

"THE WEALTH OF THE MIND IS THE ONLY TRUE WEALTH."

VOL. XL. FOUNDED BY J. R. WEBSTER. REIDSVILLE, N. C., AUGUST 27, 1912. SUBSCRIPTION ONE DOLLAR A YEAR. NO. 69

Lenox Castle Items.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Paschal and two daughters, of New York, are visiting at the old Paschal homestead.

Miss Blanche Hooper, of Reidsville, visited friends here Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Stanfield were callers here this week. They received a hearty welcome.

Mr. J. L. Chambers has chills and fever.

Mr. J. H. Brown and little daughter are improving, we are glad to note.

Mr. J. A. Helvin, of Norfolk, is visiting at Mr. J. R. Garrett's.

The dry weather still continues. This is the worst drouth since 1881.

People have commenced cutting tobacco, because it is looking so badly. Look out for green tips.

The Com. of Lenox Castle school have elected the following teachers for this term: Miss Carrie Cable, principal of Benaja; Miss Hattie Dogett, primary, of Reidsville; and Miss Georgia Madkins the branch school. The school house for the branch school is being erected.

Mr. Omer Totten, of Yankin county, is here for a visit to his uncle, Mr. J. D. Pritchette.

"JUNE SWEETNER."

—A. S. Jones, of the Lee Pharmacy, Chico, Cal., who has handled Foley & Co.'s medicines for many years, says: "I consider that Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has no equal, and is the one cough medicine I can recommend as containing no narcotics or other harmful properties." The genuine is in a yellow package. For sale by all dealers.

TRANSPARENT FABRICATION.

Senator Simmons Makes a Statement and Is Corroborated by Senator La Follette.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Senator Simmons said today: "Some days ago my attention was called to an editorial in the Reidsville Review, a rank Kitchen paper, charging me upon the authority of a man named Gardner, who I understand is connected with the Roosevelt publicity bureau, with hobnobbing with Penrose, the Republican leader of the Senate. The editorial recites an article in the Denver Express, a Republican paper published in Colorado, written by this man Gardner, giving a pretended conversation between Senator Penrose and myself which he claims to have overheard in the Senate lobby concerning the Lippitt wool bill. I understand he now claims one of the doorkeepers told him he heard the conversation, but will not tell which doorkeeper."

"The story upon its face is such a silly one that I did not suppose it would be taken seriously by any one, and for that reason I had not intended noticing it. I am told, however, that other Kitchen papers, among them the Twin City Sentinel, Winston-Salem, N. C., are treating this transparent fabrication seriously, and that Governor Kitchen has added it to his budget of charges and rumors. This story, like some others which first appeared in far away papers, and then speedily found their way in the Kitchen papers in the State, was invented primarily for use in North Carolina. In view of the fact that my Democratic colleagues in the Senate have been and are unstinted in their commendations and congratulations of my management of the tariff bills, and that I enjoyed their undivided confidence, and in view of the further fact that every Democrat voted against the Lippitt wool bill, and for the La Follette wool bill, which was offered in the Senate as a substitute for that bill, and which was subsequently adopted with slight modifications by the conferees, of whom I was one. I am sure I need not concern myself further about Mr. Gardner and his stupid story.

"Notwithstanding the fact that my colleagues in the Senate found no fault with me, and are unstinted in their commendation of my management of the tariff bills, it is apparent that I can expect neither justice nor fairness from certain papers in North Carolina which are opposing my re-election.

"I append a statement given out by Senator La Follette with regard to this Bull Moose story:

STATEMENT BY SENATOR LA FOLLETTE.

On being informed that a statement had been published in North Carolina charging that when the Wool schedule was before the Senate Senator Simmons played in with Senator Penrose to aid in the passage of the Lippitt Bill on Wool and Woolens, Senator La Follette said:

"I am in a position to know that there is not a word of truth in the statement. Senator Simmons was the first man to put me on guard respecting the Lippitt Bill a day or two before it was offered. He voted against the Lippitt Bill, as did every Democratic Senator. The Democratic Senators and Republican Progressive Senators together defeated the Lippitt Bill, and secured the passage of the La Follette Bill on schedule K, and later passed the conference report of bill which was vetoed by the President.

