Muscadine Grape Varieties Ready For Public Uses

By M. E. GARDNER (N. C. State College)

Five new varieties of Muscadine grapes have been developed as a result of cooperative breeding work between the Crops Research Division of the USDA and the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station.

All of the varieties are perfect-flowered and may be planted alone, or used as pollenizers for such imperfect-flowered varieties as Scuppernon, James, Thomas, Hunt and others.

Albemarle is a large fruited, smooth blue-black variety of high dessert quality. It ripens about mid-season or along with Burgaw. The vine is vigorous, productive and resistant to leaf spot diseases. Albemarle is rated as being superior to Burgaw, Duplin and Tarheel in fruit size, sugar content and flavor.

Pamlico is a large fruited, light green variety of good flavor and attractive appearance. The fruit ripens about a week earlier than Dearing. The vine is vigorous, productive and has good foliage. Pamlico is superior to Willard and Wallace in flavor, fruit size, soluble solids, vigor and disease resistance.

The 3RD BARRIER

"The Third Barrier" is an amazing new development in rain protection... the final achievement of years of fabric testing and design engineering. We believe you will find the new London Fog Maincoat with "The Third Barrier" superior in fashion and performance to any fine coat you have worn heretofore.

Chowan ripens about a week earlier than Scuppernon. The vine is vigorous, productive and has good foliage. This variety is superior to Wallace and Willard in flavor, appearance, production and disease resistance.

Roanoke is a very attractive white grape with a tinge of golden yellow. The grapes are of medium size and ripen about a week earlier than Scuppernon. The vine is vigorous and productive. Roanoke is superior to Wallace and Willard in production, flavor, vigor of vine, and attractiveness, and is superior to Dearing in production and attractiveness of fruit.

Magnolia is a large attractive white grape with smooth skin. The grapes are of medium size and produced in medium large loose clusters. The fruit matures about one week later than Scuppernon and the flavor is good. The plants are vigorous and very productive. Magnolia is superior to Wallace and Willard in fruit size, appearance, flavor, sugar content, vigor and production, and is superior to Dearing in all of these qualities except vigor and sugar content.

Neither the Crops Research Division, USDA, nor the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station has plants for sale. Plant increase is under the supervision of the N. C. Foundation Seed Producers for release to nurserymen for resale to the public in 1963. Inquiries concerning the availability of plants should be addressed to R. W. McMillen, N. C.
