POPULAR YOUNG LADY

Stovall, Jan. 1.—With very deep regrets we had to give up Miss Alaine Blanks, the saleslady and book-keeper of N. L. Gillis, of Stovall, who was called home on account of the illness of her mother, and we are sad to learn of her mother's death. The many friends here of Miss Blanks mourn with her in her sad bereavement. We speak for the young people of the Baptist Church words of condolence and state that Miss Blanks is greatly missed in our society and wish for her much happiness and a speedy return to us.

A FRIEND.

NEW YEAR GREETINGS

Each passing year marks a milestone in our lives, but certain years stand out with special prominence.

The year 1924 will be a notable one for us, because it marks the forty-fifth anniversary of the founding of our business.

Just think for a moment of the vast changes which have occurred in the world during the past forty-five years! Marvellous inventions have appeared, great wars have been waged, and thrones and empires have fallen! Many changes have taken place in our county and town. Automobiles had not been made or thought of. Today there are thousands in Granville county alone.

The value of our roads and schools today is probably near the total valuation of the county forty-five years ago. The whole business district of Oxford has been built, or rebuilt during this time.

Throughout all these years we have steadfastly pursued our way, supplying the best drugs and merchandise obtainable, faithfully compounding medicines just as the physicians ordered, and giving as best we could, "real service to the public."

At dawn of the New Year we renew our resolutions to supply the best of merchandise and to give, if possible, better service than ever.

We want to thank you for your confidence in the past and will endeavor to merit a continuance of your patronage.

Please accept our heartiest New Year Greetings and best wishes for your happiness and success.

J. G. HALL.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE

In the Civil Action pending in the Superior Court of Granville County entitled "L. F. King vs. J. Robert Wood", I was appointed by the Court as Receiver to take over all of the books, accounts and merchandise, belonging to or alleged to belong to the said King and Wood; to audit the books of accounts; to collect all notes and other evidences of debt due for pianos, organs, victrolas and musical accessories sold by the said King and his son under a contract between said Wood and said son. It is impossible for me to personally collect the notes and accounts due for these pianos, organs, victrolas and musical accessories, and I have therefore appointed J. Robert Wood to take these collections for me, as such Receiver. The said Wood is under bond to me, as Receiver, to account for all collections.

Parties owing any note or account for pianos, organs, victrolas and musical accessories are requested to call at the store of J. Robert Wood in Oxford and make settlement with him.

This business must be settled, and parties, who are delinquent with their payments, will be reported to the Courts for instruction as to bringing suits against them.
