It is to be regretted that Mary Ellen, the only and original Mrs. Leuse, has found it necessary to render her presence at St. Louis conspicuous by the multitude of dispatches which she is sending to leading journals of the country. But there's no discounting Mary Ellen. She is, in the crude though forceful vernacular of the Bowery, a "good un."

So G. Ed Kestler is out in open revolt against Senator Butler. It is too late in the season of his political career though for G. Ed to talk such nonsense as refusing to "follow a boss." What has he been doing since he became one of Butler's allies?

Cyrus B. Watson, Esq., the Democratic candidate for Governor, will make the first speech of his campaign at Kernersville, Forsyth county, his old home, Saturday, August 1st.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an Ideal Panacea for coughs, colds and lung complaints having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physician's prescriptions or other preparations."
 Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a Minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church for fifty years or more and have never found anything so beneficial or that gave me such speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this Ideal cough remedy now. Trial bottle free at Klutz's drug store.

THE CASE OF MR. WHITNEY

Wm. C. Whitney, the erst-while courageous and favored son of Democracy, has broken the last tie that binds him and his party and stepped, if his threats are made good, forever from the threshold of Democracy. Says Mr. Whitney in his latest utterance, "a national ticket headed by a gold Democrat must come if the country is to be saved." Mr. Whitney seems to have also parted company with the abiding sense of justice and submission to the majority which has heretofore distinguished him as a man pre-eminent among men. Let us see what else Mr. Whitney has to say in regard to his appeal for a gold ticket, "I was satisfied before we went to Chicago that nothing could be accomplished in the direction of changing or modifying the free silver idea, and I said so. Nevertheless, it was our duty to go there and emphasize the strength of the convictions of the Eastern Democrats." A frank admission truly from one who has always counselled the sovereignty of the majority. If the majority is not to rule then chaos must be the inevitable result both to party and government. For to attain any end or ends there must be an organized effort. For years the silver men have fought their battle inside the party lines. There has been a virtual admission for the last decade of years in both the Republican and Democratic platforms that our system of finance is defective, and both parties have looked forward to an international agreement, through which the parity of gold and silver might be established and maintained, as the solution of the puzzling problem of our currency's contraction. Without entering into any argument as to whether or not the proposition to remedy these ills without the co-operation of other nations of the world is premature, Mr. Whitney in his unqualified approval and support of the platform of 1892 admitted the existence of weaknesses in our financial system but believing as he did that free coinage was not the panacea he called upon all silver Democrats to rally to the support of the majority. They responded with a hearty good will and elected the candidate of the party. If it was obligatory, as Mr. Whitney seemed to believe then, on these men to abide the decision of the majority is it not equally so of Mr. Whitney today? But if he went into the convention predetermined to bolt the platform and ticket did he not then and there relinquish all claims on the Democratic party and the name of Democracy? To say the least of it Mr. Whitney's latest chat by no means does him credit.

"My mother, my wife and myself use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy whenever troubled with a cough or cold. It is the medicine of our home. I do not know how we could do without it. We feel that it is an indispensable article. The people in this vicinity too are beginning to learn of the merits of this excellent medicine. I never lose an opportunity to testify to its value for it has saved many a doctor's bill in my family. W. S. Musser, proprietor of the Musser House, Willheim, Pa." This remedy is famous for its cures of bad colds. Try it and you will recommend it to your friends. For sale by James Plummer.

Junius Meroney, of Mockville, died Sunday afternoon, aged 25 years. Cigarettes, it is said, was the direct cause of his death. He was an incessant smoker and after his death his throat was said to be black as far down as one could see. He left a wife and one child.

Mr. W. H. Smith, editor of The Argus, Benton, Pa., recommends a remedy for diarrhoea which he has used with magical effect. "Several weeks ago," he says, "I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after using less than one-third of the contents the results were magical—effecting an entire cure. I heartily and cheerfully recommend the remedy to all suffering from diarrhoea." This remedy is for sale by James Plummer.

Italy, it is said, has a new magazine rifle which holds only six cartridges but can be filled and discharged in fifteen seconds. The bullet has an outside covering of German silver with a case of lead, hardened by antimony, and will go through a brick wall three feet thick at a range of a quarter of a mile. The bore is 1256 inches and the trajectory is so flat that the rifle can be fired up to a range of 650 yards without using the folding sight, which is set for as long a range as 2200 yards.

Some time ago the one-year-old child of Mr. M. E. Lindsley, of Franklin Forks, Pa., had a very bad attack of colic. She suffered great pain. Mr. Lindsley gave her a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and in ten minutes her distress was gone. This is the best medicine in the world for children when troubled with colic or diarrhoea. It never fails to effect a prompt cure. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant for them to take. It should be kept in every home, especially during the summer months. For sale by Jas. Plummer.

"Do you remember," asked the young lawyer and promoter, "that you once said I would never be rich? I rather think I am on the road to riches, at last." "I never said you would not be rich," answered the elderly cynic. "I only said, you would never have any money of your own, and I still say so."—Indianapolis Journal.

It May Do As Much For You.
 Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price 50c and $1.00. At Klutz's drug store.
