UNION CHURCH MAKES PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS

VIRGINIA, Va., Dec. 8.—Rehearsals have gotten underway for a Christmas party and Christmas music to be presented at Union Christian Church. The play, "The Inn at Bethlehem," will be given at the Church Sunday evening, Dec. 18, at 7:30. Special music will be rendered by the adult choir at the morning worship on Christmas day.

The Woman's Missionary Union of Florence Avenue Baptist Church met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. A. P. Bohannon, for their annual study course. Mrs. Bohannon led the review and discussion of the book, "A World Within A World," which deals with Moslem religion, and the challenge it presents to the Christian way of life.

Mrs. E. A. Tuck will be hostess to the December meeting of the Woman's Club Tuesday evening at her home on Florence Avenue. A Christmas program will be presented, as announced by the chairman, Mrs. Arthur Tuck.

The annual Christmas party for the Woman's Auxiliary is scheduled for Thursday night of this week at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Clarence Newton.

Mrs. O. D. Jones who was confined to her home the past week with a severe cold, was able to return to her duties as class-room teacher, Monday.

William Nelson, Sr., and C. C. Moore, both of whom received medical attention at Duke Hospital several days last week, returned to their homes here Thursday. Mr. Moore is back on his job as agent and telegraph operator for the Atlantic and Danville Railway. Mr. Nelson is recovering satisfactorily at his home from a slight operation on his hand.

Mrs. M. E. King, Mrs. Kirk Davis and Ed and Lew Gregory spent the day Sunday with relatives in Raleigh. Ed Gregory arrived here on Saturday from his home in New York, and he, with his brother, Julian Gregory of Raleigh, are guests in the Gregory home here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Reams Long visited relatives in Alamance General Hospital, Burlington, Tuesday evening of the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barger and sons, Jackie and Rickey of Mooresville, N. C. were week-end guests of Mrs. Barger's brother and sister-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. King, and Mrs. Ida Goodacre had as their guest on Saturday their nephew, Thomas Waddill of the U. S. Navy, who is now stationed at Camp Stalling, Kinston, N. C.

Mrs. L. H. Bouldin of Jacksonville, N. C., and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. E. Bouldin and young daughters, Lillian, Sara, Ruth and Jane, of Oxford, were Saturday afternoon visitors in the home of Mrs. Bouldin's sister, Mrs. W. S. Daniel and family.

Chief of Police G. W. Ellixson, who has been quite sick in Duke Hospital the past week, is somewhat improved, and has returned to his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. William Tuck, and Russ Campbell were in Richmond Saturday night for a Shriners' meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins and Mr. Campbell returned home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Tuck continued their trip on to Washington, D. C., returning home Monday.

Billy Tuck, accompanied by a friend Mr. Phillips of Delaware and Duke University, visited his parents here, Saturday.

Richard Caudie, in company with other salesmen from the E. J. Wyatt Chevrolet Company of South Boston, visited Washington, D. C., on Saturday, and attended a banquet Saturday night for more than 600 Chevrolet salesmen from the Richmond area. On Sunday they attended the game between the New York Giants and the Washington Redskins.

Disturbing and regrettable news has been received here of the serious illness of Diane, young daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Walton, a recent pastor on the Hyco Circuit of Methodist Churches. Rev. and Mrs. Walton made many friends here while on this charge, who are concerned with them, over the illness of little Diane, and who wish her speedy recovery.

U. S. Senator Sam Ervin Says

By SENATOR SAM ERVIN
WASHINGTON.—As this column is being written, the White House Conference on Education is sitting in Washington. This conference, which is composed of educators and other public-spirited citizens from all sections of the country, was called to consider ways and means to solve unmet educational needs of the public school systems of the nation.

There is no gainsaying the fact that the nation is suffering at this time from serious unmet educational needs which arise out of the circumstances that the public school systems of the several states need 10,000 more teachers and 250,000 more classrooms than are presently available. As a result of these tragic shortages in teachers and classrooms, millions of the youth of America are being deprived of their fundamental right to an adequate education at the grade school level.

The tragic state of the public school system in the majority of the states cannot be alleviated by any temporary measures. Since the number of children arriving at school age is constantly increasing, it is apparent that some action of a drastic nature must be taken if we are to have sufficient teachers and classrooms in our public school systems.

The White House Conference on Education is likely to recommend that the Federal Government assist the states in meeting these unmet educational needs. It is altogether likely that the views of the conference will coincide with those expressed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the majority leader, who prophesied some time ago that Congress will authorize "a school construction program to meet the needs of their children."

In my judgment, Senator Johnson acted wisely in suggesting that the Federal Government can best aid the states in this field by assisting them in the construction of classrooms.

As a matter of fact, the Federal Government has adopted fiscal policies which handicap the states in their efforts to establish and maintain sufficient public school systems. It does this by taking into the Federal treasury an undue amount of income and excise taxes, which are the most easily collected taxes. As the result of this fiscal policy the state and the local communities are compelled to rely in large part on property taxes for the support of the public school systems.

If Congress is to pass a bill granting Federal aid to the public school systems of the several states, it must insert in the bill provisions depriving the Federal Government of all control over public school education in the several states and restricting the Federal aid granted to public school system only.
