SOME OF THESE ITEMS WILL BE OF INTEREST TO YOU.

Oscar Steed, of this city, is now working at Forest Hill, Concord.

Engineer P. D. Roueche, of the Western, is kept at home by severe chills.

Tomorrow is the last day on which taxes can be listed. Those who fail to list will have to pay double tax.

During the absence of officer J. F. Pace, who is at Richmond, Chas. J. Kestler is serving on the police force.

The holy sacrament was administered at the Lutheran church yesterday morning by Rev. C. B. King, at the request of the congregation.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Keever died yesterday morning at 4 o'clock and was interred in the Lutheran cemetery this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

A fifteen cent chicken killed at Mr. W. H. Huff's Saturday, had in its crops several small pieces of solid gold. The gold is worth ninety-five cents.

Mr. A. S. Heilig will accompany the North Carolina delegates to the Chicago convention. Sid will go as an onlooker. Most of the delegates will leave next Saturday.

Died, June 28, at Mill Bridge N. C., of cholera infantum, Joseph John Richard Summerall, son of Dr. E. M. and Lillie R. Summerall, aged nearly five months.

A large number of Salisburians will leave tonight for Richmond in addition to those who went this morning. Salisbury and Rowan will be more largely represented than ever before.

W. E. Christian, of the Raleigh News and Observer, was here last night returning from Charlotte to Raleigh. Mr. Christian says that the ticket nominated by the State convention last week gives universal satisfaction wherever he has been.

Master Charlie Trexler, while attending Sunday school at the Union school at the Vance Mill yesterday evening, fell from a plank in front of the school building and broke one of the bones in his left arm at the wrist.

A large congregation was at the Presbyterian church last night to hear Rev. A. L. Coburn preach the annual sermon to the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. The sermon was an excellent one. This is one of the most flourishing orders in the city having grown to a membership of one hundred since its organization last year.

There is on sale at Theo. Buerbaum's a beautiful waltz song called "Estranged," the work of Statesville's talented young musician, Miss Gertrude Wood. Miss Wood possesses a musical talent of no mean order and her many friends in Salisbury will be gratified to learn that the song has attained a splendid sale and popularity commensurate with its merits.

An Unruly Character Eggs.

Floral Booker, a negro woman who has given the town officers considerable trouble lately, was locked up this morning for a nuisance and will be held for court. Before she was arrested today some one threw spoiled hen fruit at her, several of them leaving an unsavory odor on her person.

The Texas Fever Served These Well.

John Locke Carson and Carle Buerbaum, who left Salisbury two and a half years since and went to Texas to try their fortune, came in last night on a visit to relatives. Both of these gentlemen located in Dallas, where they have met with much success. Mr. Carson left this morning for his father's home at Blackmer, where he will spend several weeks.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. M. L. Ritch and family desire to extend their sincere thanks and appreciation to their friends and neighbors who were so kind to them during their sad bereavement and to all who were so good to them during the illness of Mrs. Ritch. They also extend their sincere thanks to Rev. C. B. King, who so kindly and willingly accompanied them to Concord.

A Sunday Wedding.

Mr. John Y. Barber, of Durham, and Miss Ada Weber, of this city, were married at the home of the bride in Brooklyn yesterday evening at half past seven o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. B. King in the presence of quite a number of friends.

The groom is the father of Capt. Will Barber, of this city and is well known here, having lived in Salisbury a number of years ago.

The bride has many friends here where she has lived all her life.

The couple left on the north bound train last night for Durham, taking with them the congratulations and best wishes of many friends.

A Robbery Saturday Night.

Saturday evening Mr. J. W. Carter, of this county, was in town until quite a late hour.

Mr. Carter had in his purse a check for $31.50 from D. L. Arey, and ten dollars in currency. Before he left Salisbury he was relieved of his purse, how, when or where he does not know. It was probably the work of a pickpocket as the purse could hardly have been lost in the way in which Mr. Carter had it in his pocket. All parties are cautioned against the check, which will probably be presented at some time or other by the party who "touched" Mr. Carter.

Mrs. Peeler Dead.

Saturday's WORLD contained an account of the fearful accident which occurred to Mrs. Henry Peeler, who lives about four miles from town, Friday. Dr. Littleton, the attending physician, had but little hope of Mrs. Peeler's recovery on account of her extreme old age and the nature of the wounds which she had received. Last night at 8 o'clock Mrs. Peeler died, without having regained consciousness since the runaway. Mrs. Peeler was 70 years old and leaves three children, all of whom are married, and her husband to mourn her loss. She was buried this evening at 3 o'clock from Christiana church.

During the summer months only parties leaving orders at J. S. Marables market on Saturday, the same will be filled on Sunday morning. Meat will be kept cold in his refrigerator until delivered.

