RESULT OF A WAGER.

LOUIS A. VICTOR IS TO VISIT EVERY CIVILIZED COUNTRY.

Within Twenty-one Months He Must Return With Proofs and Show $10,000 In Cash-Other Conditions of His Wager. The Outline of Mr. Victor's Plans.

Louis A. Victor of St. Louis will walk out of the Planters' hotel at 9 o'clock the morning of March I without a cent in his pocket. He will look for work, and with his earnings of the one day he will purchase a ticket for Jefferson City, leaving at 9 o'clock in the

From Jefferson City he will start east. If he returns to St. Louis within a period of from 18 to 21 months from the time he leaves, bearing satisfactory proof of having visited every state and territory in the Union and of having been in every civilized country of the world, and with currency or commercial paper to the amount of $10,000 on his person, he will be paid as a wager $10,000 by J. M. Powers.

Mr. Victor is a native of Philadelphia, but has been in St. Louis for six years. He is in the shoe business, and his friend, C. E. Roberts, a cutter, will precede him on the trip as an agent.

The wager grew out of a friendly argument recently at dinner in Mr. Powers' home. Mr. Victor boards with Mr. Powers. One evening at the dinner table the conversation turned upon globe trotters, and Mr. Victor said he didn't think it was such a marvelous achievement for a man to encircle the earth without funds and come back with money in a year's time. He admitted that it was difficult, but he said he thought he could do it.

Mr. Powers poohpoohed the idea, and out of the discussion came the wager. Mr. Powers then stipulated that Mr. Victor start without any clothes, but the prospective traveler demurred on account of the season of the year. The point is still in dispute and if Mr. Powers won't give in Mr. Victor says he'll leave the Planters' clad only in a blanket. "It's been done before, Victor, "and what other men have done

I can try to do." The conditions of Mr. Victor's wager are more stringent than those which have governed other similar undertakings. He is to cover more ground, is not given a proportionately longer time to accomplish his journey, and he is to return with more money than any other 'tramp' who has essayed the journey. Besides, he is to bring back the autographs of the governor of each state and territory and also of the crowned heads of all the foreign lands he visits, including the signatures of the presidents of the European and South American

"I am confident Mr. Roberts and I shall succeed," said Mr. Victor to a re- stone structure, recently built, and is porter recently. "We have our plans arranged as far as possible and know now just where the money is coming from which we will pay for our tickets and the other day decided to secure the to Jefferson City, where we shall get money by shining shoes at two down Governor Stephens' autograph. I shall make it by exhibiting myself in the days, beginning with the next Saturday. window of a down town clothing store | The young ladies belong to the best set the day of my departure.

"In different cities along our route a great commotion, especially among we shall try to make money taking their parents, who say their children photographs and selling them and by have overstepped the bounds of reason advertising any article in any way we in their religious enthusiasm and may can get contracts for. At some stops I forbid them to "shine." The young lamay lecture.

"After covering all the eastern and scathern states we shall go to New city public schools. York and sail for Europe. Leaving Great Britain, we cross the continent, proceeding to the orient. We leave China for Australia and the south Pacific islands, making Hawaii on our way back to South America. We shall come up from South America by way of California, and then the visits to the western states and territories will be all that is remaining of our trip to be made. We hope to make the journey in 18 months, but we are given three months'

The above plans were outlined by Mr. Victor a few days ago. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch quotes him as the authority for what he will do.

A Georgia Entertainment.

A novel entertainment was witnessed in Georgia recently. A number of large rats were placed in an inclosure with a dozen rattlesnakes, and a battle royal was advertised throughout the neighborhood. The advertisement read:

"Come one, come all! A big fight between rats and rattlesnakes to get funds to shingle the schoolhouse. Gentlemen, 25 cents; ladies, 10 cents. Trees will be provided for the ladies at 5 cents extra." - Alanta Constitution.

Mrs. Sarah F. Rains, of Dayton, Cass Co., Mo. in a letter to Dr. Pierce, writes. "It was in the winter of 1890 that my sufferings commenced. It was close to my time of confinement. I took the grip, and that with the labor pains all went to ray head. I suffered dreadfully, and when I gave birth to my little boy I kept getting worse. I doctored but nothing did me any good. I had nervous spasms and was delirious—Oh, no tongue nervous spasms and was delirious—Oh, no tongue can express my sufferings. I was advised by a lady to try your medicine and 1 did. I got one bottle of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I had taken two-thirds of the medicine when it commenced its work. I began to feel better, and still continued getting better. In a short time I felt like another woman. I gained strength and flesh. I am now forty-one years of age. This is true, and it was your medicine that saved my life."

TO DEVELOP ALASKA

NEARLY $50,000,000 WILL BE INVEST-ED BY NEW YORK CAPITALISTS.

Many Wealthy Persons Are Interested In Region-Railway to Be Built to Make | made in London. Quick Connection to the Yukon.

