What Others Think

Phil Kearney Offers His Ideas On Problem

To The Public Ledger: As I see it the gravity of the situation prompts me to write you again.

Authorities of the Communists are informing their free neighbors that we have here a caste system more intense than that which formerly existed in India.

Also, they say that we lynch 25 or 30 Negroes each week. Propaganda of course, though it can cause enough trouble.

The Pearsall plan seems to provide limited funds for subscription schools. Those parents who are unable to pay subscription will have to let their children stay away from school. Or they can enroll them in mixed schools.

A friend of mine said that members of the U. S. Supreme Court should be impeached. He didn't say how it could be done.

Another was, or seemed to be critical of the power of the said court. As for my part I am thankful for the entire set-up.

Under Pearsall plan and the result I fear. Both parents are not so well educated and I fear trouble due to children falling out.

Under the plan I am proposing, I would have a stage of development in citizenship and education. Under this they should not be resentful.

Another probable advantage of my plan, it would provide an incentive for other Negroes to aim higher.

Assuring you that harmony is what I am aiming at, I am Yours for Peace, Philip S. Kearney.

Hereford Breeders To Convene Sept. 1

North Carolina Hereford breeders will hold their annual meeting and field day on Saturday, Sept. 1. Roanoke River Ranch, owned by W. P. Morris and located at Jackson, will play host to this year's crowd.

The herd of Polled Herefords at Roanoke River Ranch is one of the best-known herds in the east as well as in North Carolina. A tour of this top notch herd and inspection of the show herd will be highlights of the event. A judging contest and weight-guessing contest will round out the morning activities. There will be special emphasis placed on 4H and FFA competition with a prize Hereford being the top award.

Interesting talks will be given by men well known in the Hereford field and will be climaxed by the annual meeting and election of officers for the coming year.

Last year's field day was held at Green Pastures where a record crowd was assembled. The field day is sponsored by the North Carolina Hereford Association.

The increased demand of the consuming public for red meat and poultry meat has given considerable impetus to the broiler and turkey sectors of the poultry industry.

It takes oil, water and air to maintain proper temperature in your car engine. Check all three when your engine overheats.

Building Materials ARE NOT Scarce.—that is, NOT at SAMUEL DAVIS HARDWARE in CLARKSVILLE, VA. For the past three years they have been buying their MILLWORK and most of their BUILDING MATERIAL in CARLOAD quantities, so their allotments of rationed material are larger than most of their competitors. Buying in large quantities is another reason why they can sell cheaper. You can save a lot of money on that new house or remodeling job by buying from them. Ask some of your friends and they will tell you how much they saved by buying from SAMUEL DAVIS HARDWARE, and friends, the quality of their materials is unsurpassed too. Another thing, they will deliver your material right to your door and on time too, so that your construction will not be held up. O 28 ea fr ft
