The infant of Mr. and Mrs. John Farrington, of the Vance Mill, which died yesterday morning, was buried this morning at Christ church.

Mr. Theo Parker, who has been visiting his brother, Capt. L. D. Parker, returned to Mt. Pleasant this morning to resume his studies at the college.

Mr. T. A. Coughenour left last night for Richmond with a car load of as fine cattle as ever left Rowan county. They will be sold in Richmond by him.

A broken down actor recited several poems on Main street last night to a number of bystanders. Between each recitation a collection was taken up.

L. S. Shirey, of Mt. Pleasant, who was here yesterday contemplating moving to Salisbury and engaging in business. He was here for the purpose of securing a store room.

A birthday party was given by Mrs. Barkely at her home on Chestnut Hill last night. Quite a number of young people were present, and the evening was muen, enjoyed.

There will be a picnic at Mr. P. M. Brown's, at Bear Poplar, Monday. Prof. E. A. Miller will give his school an outing on this day. The public is invited to attend.

Mrs. M. J. Owen and family left this morning for Piney church, Davidson county, to attend services. Several others will go over tomorrow to attend the foot washing exercises.

Miss Beulah Bernhardt left this morning for Charlotte, where she will spend some time visiting friends. From Charlotte, she will probably go to other cities on a visit to friends.

Mr. W. M. James, who several months ago opened a grocery store on the corner of Main and Liberty streets, has decided to abandon the mercantile business. He is selling out at cost.

The Hickory Press learns that during the summer months freight train crews from Salisbury will turn at Hickory instead of Asheville as heretofore. This will give the men a much shorter run.

Rev. C. B. King will preach in the Lutheran church tomorrow morning. There will be no night services at this church. The installation of the newly elected officers will also take place tomorrow morning.

Tried to Break In.

Some one tried to enter the residence of Mr. L. A. Peebles on Kerr street Thursday night. They were heard at the back door just as Mr. Peebles entered the front door, and were frightened away.

Likes Salisbury's Streets and Shade.

Dr. J. B. Mathews, of Winston, spent last night and this morning in the city. "Salisbury has the prettiest streets and best shade of any town I have ever seen," said Dr. Mathews.

Rowan Academy Closed.

Rowan Academy which Prof. E. H. Miller has so successfully conducted for the past session closed last evening with appropriate ceremonies. An entertainment by the scholars was very much enjoyed by all present.

Dr. McKenzie to Read a Paper.

The State Medical Society will meet in Winston next week beginning Monday.

At this convention a paper on "Intestinal Indigestion" will be read by Dr. W. W. McKenzie, of this city. Dr. McKenzie is one of the brightest young physicians in the State and his paper will doubtless be interesting.

Winters' Hat Made Several Trips.

When W. L. Winters was arrested on the train by officer Clement at Hickory several weeks ago, he left his hat, a large white one, on the train. Winters was brought here and placed in jail but his hat kept on travelling. It stayed on the train until several days ago Mrs. Winters made inquiry and found it in the baggage car.

Church High School Transferred to the Diocese.

In its report of the Diocesan Convention at Charlotte, the Observer has in yesterday's proceedings the following:

"Rev. Dr. Murdoch spoke of the parochial school for boys at Salisbury, and requested in behalf of the Salisbury Convocation that the disposal of the property be entrusted to the discretion of this Diocese. On motion of Mr. S. S. Nash the Diocese accepted the transfer."

Will Probably Show in Greensboro.

W. R. Linton returned last night from Greensboro, where he spent yesterday making arrangements for the appearance of the Fly By Fight Folly Company next week. He met with a warm welcome from the firemen of Greensboro, in whose behalf the performance is to be given, and the company will probably go to Greensboro next Thursday. More definite information will be received by Mr. Linton tonight.

An Attempt at House Breaking.

Wednesday night about 12 o'clock when the ladies who live at the old home of Wellington Keisler, with Mrs. Keisler, were asleep, some one came to the back door and attempted to effect an entrance. Mrs. Keisler began calling for the other ladies and aroused them. The intruder took flight at the alarm and hastily retreated.

The sale of Mr. Keisler's personal effects was held on that day and it is supposed that the would-be burglar presumed that the money received from the sale was in the house at the time.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS.

The County Convention called for June 6th. Chairman Boyden will resign at the meeting of the Convention.

The Executive Democratic Committee of Rowan county, met today at 12 o'clock in T. C. Linn's office and was in session about one hour.

The county convention has been called to meet on Saturday, June 6th and the primaries were decided to be held at the different precincts on Saturday, May 30th.

There were twelve present out of sixteen, besides the chairman and Secretary. Chairman Boyden will tender his resignation when the convention meets in June. He has made a very efficient officer, and it is with downright regret to all good Democrats to see this step taken, by one who has served so ably and well, with great credit to himself and honor to the party he has labored for and striven to uphold with honesty and intensity of purpose. The meeting was very harmonious, and every thing looks bright and prosperous.

