A Lamp Explosion.

A fire was narrowly averted at the home of G. H. Shaver last night. When Mr. Shaver entered his hallway at 10 o'clock he observed that the oil around and in the hall lamp was burning. He dashed the lamp to the floor and in an instant the carpet had caught. By the aid of neighbors, however, the fire was soon extinguished with little damage.

Mr. Watson Returns to Democracy.

Mr. D. L. Watson, one of Locke township's most worthy young farmers, who voted the Populist ticket two years has returned to the party of his first love—the Democratic. A Second Club in Locke.

A second Bryan and Watson club for Locke township was organized at D. A. Sifford's last night. The temporary organization was perfected by the election of D. A. Sifford as temporary chairman and J. Luther Lingle temporary secretary. It is the purpose of the Democrats of Locke to form temporary organizations in the various localities in the township and to shortly merge all into one. Locke is awake this year and it is confidently predicted by the Democrats of that township that there will be many accessions to the party.

ANOTHER TRAMP KILLED.

A Freight Train is Wrecked and a Tramp Goes Down in the Debris. He was a native of Vance County.

The Southern has added another to the list of wrecks that have recently occurred on its main line between Washington and Atlanta. This morning about 4 o'clock a freight which had just pulled out of Salisbury and reached the section house, four miles north of the city, when the draw head of one of the cars pulled out.

It was only the work of a minute for the detached cars to crash together and jump the track, four coal cars and one empty box car. A tramp, who was afterwards found in the ruins, must have been in the empty box car. When found his body was mashed all out of proportion, his shoulders being set squarely against each other.

Mr. W. W. Wilson, who lives at the section house was the first outsider who arrived on the scene of the wreck and he it was who found the tramp's mangled body.

The tramp was a negro.

Mr. Wilson at once set to work to discover any clues that might lead to his identity. In his pocket was found a letter addressed to R. L. Grand, and from the contents of the letter Mr. Wilson learned that the man's home was in Vance county. His remains were prepared for burial and the body interred today. The track was not badly torn up and all trains were running on time today.

High Point in Trouble.

High Point evidently had a robbery last night as can be judged by the following telegram received by Chief of Police G. H. Shaver early this morning from the Chief of Police of High Point: "What will it cost to bring two blood hounds here? Will they be any good for a store broken into through the back window?" Salisbury is lacking in blood hounds and could be of no assistance to her neighbor.

AN EVENING OF MUSIC.

The Eurydice Club Gives a Musicales at Mrs. Thea Murphy's. A Charmed Audience.

The Eurydice club, composed as it is of the best talent in the strictest interpretation of the word in Salisbury, delighted a small audience with the choicely selected and delightfully executed numbers on the program.

Mrs. Murphy is always a charming entertainer and the fact that the musicale was under her supervision is a sufficient guarantee that the social pleasure combined with the rare artistic and meritorious acquaintance of the musicians—both vocalists and instrumentalists—made the evening a veritable poem.

THE OPENING COTILLION.

It Was the Most Successful German Salisbury Has Ever Witnessed—Neighboring Cities Well Represented.

The Salisbury German Club gave a cotillion last night. The room has no decorations as yet except the band stand is draped in a big American flag. It is well ventilated and despite the insufferable heat a breeze could be found in almost any of the five large windows. A most sensible, praiseworthy, and we might say novel idea, was noticed in the generous supply of palm leaf fans that the club furnished. The heat was intense and had it not been for the preparations to fight this one dangerous enemy the pleasure that everybody enjoyed would have been curtailed. The floor is one of the best Salisbury has.

The first couples began to arrive about 10 o'clock and at 11 the room was well filled. The floor managers placed the couples in the order in which they should dance the german. Mr. John Yorke, of Concord, led the german with grace and ease. Owing to the large number of dancers and spectators there was a crush at first but after everything had settled down to business the dance blossomed into one of the prettiest germans Salisbury has ever seen.

There has always existed a strong social friendship between Salisbury and Concord and the latter was more strongly represented than any other neighboring town.

A more brilliant assembly of young people could hardly be gotten together than it was our pleasure to witness last night. We are proud of the girls of our Old North State and doubly so of the girls of good old Salisbury.

The chaperones were: Mesdames E. B. Neave, W. H. Ballew, Walter Blackmer, L. S. Overman, E. W. Burt, Chas. Price, C. F. Ritchie, Geo. Jones, Henderson Crawford, Ed. Overman and I. Lichtenstein.

The following is a list of dancers: Jennie Rankin, Reuben Holmes; Margie Overman, Walter Woodson; Annie Neave, Julius Caldwell; Pauline Bernhardt, Herman Heilig; Louise Neave, H. W. Tyler, Blanche Bernhardt, John Ramsay; Ida Meroney, James Gaither; Annie Bingham, Walter Murphy; Ruth Mauney, Jenkins Hutchinson, of Lexington; Helen Bruton, Joe Cannon, of Concord; Miss Dunavant, of Morganton, Walter Linton; Christina Crawford, of Winston, Theo. Kluttz; Lottie Maffett, of Charlotte, Warren Kluttz; Miss Scales, of Greensboro, Joe McNeely; Miss Farris, of Greensboro, Ernest H. Brown; Miss Johnston, of Raleigh, Frank Rogers, of Concord; Mary Price, of Charlotte, Clarence Brown; Elizabeth Gibson, of Concord, Bob McNeely; Emily Gibson, of Concord, James Webb, of Hillsboro; Penelope Whedbee, of Heford, Will Neave; Emily Evens, of Reidsville, Gus Bingham; Agnes Moss, of Concord, Armistead Burwell, of Charlotte; Fannie Rogers, of Concord, John York, of Concord; Ella McAden, of Charlotte, Gus Price; Miss Millett, of Chapel Hill, Sidney Heilig; Miss Hutchinson, of Charlotte, Lila Bernhardt, James Lanier; Henrie McNeely, Mr. Strachan; Pearl Lichtenstein, of Charlotte, Tom Vandenberg. The stags were Frank Pinnix, of Lexington; Joe Whitaker, of Raleigh; Mr. Scales, of Greensboro; Ernest McKenzie and Will White.

A Good Man and a Good Democrat.

EDITOR WORLD—I desire to present for the consideration of the Democrats of Rowan county the name of Jas. H. McKenzie as a suitable man to represent the county in the lower house of the State Legislature. Mr. McKenzie has served in this capacity, acquitting with himself with credit and giving eminent satisfaction to his constituents. He has always cast a sound vote on all matters of concern to the people. He is one of the people and knows their wants as well as any man in the county. Combined with these favorable qualities Mr. McKenzie is a good stump speaker, a ready debater and aggressive fighter.