"Senator Simmons with Senator Martin representing the Democrats co-operated with me representing the Progressive Republicans to secure action in the Senate on the Wool and Woolens schedules and other tariff bills. Without such co-operation the splendid record made by the Senate on these tariff schedules would not have been possible."

Digestibles.

Pineapple has been regarded as an indigestible food and it is when the pulp is swallowed. The juice alone contains the medicinal quality and this should not be sweetened, but slightly salted. This juice has a digestive principle much like pepsin. In diphtheric sore throat and croup, it acts quickly and most favorably, the powerful and penetrating acid serving to dissolve the false membrane to the great relief of the patient.

Beets help to make new, good blood and should be eaten raw for this purpose and served as a salad with oil and lemon juice.

Celery is strong in medicinal effect, helpful in nervousness, nervous dyspepsia, rheumatism and neuralgia. It should be chewed until the juices are extracted, and none of the pulp should be swallowed. The green leaves and the roots boiled make an excellent soup for the purpose mentioned.

Lettuce cools the system, and is good for sleeplessness, and it should be eaten green. When it is white, it has been bleached and much of its medicinal quality is taken from it.

Carrots are excellent for the blood, for asthma and nervousness. They should be eaten raw, finely chopped and served as a salad with lettuce and dressing.

Tomatoes are good for the liver, acting directly upon that organ. They should be eaten raw when used as a medicine. Heat destroys the vegetable calomel in them. The skin should never be eaten.

Spinach, dandelion and asparagus are all good for the kidneys. Asparagus should be used only in spring and summer.

The onion is the king of vegetable medicines. It is excellent for nervousness, sleeplessness and as a binding to sore throats. Onion syrup is potent in the cure of coughs, colds, hoarseness, and is well known as an old fashioned and perfect remedy.

Of lemons a great doctor has said that if they cost a dollar a piece they would be the greatest remedy known for numerous ills. For fever, rheumatism, liver troubles, sore throats, biliousness and colds they are without a rival. Never combine the lemon with sugar or other cane products, molasses and the like. Sugar instantly destroys the medicinal value of lemon juice.

Watermelon is of great value in yellow fever cases and in erysipelas. Under circumstances of general nature, they are good for kidney and specially bladder troubles. The pulp should not be swallowed when the watermelon is used medicinally.—The Christian Sun.

The Water Meter Caught at It.

A little light on the mysterious subject is given us by the Spencer Crescent:

"An unusual discovery has been made as regards the water meters in Spencer. While the water was cut off the mains in the town one evening this week a strange noise was heard at a meter box at the street curb and upon examination it was found to be running. The hands on the dial could be seen making rapid revolutions similar to the second hand of a watch. It was stated by parties who claim to know that the air pressure, while the water is cut off, will run a meter, and that this accounts for the unusual occurrence. It was said that the meter was revolving at the rate of 60 gallons per minute. It was found other meters were also running in like manner and they in each instance had registered an enormous amount of water. It was further stated by a citizen who resided in Charlotte last year when that city had water troubles, that the meters in Charlotte suffered the same trouble, registering at a very high rate even when the water was cut off. It is presumed of course that the owners will take steps at once to correct the matter. It is to be hoped this will be done immediately as numerous complaints have been made to the Crescent office."

ALMOST LOST HIS LIFE.

S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich., will never forget his terrible exposure to a merciful storm. "It gave me a dreadful cold," he writes, "that caused severe pains in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia, but to continue with the Discovery. I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds, or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by W. S. Allen and Brittain-Penn Drug Co.

The Debt to Mother.

The Ladies' Home Journal is a great old publication—full of fashion hints, short stories, etc. It will tell just how the young married couple can live on fifteen a week, carry insurance, build a neat home and save a bank account. It will also tell you just how each founce should be fashioned and worn, and many other things worth while.

But, as the Richmond Virginian says, one would scarcely expect to find a classic so tender, so true, so touching as the following in its editorial columns. We ask every reader to clip the Journal's "Debt to Mother" and preserve it. It is beautiful:

"But your mother's life has not been easy. Your father was a poor man, and from the day she married him she stood by his side, fighting the wolf from the door with her naked hands, as a woman must fight.

