"A Young Debater Of Strong Voice."

The way these newspapers butcher the name of T. F. Klutz Esq., of this city, is simply awful. Listen at the New York World as it tells of his second to Bryan's nomination Thursday: "When order was partially restored W. C. Clutz, of North Carolina, a young orator of strong voice, took the platform in behalf of that young giant of the west, that champion of the lowly, William J. Bryan, of Nebraska."

Compliment to Mr. Klutz.

Says today's News and Observer editorially:

North Carolina is proud of her Klutz.

He struck the bull's eye at Chicago. It is not every man who is called a great orator who can capture a national convention. For example, Daniel, of Virginia, has claimed two or three tame masterpieces, and even the famous orator Dougherty, once fell flat. Ingersoll, too, just missed it on one occasion. There is some special gift needed to sound the rally before 930 restless, turbulent Democrats, representing interests widely divergent. But the sentences of Mr. Theo. F. Klutz, of Salisbury, in seconding the nomination of Wm. J. Bryan, came quick and red-hot like shot from a Winchester rifle, and each report was not only, but was effective. His kind of talk has a sort of "Dixie" quality that makes folks shout, as did his spirited utterances at the recent State Democratic convention here. To talk sense he "raised the roof" on that occasion, and to boil down all that has been said, what he says has "git-up-and-git" about it, after the manner of the "break-down." North Carolina joined in the deserved applause with which her warmly esteemed citizen was received.

We have exclusive sale of the Atwood Suspender. The most sensible suspender made.

North Carolina Casts Her Vote for Clark—The Opinions of Several Prominent Men on the Nomination of Bryan.

NEW YORK CROWD GO HOME

They Refuse to Talk About What they Are Going to Do but Some Think They Will Await the Action of the Populist Convention.

(By special telegram.)

CHICAGO, July 11.—When the Democratic national convention reassembled this morning after last night's adjournment in an uproar without even placing names before the convention for second place on the ticket, all signs pointed towards a complete ticket and adjournment today.

The programme today includes the nominating speeches, balloting for Vice President, naming committees of notification to President and Vice-President assembling of the national committee and election of chairman of that committee to conduct the campaign. The weather is perfect this morning. The departure of delegates and spectators began last evening. Today there is comparative quiet. The attendance today is light. John R. McLean, who was thought to have a chance on the nomination, met with a hitch this morning. The South will make great efforts to have one of its men on the ticket.

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., July 11.—Vice-President Stevenson declined to speak last night on the nomination of Bryan, furthermore than to say that he knew the nominee well; that he was a man of most admirable character and brilliant ability who had risen to distinction in Congress.

DUBUQUE IOWA, July 11.—Democrats of this district have decided to ask Boies to stand for Congress against ex-congressman Henderson, who was re-nominated at Waterloo yesterday.

PUEBLO—Teller said he thought the nomination of Bryan a particular strong one.

ROCHESTER—The Whitney-Hill party arrived at Buffalo about eight this morning and proceeded on their journey to New York. They were uncommunicative as to a bolt and a call for a gold Democratic convention. It is believed their silence is caused by a desire to await the result of the Populist convention at St. Louis. If they endorse the Chicago ticket there are good prospects for a gold convention. Whitney said he didn't think it the proper time to speak. He will give his views in a few days.

CHICAGO—At a conference of leaders representative of the gold organization in Illinois and Texas today it was decided to favor calling a national Democratic convention to nominate Democratic candidates on a Democratic platform.

Resolutions to this effect are expected later by a conference in which the following states were represented: Georgia, Michigan, New York, Rhode Island, Texas, Massachusetts, Iowa, Minnesota and Illinois.

New York will not be represented at the meeting of the national Bryan, after his speech was published in New York, received an offer of ten thousand dollars for ten speeches at Madison Square Garden, New York.

Talk of an independent Democratic candidate awaits the action of the Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and other strongholds. Comptroller Eckles, ex-representative Cable and Franklin McNeagh were present at this morning's meeting. Advice and co-operation of the sound money Democrats of other states was invited.

TOPEKA, Kan.—Senator Peffer says he don't believe the Populists will endorse Bryan.

After the nominating speeches for vice-president a ballot by States was ordered which resulted as follows:

1st ballot McLean 100, Sibley 102, Sewell 100, Williams 48, Clark 22, others scattered.

2nd ballot McLean 111, Williams 76, Leads 11, Clark 50.

Illinois 48 for Sibley. Indiana passed, so does Iowa. Kansas casts her vote for Bland. Indiana has cast 18 for Bland and 15 for McLean. Kentucky passes. Including Michigan McLean 72, Bland 132, Sewell 58, Sibley 48. Nevada casts her vote for Bland. New Hampshire called and refused to vote. Tennessee 24 for Bland.

2nd ballot, Williams 16, McLean 164, Clark 22, Sewell 37, Sibley 116, Williams of Illinois' 13, Bland 286, Patterson 1. Not voting 227.

3rd ballot, Michigan changes her 28 votes to McLean. Third ballot resulted William of Massachusetts 57, McLean 210, Clark 22, Sewell 97, Ribley 50, Daniel 6, Harry 19, Bland 253, Pattison 1, not voting 257.