So gird on your armor Democrats one and all, and on to victory. Draw your sword of truth and honesty upholding our grand Democratic principles and we cannot fail.

Mr. Boyden Lines the Committee.

Mr. A. H. Boyden to-day dined the county Democratic executive committee and several friends at the Mt. Vernon hotel. For thirty years Mr. Boyden has in one way or another been connected with the executive committee and for twelve years has been chairman of that committee. So to-day after the adjournment of the committee, they, with several of his friends were invited to dine with him. An elegant dinner was served by Proprietor Freroks and twenty good humored and well satisfied guests left his table when the dinner was ended. Mr. Boyden's hospitality is the same at all places as in his honored home where his old fashion courtesy and true gentlemanly deportment, sets every one at ease and with gracious tact draws from his guests that which shows their character to best advantage. This dinner, and the gathering of the clans that have been with him shoulder to shoulder in the fight for the "good and true," will long be remembered, and the name "Baldy Boyden" will long be cherished by the old vets in the service of Democracy as well as the younger blood, who have learned to admire and love him.

Joe James Nominated for the Georgia Legislature.

There was a meeting of laboring men in Macon, Ga., Wednesday night for the purpose of nominating a candidate to go before the Democratic primary for the State Legislature as representing the laboring element in that county.

A committee of seven appointed to nominate a candidate returned the name of Joe H. James, a Salisbury boy whom the Atlanta Constitution speaks of as a very intelligent and honorable young machinist in the shops of the Georgia, Southern & Florida Railroad.

His name was received with favor by a number of those present but it was objected to on the ground that he was not as widely known as some men who could be put up and his name was finally taken down and another man chosen.

I have bought 27 steers and heifers as good, if not the best, lot of cattle as were ever sold on this market. Buy the beef and be your own judge.

WANTED—Employment of any kind. F. H. MEYER.

Ask your grocer for Swift's Silver Leaf Lard.

For the best bread and cakes go to J. N. Solomon, on Council street.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Young Man at New London While Chopping a Tree is Felled by the Tree and His Neck Broken—Only Married Eighteen Months.

Mr. J. A. Mahaley, who came up from New London this morning, gives us the particulars of a sad accident that happened there yesterday morning.

Jim Richardson, a young man who lived near New London, was out chopping a tree.

He had cut a tree to the ground, but instead of falling all the way it lodged against a small sapling. The sapling struck Mr. Richardson under the chin and knocked him down.

When he arose he attempted to push the sapling aside and as he did so the large tree was dislodged and fell upon him crushing him to the earth. The trunk of the tree fell upon his head, mashing it fearfully.

When the parties who first arrived on the scene reached him Richardson was dead.

He was a worthy and an industrious young man and his sad death is deplored by the entire community in which he lived.

He had only been married eighteen months and his wife is prostrated with grief.

The funeral services were held this evening.

A Painful Accident.

Mrs. J. W. Mauney met with an accident at the covered bridge on Inniss street last night. She saw a team of horses coming toward her at a rapid rate and stepped aside to get out of the way. As she did so her foot turned on a rock and she fell, spraining her ankle. The sprain was quite painful.

An Extra Feature.

The WORLD felicitates its readers on the series of splendid articles on the Settlers' Convention at Southern Pines this week, contributed to its columns by Capt. W. Murdoch Wiley. Capt. Wiley was the only one on the ground who made a report of the speeches delivered, and written in his own delightful manner, they have added a most interesting feature to the WORLD for the past few days.

A Bad Mule.

The mule which ran away and killed Mr. Chas. Deal near China Grove Wednesday, is a vicious fellow. According to the Standard it has been at its old tricks since Mr. Deal's death.

On Thursday two men were driven to a wagon when it became unmanageable and ran again, throwing the men out of the wagon. One of the men was only slightly injured and the other escaped without injury. They were thrown from the wagon near the same place where Deal was killed.

Mrs. Price at Charlotte.

"Mrs. Charles Price, of Salisbury, spent yesterday with Mrs. Morehead. She came over to attend the Daughters of the King Convention, before which she read a very bright paper. There are few "Daughters" so well equipped mentally, as Mrs. Price, and so capable of writing interestingly," and "a beautiful lunch and charming hour or so were enjoyed yesterday at Col. and Mrs. Morehead's by Mrs. Charles Price, Dr. W. B. Pritchard, of New York, and Miss Addie Williams," says the Charlotte Observer, of our townslady Mrs. Charles Price.

Call on P. W. Brown and try your luck on the wheel of fortune.

Ask your grocer for Swift's Silver Leaf Lard.

30 Bread tickets at A. Parker's for $1.00. Bake days Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. All goods delivered. Phone No. 37.
