

Reidsville News.

SATURDAY, NOV. 27, 1875.
RO. S. BETHELL, EDITOR.
JAN. W. WEBB.

TO THE PUBLIC.

With this issue our connection with the Reidsville News ceases. We have disposed of our interest to Mr. Jan R. Webster, the former editor of the paper. It is our duty to advise you of this change...

RO. S. BETHELL,
JAN. W. WEBB.

As will be seen from the above announcement of Messrs. Bethell & Reid the type, press and fixtures and good will of the Reidsville News has passed into my hands. It has been just six months since I retired from the field of journalism...

J. R. WEBSTER.

A ROTATING JUDICIARY.

Under this head in our issue of 23rd of October, we spoke of the great excellency of that ordinance of the convention which prohibited a Judge from riding the same circuit other than once in four years. We endeavored to show from the natural frailty of humanity, how a Judge confined to one circuit soon formed his partialities and selected his favorites...

Take it in what view you please, and this is a most excellent provision and alone worth to the State more than all the cost of the Convention. Our ancestors took this view of it, when corruption was far less life in the land than now and when a bribed Judge was a thing to be feared...

This was afterwards extended to all Judges of the inferior courts. So we see that our own forefathers (his ancestors) have ever guarded with jealous care the purity of the Judiciary. But these new lights of imperialism, negroism and nepotism, who begin with their hearts a-cry, which bears the marks of venerable age...

might as well let themselves into fields of corruption and clover. This has proved disastrous. Let us go back in this, as in other things to the usage of our fathers.

BEHAVIOR IN CHURCH.

The behavior of some of our young people in church is a source of profound regret and annoyance to the good citizens of our place. The church is the house of God. The good go there to worship and adore Him who is the author of our being...

There are others who, tho' are not professing Christians, have been taught at a mother's knee to keep the prayers of infancy and trained to a solemn sense of their obligations to and dependence upon God...

There are others who go for mere literary and intellectual enjoyment, but ninety-nine times out of a hundred they too have a profound regard for the proprieties of the occasion and the decencies of life...

The vacant Vice-Presidency will now be filled by the President pro tempore of the Senate. -Rich. Whitt.

THE LATE DR. FAIRBANKS. The failure of Russell, Sturgis & Co., a house with a world-wide reputation, has had a very depressing effect upon certain financial circles in the Northern cities.

Let those who have not sufficient respect for others or reverence for God to conduct themselves as ladies and gentlemen in His house, have at least enough regard for their own reputations and that of their parents to stay away altogether.

THE YARKIN MURDER.

Hedrick, the man who was charged with the murder of Jennings in Yarkin county last summer, was tried before Judge Cloud this week in Forsyth Superior Court. Stevenson, Glenn and Joyce appeared with solicitor Dobson...

The South of New York says: Judge Tourgee of North Carolina has written a novel entitled "Toinette," the heroine of which is a negro girl and the hero an ex-slave in the Confederate army.

DEATH OF VICE-PRESIDENT WILSON.

Vice-President Wilson died in Washington at 7 1/2 o'clock yesterday morning. In consideration of the paralytic shock he sustained sometime ago, and the sudden stroke of that spinal affection with which he was stricken down...

Henry Wilson was justly numbered among the great men of the country. He was essentially a "self-made man," having been born poor and educated indifferently. At twenty years of age he learned the trade of shoemaker...

Mr. Wilson was a native of New Hampshire, but moved to Massachusetts in his early manhood. He was in the 64th year of his age. He was a man of extraordinary robustness of brain. He was bold, as well as wary, as a party leader.

The vacant Vice-Presidency will now be filled by the President pro tempore of the Senate. -Rich. Whitt.

THE LATE DR. FAIRBANKS. The failure of Russell, Sturgis & Co., a house with a world-wide reputation, has had a very depressing effect upon certain financial circles in the Northern cities. The New York Times, loyal as it is does not like this mystery at Washington. It says: "It is quite clear that the President cannot declare war against Spain without the consent of Congress."

FINANCIAL TROUBLES.

If it may be accepted as true that "misery loves company" the hard-up individuals and communities in this country may derive some satisfaction from the knowledge that at the panic has walked its way over the vast deep and that they are feeling its effects most severely in some of the old countries of the world.

The New York Times, loyal as it is does not like this mystery at Washington. It says: "It is quite clear that the President cannot declare war against Spain without the consent of Congress."

An illustration of how much it cost to run a great newspaper is at hand in the statement just published that the London Times pays $7,000 a day for repeats of the Prince of Wales' progress through India.
