WEATHER FORECAST FOR TO-DAY:
Fair tonight and Saturday.

IT'S LOCAL.

SOME OF THESE ITEMS WILL BE OF INTEREST TO YOU.

Mrs. Williams Brown is quite sick at her home on Church street.

A number of Salisbury's youths and maidens have gone to St. John's mill, on the Yadkin, to spend the evening picnicking.

Miss Bertie McAlister has given up her position in Mrs. Jno. A. Murphy's millinery store and is now with Mrs. John Rouche.

Nothing has been heard from the articles stolen from Mr. L. A. Peeble's residence on Tuesday. No clue was discovered to the thief.

The repairs on the machinery at the ice factory are being made this week. The factory will probably begin making ice again Monday.

Mr. John I. Trexler is again quite sick. Several months ago he was confined to his bed with the same disease that is now troubling him.

The six months old child of Mr. D. H. Mahaley died of whooping cough this morning. It will be buried tomorrow at Union church.

The Salisbury cotton mill and the Rowan knitting mill shut down for the rest of the week yesterday evening. These mills will work only two thirds of the time for several weeks.

Walter Poole and Zeb Wyatt, two former typos in the WORLD office, will leave Sunday for Winston, where they have secured employment with Stewart Bros., State printers.

Herbert Barrier, a recent graduate of North Carolina College and well known here, is now in Concord assisting his father in the editorial and business management of the Standard.

An engine and crew went out to the Yadkin river today to unload iron for the new bridge. This will not be a double bridge as expected, but will only take the part of the wooden portion of the bridge now standing.

Deputy Marshal J. T. F. Neal, of Albemarle, was here today with three prisoners returning from Federal court. Two of the men get three months and one six months in the Stanly jail. All are for illicit distilling.

Dr. W. W. McKenzie returned last night from Hillsboro, where he had been in response to a telegram to see the sick child of Rev. B. S. McKenzie. The child was somewhat improved when Dr. McKenzie left Hillsboro.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Doug Hartman yesterday evening were attended by a large number of friends. The services were conducted by Rev. Coburn, who paid a just tribute to the life of the young woman whose untimely death brought sorrow to her many friends.

The county convict force which has been working on the lower end of the Bringle's ferry road, was moved yesterday and is now grading on the hill on the same road near town creek. When this work is finished they will begin grading the new road beyond the Southern shops.

Capt. Crawford Transferred.

Capt. W. Reed Crawford will next Sunday leave Salisbury and in the future run between Asheville and Murphy. Reed's many friends will regret his transfer to the other end of the line.

The Watchman Revived.

Mr. Samuel Archer, of Marion, is in the city and will take charge of the Carolina Watchman, which has been suspended for the past month or more. We wish Mr. Archer more success than his recent predecessors have enjoyed with this paper.

Douglas' Trial.

Robert Douglas, who was arrested in Salisbury in February by Detective Baldwin for the murder of a peddler in Virginia, will be tried next Tuesday the 16th inst. The Statesville Mascot says that his lawyer, B. F. Long, Esq., and thirteen witnesses will leave Statesville next Sunday for Tazewell, where the trial will be held.

Play Ball.

The baseball enthusiasts of the city met at Henderson's park yesterday afternoon and played a practice game. The material for a team will be selected next week and then the boys, after a sufficient practice will open the ball season in Salisbury. They promise to give Salisbury the best team she has ever had.

Frank Shober Here.

Mr. Frank Shober, of the New York World, is in the city. He was unable to reach Salisbury upon the announcement of the death of his father, because of an injury received from a fall. He will remain in the city until he has finished the business he came to transact. Mr. Shober is very much attached to New York and thinks there is no place like it on earth.

Shop Notes.

Mr. J. E. Davis, of Knoxville, is busy laying the foundation for the machinery in the new southern shops. Nearly all of the machinery to be placed in these shops will be new and contain all of the latest improvements. While all the building will not be completed the company hopes to be able to begin operation by the first of September. The machinery will soon arrive and the machine shop will be put in readiness for use.

We learn from good authority that when the full force goes to work it will number between seven hundred and fifty and eight hundred men.

An Odd Sight.

Chairman W. L. Kluttz, of the county commissioners, went down the Bringle's Ferry road yesterday to see how the convict force was getting along. Away down the road in the "Piney Wood" section he saw something that has been heard of before but is very seldom seen in this part of the country. In a large cotton patch a woman was plowing. That would not have attracted much attention of itself but at the other end of the plow instead of a horse the woman's husband was hitched up in harness and pulling the plow. As submissive as a lamb but with a dexterity that would have made a horse blush he pulled and tugged at the plow, obeying explicitly the "gee" and "wahaw" of the woman between the handles.