"She worked not the 8 or 10 hours day of the union, but the 24-hour day of the poor wife and mother.

"She cooked and cleaned and scrubbed and patched and nursed from dawn until bedtime, and in the night was up and down getting drinks for thirsty lips, covering restless little sleepers and listening for croupy coughs.

"She had time to listen to your stories of boyish fun and frolic and triumph.

"She had time to say the things that spurred your ambition on.

"She never forgot to cook the little dishes you liked.

"She did without the dress she needed that your mother might not be ashamed of your clothes before your fellows.

"Remember this now while there is yet time, while she is living, to pay back to her in love and tenderness some of the debt you owe her. You can never pay it all, but pay down something on account this very night."

Coming in All Its Entirety.

John H. Sparks World's Famous Shows to Visit Reidsville for One Day Only—Two Exhibitions.

Four hundred people employed and carrying over two hundred foreign and domestic animals, is the statement made by Mr. F. M. Heaton, agent for the Sparks shows, who was in town last Friday making arrangements for the appearance of this big circus here on Saturday, Sept. 21st.

The strange colony of people, handsome horses, rare wild animals and the golden caravans are scheduled to arrive here during the early hours of the morning of the above date in their own special trains of specially built railway cars from Clarksville, Va., where they will exhibit the day before.

Circus will begin with a big street parade at 12 o'clock noon, and two performances will be given, the first starting at 2 o'clock and the other at 8 o'clock. It is said that the Sparks Shows have $75,000.00 tied up in chariots, tableaux, floats, musical vehicles, fanciful and historic costumes, and expensive and odd things of distinctive parade use.

The grounds known as the Graded School grounds have been arranged for by the agent and a number of our merchants have received contracts to furnish immense quantities of feed stuff for both man and beast, to be delivered on the show grounds early in the morning of the show day.

The Sparks shows have improved and grown remarkably during the last few years, and to those of us who remember its former visits comes the thought that it was always a clean, moral and entertaining show, and one we never hesitated in having our families visit. It is said that the show still retains these features that made it such a welcome visitor in the years gone by, and that its methods of doing business with the public are still of that same high order.

A Wingless "Fryer."

Mr. J. W. Dula, of Wilkesboro, tells us that he bought a frying size chicken Saturday which was wingless. He says that the place where the wings should have been was perfectly smooth, and showed no evidence of ever having "sprouted" wings. The chicken was well developed in every other particular. If any of our neighbor counties can beat it, let them "trot 'em out."—North Wilkesboro Hustler.

Progressives Nominate Ticket.

The Progressives met in county convention at Wentworth Monday and nominated the following ticket:

Senate—H. N. Simpson, of Mayo township.

House—Rev. J. T. Strader, of Ruffin township, and D. A. Walker, of New Bethel township.

Sheriff—T. Hayes Barker, of Leaksville.

Register of Deeds—Will Grogan, of Stoneville.

Surveyor—Jesse Irvin.

Coroner—Maek Cantrell.

County Commissioners—J. F. Wray, of Reidsville; R. G. Mitchell, of Wentworth; Robt. Wilson, of Mayo; W. R. Combs, of Leaksville; J. A. Thomas, of Stoneville.

It is stated that there were about seventy-five present. Only four of the nominees were in the convention, and The Weekly in printing the ticket as a matter of news does not wish to be understood as saying that any of the gentlemen nominated are or are not in sympathy with the new party movement.

The Republicans will hold their convention Sept. 2nd.

No Sunday Mail Hereafter.

Postmaster Joyce has been instructed by the First Assistant Postmaster General not to put up any mail on Sunday hereafter, Congress having passed an act prohibiting it in post-offices of the first and second classes, Reidsville, of course being included. The postoffice appropriation act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913, provides:

"That hereafter postoffices of the first and second classes shall not be open on Sundays for the purpose of delivering mail to the general public, but this provision shall not prevent the prompt delivery of special delivery mail."

This provision, which was "joked" into the bill in conference, will work serious inconvenience to the patrons of the office, but there appears to be no remedy until Congress reassembles in December. Congressman Stedman tells the Greensboro News that the provision seems to "have been slipped through Congress without the knowledge of members and in the form of a conference report."

