TRICT OF COLUMBIA BILL

On last Wednesday Sonator Merrimon, of North Carolina, made quite a strong speech on the bill providing a new goverament for the District of Columbia.

Involved in the discussion of the bill before the Senate was the question of negro suffrage in the South. Instancing of competent jurisdicti n; and, those States where Conservative government had been restored, he said :

Look at my State, sir. Under republican rule there, under the bayonet, what was the condition of the negro? Almost itolerable. What was the condition of the white man? It was intolerable. The convention that assembled under the auspices of congressional reconstruction undertook to increase our debt millions .-The first Legislature that was elected under it, together with the convention, undertook to increase it over $16,000,000 Those bonds were put upon the markets of the country, and of that vast sum less than $500,000 went into the public works of the State. This was mainly the handiwork of political adventurers from the North. Such things as that were the cause of political and protracted disturbpeople have been let alone, wherever the black people have been let alone, there my State, as witness the State of Georgia, as witness the State of Tennessee, as witness Texas. Wherever you find that there are dis'urbances between the two races in the South, there you find misrule-intolerale misrale at that, and northern man or a southern man, whether he is a white man or whether he is a black man, it would be condemned by him if he were honest and just. What I have said of northern men only applies to mere political adventurers-agitators, ber, 1874. seditious men-not those who have gone to the South to cast their fortunes with the southern people. These latter are welcome there, and the regret is that more have not gone.

Referring to the passing away of the CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATION evil influences that have surrounded the negro Senator Merrimon remarked:

Wherever their baleful influences have passed away, there you see peace, harmony and prosperity, and a spirit of friendly tolerance. In my State their reign, thank God, is over; and what do you witness as a consequence? The State is slowly recuperating, perfect harmony between the races, stable laws honestly and faithfully administered, and a suffering and impoverished people trying to make arrangements to pay their public debt. Go to the State of Georgia and you witness the same thing. Go to the State of Tennessee and you witness the same thing. Wherever those influences are withdrawn there you see harmony and returning prosperity and growing friend- at the back of Central avenue, about 10 ship between the two races; and I give o'clock last night, Mary Lee, a colored my Republican friends fair notice now that the negro vote, in my judgment, will never be given solidly again. How natural it was for the negro to support the colored woman, and had started out alone. Republican party at first, because they saying she was going to a drug store and understood that that party by one means would return in a few minutes. She had or another and for one purpose or anoth. been gone about twenty minutes when

What I ask, sir, is what the Southern people ask, is that these untoward influences shall be withdrawn; let the white people of the South alone; let them go CLEVELAND, Dec. 20 .- The colored on in the pursuit of their true interests civizens of Oberlin, Ohio, held a meeting of Tobacco Fixtures.
