It was, however, a success in every respect and quite a neat sum was realized for charity.

The Populists from the Western part of the State who spent yesterday in Raleigh passed through this morning on their way home.

Editor Click of the Hickory Mercury, who was one of the number, tells us that he thinks from what was said in Raleigh yesterday that fusion is a dead issue.

"The Populists will have the Governor whether there is fusion or not," said Mr. Click, "and the next governor will be Guthrie or Thompson."

Mr. Seay's Plans Accepted.

The building committee, appointed by the board of commissioners, met yesterday evening for the purpose of deciding on plans for the new city hall and fire department building which is to be erected on Lee street.

Five architects had submitted plans for inspection. After examining the different drawings, the committee chose the plan made by Mr. Leon Ernest Seay, of this city. All the plans were very good but those of Mr. Seay excelled all others.

The plans selected call for a two story building 30 feet front and 77 deep, the rear, however, to be one story.

The front will be of cut stone and brick and will be very handsome. The reel and truck department will be on the first floor to the left of the entrance leading up to the city court room.

The court room will be in the front of the second story with His Honor's private office just to the rear.

Four prison cages will be built to the rear of the fire department and a stairway will lead from them to the court room. The contract for building the hall will be awarded as soon as specifications can be drawn up and bids received. The committee hope to have the building completed before the firemen's tournament here in August.

The fire originated in the boiler flue.

The Debaters Debate.

The Chestnut Hill debating society last night discussed the question of "which has received worst treatment at the hands of the white man, the Indian or the negro."

The judges decided that Indians had received the worst treatment.

The date of the society meeting has been changed from Thursday to Friday nights. At the next meeting the society will wrestle with this: "Resolved, That all bachelors should pay a special tax."

Everybody is invited to attend, especially the ladies.

Business of the Called Meeting.

The city fathers met in called session at the Mayor's office last night and transacted the following business:

It was the sense of the board that no more license be granted allowing the sale of beef from wagons on the streets.

Andrew Murphy, Esq., was appointed to list the taxes of the city.

The board approved of the appointment of Geo. C. Eagle as policeman.

Smith and Crisp Can't Compare.

The joint discussion between A. L. Lingle, of this county, and Ambrose Hileman, of Cabarrus, arranged through the WORLD, is creating considerable comment. The Raleigh Press-Visitor says:

Hon. Ambrosial Hileman, the Populist prophet and State Senator from Cabarrus, has challenged A. L. Lingle, of Rowan county, to a joint debate on the financial question. Mr. Lingle caught the silver challenge on the fly and this great international debate will take place in Yost's Grove, Rowan county, May 14th.

Hoke Smith and Chas. F. Crisp's joint debate is a small show compared with this three-ringed double-arena affair.

He Favors Allison.

Mr. J. C. Daucy, an ardent admirer and supporter of Col. Dockery, is in receipt of the following letter from him:

DEAR SIR:—Having been informed that certain erroneous rumors prejudicial to my interests are being circulated in your section of the State, I desire to make the following statement:

I am not, and never have been, opposed to Senator Pritchard. My action in the Senatorial contest in Raleigh, when he was elected, thoroughly demonstrates my feelings, and received grateful commendation from him and his friends at that time. He has been repeatedly assured by me in person, that I was not antagonizing his interests—and any statement to the contrary is positively and unqualifiedly false.

When we separated at the Committee meeting in Raleigh a short time ago, I again assured him of my friendship and asked him to make known my position among my many friends.

I authorize you to use this letter as you may see proper in its denial. And go further—I have entered into no consultation of any sort with any on this or any other subject. All this talk about combines has been kept up and propagated for no other than malicious purposes.

If the Republicans select me for their Standard-Bearer in '96 they must do so on my individual merits—otherwise I do not desire the nomination. I abhor machine politics, and will never consent to have my interest furthered by virtue of combinations and underhand trickery. I have served my party too long and too faithfully to undertake at this stage of my life to subserve my personal ends at its expense. And I do not now expect to be called upon to give proof of my continued devotion to its grand organization.

Two years ago I did all I could to bring about co-operation in the State and its results are known to you. I am still a fusionist. I am especially so on State, Congressional, Legislative and County candidates upon a fair and equal basis, but the propriety of Electoral fusion is questionable and utterly objectionable if our electors are to be pledged to vote for other than the Republican candidates for President and Vice-President.

For President, my personal preference is Senator Allison. I was in Congress with him, and know him intimately. He is a model American, a strong, pure, upright statesman of conservative views—and is very popular in the Silver States, in which, to succeed, we must look for assistance.

For the other candidates I have the highest regard, and feel justly proud that our party has such good Presidential timber to select from—McKinley, Reed, Morton and Cullom are all good men, and in a selection from such a list we could not go astray.

I once, in view of my fealty to party and sacrifices for its success in days of adversity, had many staunch friends in your section of the state, and nothing but gross and unfair misrepresentation can alienate them from me now.

With my kindest regards for yourself and all my Western friends, I am

Very truly yours,
O. H. DOCKERY.