Fresh turnip seed just received. Fresh turnip seeds of all kinds at Ennis' drug store.

POSSE CALLED OUT.

Trouble At Gold Hill. Sheriff Monroe and Posse Called Out. The Rioters Escape.

Sheriff J. M. Monroe received a telegram late Saturday evening telling him to bring several deputies to Gold Hill at once as several rowdies were giving trouble. Shortly after the telegram was received the sheriff accompanied by Deputies Bob Monroe and A. D. Shuping and Policeman J. E. Pace left town. When they arrived at Gold Hill they found that the d-pot agent, Mr. John Ross, had been attacked by John Martin and driven from his post of duty. The young man had gone to the depot evidently for the purpose of getting into a fight with Mr. Ross and when ordered out by him he refused to go. He used a stick on the back of his tormentor and in return Martin threw a large hammerless pistol in his face and pulled the trigger. But fortunately for Mr. Ross, under the sudden jerk of the mad Martin the main spring of the pistol broke and the weapon failed.

After Mr. Ross had been compelled to leave the depot the telegram was sent to the Sheriff. The officers visited Martin's home as soon as they arrived at the Hill and he was found with a friend near the barn.

When two of the officers approached they separated, one running one way and one another. Sheriff Monroe pursued one and caught him but he was not the one wanted and was tured loose. Martin was pursued by Deputy Bob Monroe but succeeded in eluding the officer by darting into the woods where deep holes are numerous and where it is dangerous for any one to go who is not accustomed to the place.

The officers found several of the citizens, belonging to the rougher element, ready and willing to offer fight or interfere with them in the discharge of their duty. One man had to be given a good shaking up before he would quiet down.

The little village was very much stirred over the affair and the subsequent rude action of some of the rougher citizens toward the local officers of peace and those who went down from here.

The officers returned to the city early yesterday morning.

To Concord To Marry.

Messrs. Linn Barnhardt and Harper Beall, of Lenoir, passed through the city this morning on their way to Concord where Mr. Barnhardt will be married tomorrow to Miss Lucy Richmond.

A Wedding at Wilkesboro.

Mr. Albert Gaither, of Newton, was here this morning on his way to Wilkesboro where he will be married tomorrow to Miss Coles of that place. George Hall, of Hickory, who will be best man at the wedding, spent yesterday here with Joe McNeely and left this morning for Wilkesboro.

An Able Young Minister.

Rev. T. A. Smoot, of Trinity, preached an able sermon at the opera house last night, using as a text, "I am the light." Rev. Smoot is a splendid preacher and his sermon was listened to with rapt attention. He also conducted the public meeting at the Y. M. C. A. hall yesterday afternoon.

If you wish nice refrigerator beef call on R. W. Price

Do you know that in one pound of Black Seal Tea there are 240 teaspoonful of tea? In other kinds of tea you will find only 192 teaspoonful; nearly 50 cups of tea difference in one pound. N. P. Murphy has a fresh supply.

Cure in three days, no worry, no diet, never fail. Dr. Le Brun's G. & G. cure. At store or by mail $1. Sole agent James Plummer.

On To Richmond.

In the whole history of the Confederate Veterans' reunions at Richmond there has never been such crowds flocking to the capital city of the Confederacy as now. Last night's western train brought down ninety veterans from Western North Carolina and this morning they continued to pour in. It was found necessary by the Southern, in order to accommodate the vast throng pressing on to Richmond, to put on five sections of No. 36 this morning. The following from Salisbury and the county left this morning: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pace, Paul H. Bernhardt, Mrs. J. Sossaman, Miss Sallie Sossaman, Jno. T. Sossaman, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wright, Jno. A. Ramsay, Mrs. R. L. Shaver, Benton Ludwick, J. T. Morgan, P. W. Brown, Mike Beaver, Ernest Holmes, Charlie Miller, Caleb Kanup, Alex Peeler and Paul Peeler.

The Mail Robbers Caught.

Readers of the WORLD will remember of the visit of Postoffice Inspector Dexter, who came to Salisbury last week on an unsuccessful search for the two young men who broke into a postoffice in Forsyth county last week. Mr. Dexter finally caught his men, however, as the following from the Greensboro Record will show:

On Sunday, June 13th, last, two strange young men showed up in Greensboro under very suspicious circumstances.

They had money, but most of it was in pennies and what is more it was carried in large official envelopes of the postoffice department.

They were here all that afternoon and at 7:30 went to the ticket office of the Southern Railway where they purchased tickets to Salisbury, paying for them in pennies, poured out of an official envelope.

Officer Scott, who was on duty that day, had been eyeing them and while he had nothing upon which he could hold them, he felt that something was wrong and so reported the case to Postmaster Forbis, who laid the matter before Inspector Dexter at this place.

