrs. Boyd said, "Enough hearts and homes have been broken. We felt it was a privilege to give our sons for a great cause. But if the peace they won is not lasting they we feel that our sacrifice was in vain."

LAUGHING IN HIS SLEEVE

"I was told nothing but an operation would help my stomach trouble, and was getting ready for the operation when a friend advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. The first dose helped me. I am now as well as ever in my life, and am laughing up my sleeve at the doctors." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by all druggists.

REMEDIES ABOUT THIS TIME OF YEAR

(Durham Herald)
Along about this time of the year when the weather begins to take on a balminess heralding the approach of spring, the first thing that half of us folks do, after finding it warm enough to leave the old overcoat on the rack in the office when we go to the postoffice, is to walk by the seed store and take a sneaking look at the big posters showing beautiful red tomatoes, bright green snap-beans, and peas and other garden truck rigged out in such color that nature never endowed them with. But they are alluring, to the average city dweller. After a few stealthy looks at the seed advertisements, and when the days get a bit warmer, you are likely to see the aforesaid citizen drifting home about the middle of some afternoon bearing a package of seed and a shoulder loaded with tools for garden-making. It's no use to argue with him. There is no form of insanity as insurable as the annual garden fever, that is, the only cure is to let it alone and it will soon wear itself out when the hands are blistered and warmer weather arrives. There is nothing dangerous in gardenphobia, in fact, it is a most harmless form of insanity. It is fortunate that it is harmless, for there are so many people afflicted with it that were it serious there would be great danger to civilization. Those who are hardly enough to keep it up through the whole summer usually get nearly enough garden truck to pay for the seed they planted. But most of us give it up long before the hot weather arrives, and the proudly pictured garden becomes really a fine crop of wild hay.

"Widow Woman."

(Houston Post)
Somebody is jumping on our Tar Heel brother, Joe Taylor, about using the term "widow woman." Joe has abundant authority for "widow woman." Some 900 years before Christ, the Lord Himself thus addressed the Phophet Elijah: "Arise, get thee to Zarephath, which belongeth to Zidon and dwell there; behold, I have commanded a widow woman there to sustain thee." (1 Kings, 17-9.) As between the Lord of Hosts and some two-bit, shallow-pated, spatted and sureingled purist of this time, we reckon Joe knows where he is and is sitting pretty.

SUBSCRIBE TO
OXFORD PUBLIC LEDGER
$1.50 Per Year in Advance

New Spring Stetsons
Tips on Hats For Spring!

The newest creations have arrived, in fact everything that's good in Headwear is offered by this Store for your review this spring. In our pleasing stock you'll find new color tones, new texture treatments and new trimming embellishments. You'll find as interesting a selection as you've seen in recent years.

The Long Co.

"THE LEADING STORE"
OXFORD, N. C.

This Store Is a Cheerful Place

When you come in you're greeted pleasantly. While you're here you get courteous, cheerful attention. When you leave you've got the feeling that you've been treated as a customer is entitled to be treated. That's the kind of a store this is!
Oh, yes—our prices will make you cheerful. You'll be pleasantly surprised when you come here and see how far a few dollars—say six or seven—will go.

Those "BETTER SHOES" for men, Women and Children.

Full line of Spring Clothing for Young Men and Men.

The Hub

OXFORD PUBLIC LEDGER

Advertising.

EVERY SUCCESSFUL MERCHANT AND MANUFACTURER ADVERTISES. THAT'S ONE OF THE MAIN REASONS THEY HAVE SUCCEEDED—THEY'LL TELL YOU SO THEMSELVES.

For local advertising The Oxford Public Ledger is the best possible medium—going into hundred of homes of all classes—homes that constitute the buyers you wish to reach.

Watch the ad in the Public Ledger and see the advertisers who voice their agreement by using its columns.

FARMERS' BONE—ORINOCO BONANZA— FARMERS

ANNOUNCEMENT

J. Crawford Overton, Oxford Route No. 6, says:
"I began using Roysters' FSR Brand Guano a few years ago and have continued its use each year except one year I was induced to use a brand costing less in price and I lost not less than one thousand dollars by reason of trying to save a few cents. I returned to Roysters' the next year and have continued to use it as have the others in the large Overton family. Roysters' guanos have been absolutely satisfactory. We have always gotten the highest averages for our tobacco and it has helped us to make money each year. We recommend it to all farmers."

Yours truly,
J. Crawford Overton.

Lyon-Winston Co.

BONANZA—FARMERS' BONE—ORINOCO BONANZA—

BONE—ORINOCO BONANZA—FARMERS' BONE—

ORINOCO BONANZA—FARMERS' BONE—ORINOCO