A lot of Boneless Ham just received at A. PARKER'S.

It is generally conceded by all that R. W. Price, has the very best beef and at the lowest prices at his "up to date market." Call and be convinced.

THE FIREMEN'S TOURNAMENT

Dr. Griffith, the Secretary, Writes the World the Object of This Meeting and Shows the Advantages Accruing to Salisbury From It.

The WORLD is in receipt of the following communication from Dr. J. N. Griffith, secretary of the State Firemen's Association, to which it is pleased to give prominence:

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 11 '96.
EDITOR WORLD:

The Eighth Annual Convention and Tournament of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association will be held in your city August 19, 20, 21st. The first day will be devoted to transacting the business of the association, the two remaining days to the tournament. This organization has a membership of over 600. Every town and city in the State where there is a regularly organized fire department is represented by one or more companies. The purpose of this organization is to establish harmony of action, insure prosperity and success, provide pecuniary support, secure protection and promote the best interest of the firemen of North Carolina, and compile statistics of information concerning practical working of various systems and the merits of various apparatuses in use for the extinguishment of fires, and the cultivation of fraternal fellowship between the several fire departments of the State.

Wherever these annual meetings have been held in the past, the local firemen have always reaped the benefit of the experience of their fellow firemen from other cities and towns, thereby proving of great service to them in the management of fires in the future and it has been invariably the case that every town where the meetings have been held the authorities have seen therein their department was insufficient and the need of more apparatus of perhaps better and different model were needed and having purchased the same, put themselves in a position for better protection against fire and at the same time get a cheaper rate of insurance. It was long ago a settled fact, that firemen however alert cannot protect property without apparatus to do so with, and this annual meeting of the association bring together men and apparatus from every town and city in the State to discuss matters pertaining to the best protection against fire and at the same time show to the public the workings of the different apparatus. Besides the apparatus in use, manufacturers' of all kinds of apparatus for fire protection are always on hand in great numbers exhibiting their wares and are nearly as anxious to show the workings of the same to their best advantage. In all these things the local firemen gather ideas that prove to be of incalculable value to him.

Firemen in the past, have not been looked upon by their respective communities as men that "would do to tie to." The work this association has done in this line of elevating the moral standard of its members has been a great one and today the firemen in North Carolina from a moral and intellectual standpoint are the equal of any man or set of men. The management, raising of funds, &c., &c., for the entertainment of the association and prizes on the tournament is left with the local firemen and the amount of money necessary for these purposes is nothing to be compared to the ideas and benefits derived by (not only the firemen) but every citizen in the town where the meetings are held.

The firemen of your city are a live, wide awake body of men, who are alert to everything whereby they can be benefitted in the protection of property. They invited the association to meet with them. The invitation was accepted without a dissenting voice, thereby showing their appreciation of your firemen, and knowing the reputation that Salisbury has, for she never does things by halves. Feeling they would be treated royally by the firemen and citizens of the old town and I hope the citizens will see to it that this well earned reputation will be maintained. I have lived among your people years ago and know them to be a prosperous, energetic people, awake to everything for the good of their town, and socially a better people never lived.

I hope the local firemen will be given encouragement necessary to make the occasion a success, anyway equal to what other towns have done, and my word for it, when it is over with, no one will ever regret having had the eighth annual meeting of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association there.

Yours,
J. W. GRIFFITH,
Secretary.

Concord Vs Salisbury.

The Forest Hill baseball club, of Concord, crossed bats this evening with the Salisbury Cotton Mill boys on the latter's ground. The game is in progress as we go to press.

Mrs. Lewter Vesey Low.

The many faiends here and elsewhere of Mrs. A. S. Lewter, formerly of Salisbury but now of Raleigh, will regret to learn that she is extremely low. She has been attacked with inflammatory rheumatism.

Tien of Thought and Action.

The debating club met last night in Walter Murphy's office. The question for discussion was whether or not men of thought had done more to make history than men of action. Thought won the question. The club will speak next Thursday night before several invited guests.

The Annual Barbecue.

The annual barbecue and grand picnic given by the owners of Dunn's mountain, attracted quite a number of gentlemen from the city today. Among those who are in attendance upon the festivities are: T. F. Kluttz, T. C. Linn, J. M. Monroe, J. Frank McCubbins, Walter Murphy, J. H. Moyle and T. D. Roseman.

Mr. Torrence's Home Burned.

M. C. Torrence has received news of the burning of his brother Pless' house in Statesville, yesterday morning at 3 o'clock.

The fire was discovered in the rear of the building and the entire house was destroyed before the flames could be checked. Three of Mr. Torrence's children are visiting in Salisbury having come down the day before their home was burned.