The Reidsville Seminary.

The session of 1912-13 of the Seminary will open Wednesday, Sept. 4th.

The outlook for a large attendance is most encouraging and prospects have never been brighter.

The faculty is composed of thoroughly trained teachers of successful experience. Each teacher is a specialist and employs the best and most approved modern methods.

The course of study is thoroughly graded and classified. Graduates from this institution are admitted into the State University or any college of the South without examination, as the Seminary has met all requirements of the Southeastern Association of High Schools and Colleges and stands on the "accredited list."

The president will be in his office from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. daily from Aug. 31st to Sept. 4th and will be glad to confer with all who may desire to discuss school matters.

To Consider Status of Women in the Churches.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 24.—Preparatory to the next meeting of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1914, those favoring giving women equal rights and privileges with the laymen in the Church are endeavoring to have all the annual conferences in the meantime give consideration to the question of the status of the women in the various churches of the world. At present women cannot sit as delegates in the conferences of the Church and have no vote in shaping the policies of the Church, though friends of the equal rights movement urge they raise annually hundreds of thousands of dollars for the Church's activities.

Annual conferences in this section will meet during the coming autumn.

—D. C. Bybee, teaming contractor living at 699 Keeling Court, Canton, Ill., is now well rid of a severe and annoying case of kidney trouble. His back pained and he was bothered with headaches and dizzy spells. "I took Foley Kidney Pills just as directed and in a few days I felt much better. My life and strength seemed to come back, and I sleep well. I am now all over my trouble and glad to recommend Foley Kidney Pills." Try them. For sale by all dealers.

Senators Sing Loudly.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—While Sergeant-at-Arms Raedell and his assistants were scurrying about the Senate and bells were clanging their summons, the posse was attracted by loud sounds arising from Senator Bradley's room. "My Old Kentucky Home" and other airs of the South, rang through the corridors, drowning out the sound of the Senate bells.

The searches found Senator Bradley, basso profundo; Senator Smith of South Carolina, tenor robusto, and Senator Overman, baritone fortissimo, with their coats off and chairs tipped back against the wall singing as though their lives depended upon it. They were duly summoned to appear in the Senate instantly and did so, looking a little sheepish and crestfallen that their vocal triumph had been so unceremoniously interrupted.

Tobacco Trust Invades Germany.

The New York Sun says that "it seems that James B. Duke's recent visit has resulted in arrangements by which many German firms will pass into control of the tobacco trust, and selling arrangements similar to those existing in the United States are to be inaugurated here. The press is raising an alarm, saying that the American trust dagger, of which the tobacco project is merely a wedge, is no longer threatening to enter Germany, but has actually arrived. The newspapers predict the introduction of trust methods that will force the small retailers to the wall as Germany has no anti-trust laws and the passing of such laws would be slow and perhaps too late to be of any use. The chambers of commerce and other industrial organizations are receiving appeals to use every effort to prevent the American trusts from getting a foothold in Germany."

Holds the Record for Marrying.

The Rev. Alfred Harrison Burroughs, of Bristol, Tenn., now in his eightieth year, has married 4,000 couples in the last twenty-three years.

"I had no thought of making this a business," said the aged minister. "I was licensed to marry people many years ago, and when the first runaway couple sought me in 1889, I consented to marry them more as a matter of accommodation than anything else."

"Some of my friends were present and witnessed the marriage. They complimented me and told me that I ought to make marrying a business. After that I did not decline to offer my services whenever a couple came my way. Month by month the business grew until I sometimes married from three to six couples a day."

So rapidly did the minister's marrying business increase that he built a hotel designed especially to accommodate eloping couples.

Congress Adjourns.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Sobored by the embarrassments of Saturday's all-night session of filibusters and disagreements, Congress adjusted its differences today, invited President Taft up to the Capitol once more, and at 4:30 this afternoon wrote "finis" after the proceedings of the second session of the Sixty-second Congress.

The end was marked with a return of harmony, and an end of filibusters. Senator La Follette, demanding action on the Penrose campaign fund resolution, found all opposition smoothed away in front of him and the resolution passed almost without discussion.
