Editor J. P. Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, in reply to the question from the New York World as to whether or not in his estimation Cleveland is the logical candidate of his party for the coming contest, replies that he believes there are stronger men than Cleveland who could be nominated.

The city fathers have done well in providing a city hall and every cent spent in its construction will be approved of by the tax payers of Salisbury. Now give us electric lights. We need more light and there is no question about that. Let our commissioners take heed of this matter in the same energetic and progressive spirit which has marked the present administration and the people will applaud them.

Cuba has issued bonds. The securities have been engraved and the Cuban government has advertised for sealed proposals for them. There is in anticipation a total issue of $10,000,000 but only $2,000,000 will be put on the market now. New York financiers express a willingness to take a part of the bonds. From the New York World we clip the following recital governing the payment of principle and interest by the Cuban government.

"The recitals in the bond make the principal due ten years after the evacuation of the Island of Cuba by the Spanish forces, and all revenues are pledged to the payment of principal and interest. It is to be understood that while the time is specified for the redemption of the coupons, payment may be deferred until six months after evacuation by Spain. They are to be receivable as taxes in proportion of one-fifth. There is no upset price, but no bid under 60 per cent of the face value will be received. This reservation indicates that if the securities are floated at all, there will be at least a fair return for the promise of the belligerents.

Call on Theo. F. Klutz & Co., and Edwin Cuthrell, Druggists, Salisbury, N. C., for "Rheumacide," the wonderful new constitutional cure for rheumatism. Price $1.00 per bottle. It cures.

IT LOOKS LIKE BUTLER.

From all indications it looks very much as if Senator Butler will carry the day over the Republicans. The Populist Executive Committee met at Raleigh yesterday and a committee was appointed to confer with a similar committee from the Republican party for the purpose of effecting fusion. The trend of affairs showed that the Populists would not concede an inch of ground to the Republicans and that they must have the Governor. Buck Kitchen, who is not by any means a big horse in the camp but whose position serves to illustrate the prevailing sentiment among the Populists, says:

"There will be fusion on the State ticket; the Populists will hold to their demand for Governor and the Republicans will concede this despite all the present denials."

This is in perfect harmony with what Senator Butler has said all along. And the Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer says that many Republicans openly assert that they are willing to concede so much to the Populists. In connection with this it is interesting to note what Chairman Holton has to say. From the same source from which we obtain the above we get his opinion of the situation:

"Republican Chairman Holton said that he was informed that the sentiment at the meeting was for fusion and that the Populists would stand to their demand for Governor. He declared most positively that the Republicans would never concede this and that the result was easy to foresee; that it was a case of an irresistible force acting on an immovable body."

But it must be remembered that Mr. Holton represents the minority element of his party. A majority has signified its willingness to accept fusion on any terms and it is easy to foresee that Mr. Holton and his followers will be listed as back numbers when the summing up occurs. What power Marion Butler has over the Republican party of North Carolina! He has snapped his finger, cracked his whip and they are falling in line to do his bidding. It seems almost incredible that men could be brought under such absolute control. But from all appearances it has been done. And all that is left now is for the G. O. P. to take their fare in the best grace possible, which at the best can be but poor grace.

It is stated now that the free silver forces, in the event they are in the majority at the Chicago convention, are planning to change the rule which requires a two thirds vote to nominate a candidate, and will give the majority this power. This change has anything but a wholesome flavor to it.

Mrs. J. W. Mauney can accommodate boarders either table or room, or both at her home on Main street.

Mr. Switterda's School.

Early in the eighteenth century a Mr. Switterda announces that ladies and gentlemen who desire in a very short time to speak Latin, French or High Dutch fluently, and can spare but two hours a week, will be faithfully taught by him according to a very easy and delightful method, full, plain, most expeditious and effectual. "Every one," he continues, "is to pay according to his quality from 1 to 4 guineas a month, but he (Mr. Switterda) will readily agree by the great." A good contrast to the above is the plain and homely description of "a school about 40 miles from London. The master has had much success with boys, as there are almost 40 ministers and masters that were his scholars. His wife also teaches girls lacemaking, plain work, raising paste, sauces and cooking to a degree of exactness. His price is £10 or £11 the year, with a pair of sheets and one spoon, to be returned if desired."—Cornhill Magazine.

A Campaign Lie.—"I have often wanted to you," said William Tell, "if it is a fact that you played on a violin while Rome was burning?" "That was a campaign lie," said Nero.
