

Day Lilies Topic For Study Club; Officers Named

When the Garden Study Club came together at the home of Mrs. Ellis Cannady on Feb. 20, enthusiasm seemed at a low ebb. Some members had sickness in the family. Some had gone to Florida. The wind made it too cold to work out of doors. Those present seemed in the clutches of winter. But before the meeting was over, under the guidance of their tireless chairman, Mrs. Douglas Currin, the group came alive and made enthusiastic plans for the coming club year. Officers for 1964-65 will be Mrs. W. L. Mitchell Jr., chairman; Mrs. Hal Pittard, vice chairman; Mrs. W. G. Wolts, vice chairman; Mrs. Douglas Currin, treasurer; Mrs. T. G. Stem, secretary.

The study for the day was "Day Lilies" by Mrs. W. L. Mitchell Jr. The day lily, or hemerocallis, Mrs. Mitchell said, is one of her favorite flowers. She spoke of the history of the lily, dating as it does, back before the days of written history. "In 1834," the speaker said, "there were 150 known varieties of the day lily. Now there are 5,000, which shows the popularity of the flower."

"The day lily," Mrs. Mitchell smiled, "is perfect for the lazy gardener. It is best planted in late summer or early fall but can be planted at any time when the ground is not frozen." The speaker suggested that the day lily be planted in the sun or only partial shade and that its feet be kept dry. She said lilies do well planted in banks—ditch banks.

In her usual gracious way Mrs. Mitchell offered roots of her lilies

Mrs. Raper, Mrs. Southerland Feted

Mrs. J. G. Tippett entertained Friday with a luncheon at her home in Thorndale honoring Mrs. J. R. Raper and Mrs. O. P. Southerland of Raleigh. Upon arrival of guest, Russian tea and party cookies were served while everyone enjoyed a social hour.

The color scheme of red, white, and blue was carried out throughout the home and in refreshments in accenting the George Washington birthday theme.

Lunch was served at noon followed by several progressions of bridge. When the tallies were checked high score prizes were awarded to Mrs. G. P. Hogan and Mrs. Doc Forsyth while Coca Colas, mints and nuts were served.

Attending other than Mrs. Raper and Mrs. Southerland were Mrs. G. T. Eakes, Mrs. R. M. Faucette, Mrs. Doc Forsythe, Mrs. Earl Rose, Mrs. Thomas Farabow, Mrs. G. P. Hogan of Oxford and Mrs. A. D. Dillehay of Farmville.

ADK Chapter In Meeting for Feb.

The Feb. meeting of the Rho chapter, Alpha Delta Cappa, was held Feb. 16 at Currin's Jewelry store with Mr. and Mrs. George Currin presenting the program on "Gems and Jewels."

The members listened with great interest to all of the details about precious gems, sterling silver, crystal, and china. Displays, supplemented the talks by Mr. and Mrs. Currin.

Following the program, members were invited to the home Miss Mattie Lyon on Spring Street for a business meeting. At the conclusion of this session, refreshments were served by Miss Lyon. The March meeting will be with Mrs. Leonard Pruitt.

Two Women Report Losses of Money

A rash of thefts from purses of women shoppers in a local grocery store was reported to police the past week.

Some had close calls. Two losses were reported the latter part of the week, both in the same grocery store.

Mrs. Ruth Dean Parker of Washington, D. C., spending the weekend in the county, reported the loss of $30 and Mrs. Emmitt Grissom reported loss of $15, both about the same time.

Other women told police of finding their purses open as they shopped. Police said the theft appears to be the work of professional and cautioned women about carelessly carrying purses on arms or leaving them in baskets while selecting

Collie Dog Killed By Two Boys Sunday

Authorities are searching for two youths who entered upon the premises of Wallace Bowling, near the Oxford Water Plant, and shot his collie dog to death Sunday afternoon.

Enforcement men were told that two white youths appeared in the yard, produced a pistol and shot the dog at close range, then backed their car along the road to an intersection and disappeared.

Bowling's son was in the yard at the time and saw the shooting, of which he was told.

NCEA Unit to Meet

The Granville County Unit of the North Carolina Education Association will hold a business session Wednesday at 4 p.m. at the J. F. Webb High School, according to an announcement by Charles Justin, President.

Ballots will be polled in the annual election in which two high school principals, Dr. Frank Greer of Rowan County and Luther R. Medin, contesting for the vice-presidency of the Association. Mrs. Male Saunders, Wilmington teacher, will advance to the presidency without opposition.

Carolyn Platt Makes Honor Roll at UNC

Miss Carolyn Platt, a junior at the University of North Carolina, qualified in the fall semester for the honor roll, according to word from Dean J. Carlyle Silterson of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Miss Platt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Platt of this city, in accord with honor roll requirements, made an average of B or higher, with no grade lower than C, a record which Dean Silterson said is achieved by less than 15 per cent of the student body.

SPORTS SHOTS By HART CURL

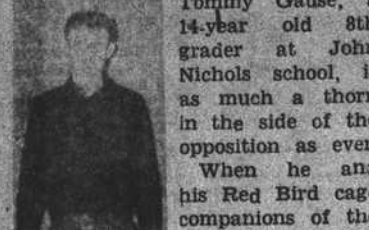

During the moments of this fast fading basketball season, youthful Tommy Gause, a 14-year old 8th grader at John Nichols school, is as much a thorn in the side of the opposition as ever.

When he and his Red Bird cage companions of the Little League take to the hardwood, the adversaries usually have their defensive patterns revolving to cut down Tommy's scoring output.

Along with teammate Doug Williams, Tommy has established a one-two scoring punch for the Red Birds this season to keep them in contention for Little League seasonal honors.

The Red Devils rank only 5th in a field of 8 Little League teams but they've provided many gasping thrills for those few loyal fans who turn out to see these future stars of tomorrow's varsity.

Tommy, an able student scholar, actually, never misses a varsity game and his burning ambition is to graduate to the varsity team circles.

Little League take to the hardwood, the adversaries usually have their defensive patterns revolving to cut down Tommy's scoring output.