My building is rough
But my meat is not tough
Let it be understood
That my weights are good
My prices are right
And I will be in the fight
I do not care what you have been told
If you wish to buy the tenderest meat that has ever been sold.
Ice cold
And from one to ten days old
Call at my market, in the old Washington building opposite the opera house.

Mrs. Long Badly Hurt.

Mr. B. F. Long was here this morning returning from Alamance county, where he had been to see his mother who was hurt by a fall several weeks ago.

Mrs. Long was attacked by vertigo and fell down a flight of steps breaking her collar bone and several ribs. The improvement in her condition is slight but Mr. Long was compelled to leave her on account of important business in Statesville.

Fort's Chickens Taken in one Night.

Capt. John Beard's chicken yard was visited Wednesday night by an animal supposed to be a mink. Yesterday morning forty young chickens were among the missing in the Captain's yard.

Last night a dead chicken was filled with strychnine and this morning it was gone.

The Captain hopes that this has put a quietus on his visitor of the night before.

Rev. Marr Canceled.

At their meeting last night the Home Circle presented Rev. T. F. Marr with a handsome walking cane. On the gold head of the cane is engraved "Home Circle, No. 184, to Rev. T. F. Marr." It was a token of their appreciation of the kindness of Rev. Marr in preaching the annual sermon for the lodge several weeks ago.

The cane was presented to Rev. Marr by R. Lee Wright in a neat little speech.

To Draw Plans For The College.

Rev. C. B. King and C. L. T. Fisher, who have in charge the proposed Lutheran college at Charlotte, are already beginning their work as may be seen from the following from yesterday's Charlotte News:

"Messrs King and Fisher, the Lutheran College agents, have employed an architect from York, Pa., to draw the plans for the buildings. They are to come here with him before the 24th of this month, and after he makes an inspection of the site and surroundings he will draw the plans. The architect secured makes a specialty in this line of work and has designed some of the finest educational buildings in the whole country. In drawing the designs for the Charlotte buildings he will have a $75,000 fund to base his work on."

Rev. H. R. Overcash was in the city last night on his way to China Grove where he will be married this afternoon to Miss Lou Kimball at Chapel church. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Bettie Overcash, of Statesville. They will return to Salisbury tonight and go to Statesville tomorrow morning.

NEWS BY WIRE.

THE LATEST HAPPENINGS GIVEN BY THE WORLD'S SPECIAL TELEGRAMS.

SITUATION AT ST. LOUIS.

IT IS EXPECTED THAT A STRAIGHT-OUT GOLD PLATFORM WILL BE ADOPTED—MCKINLEY'S PROSPECTS.

(By special telegram.)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 12.—The currency plank is the talk overshadowing everything else. The surrender of Manley and the defiance of the national committee by ex-senator Platt are forgotten. As the day of the convention draws near it becomes more apparent that the platform will favor a gold rather than a straddle or befogging issue meaningless phrases and unintelligible sentences. The arrival of Senator Teller is anxiously awaited, however, with a degree of expectancy that he will arouse the silver forces, who have been completely overshadowed. Senator Lodge is expected tonight and Senator Quay this afternoon. They will make a fight for the gold standard.

There is quiet but persistent work for Hastings for Vice-President, and the story is widely circulated that Senator Quay is to name the running mate, but until he gets to speak for himself there is nothing what he will do. Should he fall in line with Platt to fight the Ohioan he will find a vast amount of interest in the situation.

The contest will come up during the day and if decided against the regular state organization will arouse a feeling of resentment not easily subdued.

Temporary chairman Fairbanks went to Indianapolis to prepare his speech. It will favor the Indiana, sound money, plank. He is now in Canton consulting with Major McKinley regarding it. Sergeant-at-arms Byrnes says he had calls for ten thousand more tickets than there is to distribute. On June 17th probably the grandest political parade ever given here will be that of the McKinley clubs from all parts of the United States. Ten or twelve thousand will be in line.

The National League of Republican clubs have something to say about the candidate for the Vice-Presidency. The league is largely for McKinley, but is divided on the second place. Ex-Gov. Brown, of Rhode Island, a member, will be put forward by his friends. President McAlpin, of New York, of the league, is coming prominently to the front. Governor Morton, however, is the choice of the league if he will accept.

A conference will be held this evening in Platt's room between Quay, Lodge, Henderson, of Iowa, and other leading Republicans, who represent the interests of the candidates opposed to McKinley. An effort will be made to formulate a financial plank similar to that of the recent Massachusetts and New York conventions, straight out for gold. The Vice-Presidency will also be considered. The New York delegation talks of holding a convention if their contests are not heard on their merits. If everything is amicably settled the New York delegates talk of naming Morton for the second place after McKinley's nomination.