It is thought to be a conservative estimate that within the next five or six months from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000 will be invested by capitalists who are in New York or who are associated with New York interests in the commercial development of Alaska. It is of course impossible to get at anything like an accurate or even an approximately correct calculation of the amount of capital which will be thus invested. The figures just given are only a conservative guess made by those who have perhaps the best information upon the plans which are now being rapidly completed for the organization of various railway, steamship, trading and other incidental enterprises, all aiming to secure some part of the great commerce and business which are certain to be developed at once and to be maintained throughout the year. Probably the most important of the enterprises is that with which John W. Mackay, Mr. Leiter of Chicago, D. O. Mills and the Rothschilds are associated and of which Mr. H. Maitland Kersey is to be the executive head. The capital route takes them there in the shortest which this syndicate has nominally subscribed is comparatively a small sum. It is reported to be $1,000,000, but that is only a small part of the money which will probably be invested by this syndicate in its various operations. It may undertake the management of several distinct corporations.

It will undoubtedly establish a steamship line extending from Seattle to one of the Alaskan ports. It is also the purpose of the syndicate to build a railway which will make the quickest connection between tide water and the Yukon district, but exactly where that railway will be constructed is a matter of some doubt, probably doubtful even to this syndicate itself. The syndicate is said those who know something of its plans to purpose engaging also in general trade, but its chief object is the exploration of certain districts in which its prospectors have discovered every evidence of large deposits of gold, and when the mines have been located the syndicate proposes to work them. Mr. Mackay, it is known, looks with the greatest enthusiasm and confidence upon the future of this enterprise and is reported by friends in New York to have said that he has every reason to believe that the syndicate will find itself in possession of mines which will rival and perhaps exceed the richness of the big Bonanza.

-But this is only one of the enterprises. Another company in which Mr. Depew is interested and in whose future he seems to have much confidence proposes to establish a steamship line and in addition to develop certain mining claims already owned by the company as well as to engage in a general commercial business. Recently four steamships hitherto running upon one of the European lines have been purchased by another company whose headquarters are in New York and will be sent as soon as possible to Seattle, the expectation being that all of them will be in service before the 1st of June.

Yukon has so far progressed in its plans that the first group of laborers will be put at work before the end of February, and the company expects as soon as the surveys are completed to have 5,000 men at work so that the road may be completed before the hot Alaskan summer begins.

There is a good deal of New York capital in this enterprise, although the company is organized under a Canadian charter. It expects to build its railroad 150 miles long and at the rate of a mile a day, and if it accomplishes it in that desolate arctic region it will have achieved something unparalleled in railroad construction. Those who are interested in this project write to their friends here that they have every reason to believe that there will be an immigration from the United States, from Canada and from Europe into the Alaskan region greater than any that in the past has been caused by reports of rich discoveries of gold anywhere in the world. The lowest estimate is that 200,000 people will go from comfortable homes in temperate climates into that wilderness during the spring and summer. To feed, clothe and house these: people will alone develop a very great business. - Holland in Philadelphia

Boring For Steam. The deepest well in the world will soon be completed near Pittsburg. It is now more than one mile deep, and when finished it may reach down two miles into the earth. It is being bored in the interest of science. The object in penetrating so deeply is to determine just what the interior of the human footstool is like. It is the intention to continue the boring until something entirely new is developed. It has long been the theory that if it is possible to go deep enough some new geologic condition or economic feature would be the remaining one. She made up her found to exist. As the temperature in creases the notion grows that the "natural steam" will be encountered or the bottom will be so hot that cold water may be pumped down and superheated steam pumped up. ### HE REFUSED A THRONE. Strange Tale Told by a Sailor Rescued

From an Island.

The steamer Cottage City, which Captain Harry Goodall brought into port a few nights ago from New York, had on board three shipwrecked sailors. They were John O'Neill, John Doll and John Smith, and they were all cast away on Easter island on May 27 last. O'Neill is late of Dublin, later still of New York, and still later of the United States navy. He and his companions were on the island for 61/4 months, and the king shed tears at parting with O'Neill. O'Neill tells this. According to the same authority, the man-o'war's man was presented with a throne, but he declined it because of the knowledge that he could not appreciate it in America. O'Neill says: "The king is all right. He and I were chums, and we used to go riding together. He made me his prime minister, and I taught him to speak Irish. "He wanted me to stay very badly and said he would make me king and marry me to a princess if I would. All we got to eat was salt beef and fish. And then there was not anything on the island to drink but water. I couldn't stand that, and so came away. "-Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Korean Dictionary.

The Rev. Dr. J. S. Gale, who is a doctor of medicine and a skillful surgeon as well as a Presbyterian missionary, has recently completed a dictionary of the Korean language, which is the most important work in philology since Dr. Hepburn finished his dictionary of the language of Japan. It is a volume of some 1,200 pages and represents the labor of 10 or 12 years which Dr. Gale has spent in Korea. This dictionary makes it possible for foreigners to learn the Korean language. An electric street car, struck a wagon loaded with soft soap in Columbus, O., the other afternoon when the streets were crowded with pedestrians and wagons. The air was filled with flying soap, pieces of wagon, shrieks of women and oaths of men who found themselves besmeared with soap and their clothes ruined. It seemed to be raining soap, and windows and walls of stores for rods were smeared with it .- New York

In a recent issue of The Indian Pioneer the following curious advertisement recently appeared: "An experienced BUTLER, for a luchelor. Must understand the care of uniform and accouterments. Must be clean as active, and, if possible, honest. Much be equal to