On Monday word came that the postoffice at Vienna, Forsyth county, had been entered and robbed on Saturday night the 12th, the chief booty being pennies. Mr. Dexter, learning these men had gone to Salisbury, followed them. Before he could locate them, however, another postoffice in Rowan was robbed.

Mr. Dexter got a clew here and soon arrested the thieves, who proved to be the same men who were here on the 13th. They had a hearing and were sent to jail at Statesville to await the Federal Court at that place.

Miss Estelle Randle returned last night from Concord where she had been to attend the funeral of Mrs. M. L. Ritch.

Joe Mears, of Linwood, who has recently been in the employ of the Kesler Mfg. Co., returned to the city last night after spending several days at his old home at Linwood.

M. L. Ritch and Frank B. Irvin returned this morning from Concord, where they had been to attend the funeral of Mrs. Ritch Saturday morning. The family of Mr. Ritch will return in the morning.

A HORRIBLE CATASTROPHE.

Seventy Men are Entombed in a Mine and Believed to Have Been Killed Outright. The Scene is Heartrending. The Work of Rescuing Goes On.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 29.—A pall hangs over this mining city on account of yesterday's catastrophe. Today it is stated that the death list reaches about seventy, though the exact number of dead cannot be ascertained because a number are Polanders whose names are only known to the foreman. The work of rescue continues today, though there is little hope of reaching the victims for several days. Old miners believe that every man entombed was killed outright. All day yesterday and all night last night about a hundred men worked at the mouth of mine. Thousands feet of lumber was lowered into the shafts and preparations were made to brace up the roof of the mine to prevent another catastrophe.

After vainly trying to make an effective entrance to the last level of the mine it was decided early this morning to try another means of rescuing the bodies. On opposite sides of the river is a shaft and a clear springs colliery. The two meet in the middle of the river, a wall two hundred feet separating them. The plan of the mine officials is to drill a hole through the wall as blasting is thought to be dangerous. It will take at least thirty six hours before a hole ten feet in diameter can be drilled through the wall between the two mines. The scene at the mouth of the twin shaft continues heartrending. The grief stricken families are terrible to witness. Many wives and children of men haven't left the mouth of the shaft since the terrible accident. The disaster is one of the worst in the coal regions for years. Hope of finding the men alive and uninjured is abandoned by the older miners because they knew the ventilation was bad and that even if the men escaped the fall they could not live twenty minutes in such atmosphere. So far practically nothing has been accomplished by the gangs of rescuers.

McKinley Formally Notified.

(By special telegram.)

CANTON, O., June 29.—Today was appointed for the formal notification of Major McKinley of his nomination for the Presidency opened cool and fair, and Market street household was soon filled with the bustle of preparations. A little north of the house a large tent was erected and lunch served. The notification committee was in chairs ranged in front of the porch where the speaking took place and the McKinley clans assembled to grace the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. McKinley, surrounded by his white haired mother, his brother Abner, and all the sisters and nieces, were in waiting when the committee arrived by a special train. McKinley gave out the word to the public to be welcome and there was a large crowd. Speech making took place about noon the formal notification being made by Chairman Thurston on the lawn, which was followed by an extended review of the issues by McKinley, who devoted his best efforts to protection though finance was not slighted.

Business Depression in Pittsburg.

(By special telegram.)

PITTSBURG, June 29.—The annual depression in manufactures circle has arrived at McKeesport. With the exception of two mills held in the department, the entire plant of the National Tube Works, the National Rolling Mills and W. Dewee's Wood, Iron and Steel Mills, has shut down and twelve thousand men are temporarily out of employment. Some mills will resume next week while others will be idle several months. The Braddock Wire Works and the Consolidate Steel and Wire Co. are going to shut down. Tomorrow the yearly scale of the Amalgamated Association expires and a general shut down will follow. If a decision is not reached by that time, this will throw 25,000 men out. In the tin plate mills twice as many more in other departments.

Don't Feed Chickens Salted Dough.

There was an interesting and amusing trial at the court house before Esquires Horah, Fisher and Trexler Saturday. Jim Canup, of the county had a warrant issued for C. Gentle, son and daughter, also of the county, alleging that they had fed several chickens belonging to him salted dough, on which account the said chickens had travelled the long journey and passed in their checks. A. H. Price appeared for the plaintiff and R. Lee Wright for the defendants. Nothing could be proven on Mr. Gentle and his son, but Miss Gentle had indiscreetly communicated to one of her jewlarkins that an old dominecker had shuffled off the coil through the instrumentality of herself and salted dough. And the jewlarkin, as an honest man, had to own up to the nature of his best girl confidences. Miss Gentle was released on payment of costs. The case was attended by many laughable incidents brought out in the examination.

Will Carson, of this county, who has been in Texas for some time, returned home last night.
