During the month of July Register of Deeds Woodson issued only nine marriage licenses seven for white and two for colored couples.

C. H. Long and W. M. Scott, advance agents of Barlow Brothers minstrels, were here Saturday night. The minstrel will show here Friday night.

W. N. Earnhardt is holding down the position as baggage master while R. L. Farris is off on a few days recreation.

Capt. Thomas Murphy, one of the conductors on the Western, is off on a month's vacation. The vacant place on the road will be filled by Capt. Horton.

A german will be given at Asheville tomorrow night and, as previously noted in the WORLD, the german club of Salisbury will go up on the excursion.

J. C. Manly went to Atlanta Saturday night to make arrangements for bringing his family to Salisbury. They will occupy W. C. Fraley's house on east Inniss street.

The whistle which will be used at the new Southern shops was brought down from Knoxville Saturday. It has done service at the old Georgia shops in Knoxville for a number of years.

The train for D. W. Julian's excursion tomorrow has arrived and is now standing on the side track here. A large crowd will go to Asheville from Salisbury and surrounding country.

A protracted meeting will begin at Shiloh Methodist church, near the city, on the 3rd Sunday of this month. It will be conducted by Rev. E. G. Pusey, assisted by Rev. A. L. Coburn.

The cattle pen of the Southern, which has stood near the Salisbury cemetery for some time, was torn away today. A large new pen will be erected between the coal chute at the new shops and the creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mowery, who have been living in Charlotte, arrived in the city Saturday night and will make this their future home. They will live for the present with Mrs. Mowery's father, Policeman Pool.

We understand that Esquire D. L. Bringle is in a critical condition. He is suffering from Bright's disease and dropsy. Mr. Bringle was at one time postmaster of Salisbury and one of the most prominent citizens of the city.

J. T. Barringer is having a brick house erected on south Lee street to be used as a storage house for potatoes with which he will supply the trade of the city during the winter. The house will have a capacity of 1000 bushels of potatoes.

Mr. T. C. Enniss, of Raleigh, arrived in the city this morning and is spending the day here. Mr. Enniss, who is now an engineer on the Seaboard Air Line, left Salisbury when but three years old and this is his first visit since that time.

Mill Notes.

The Vance cotton mills has suspended its night work temporarily.

The Kesler mills did its first day's work today. The mill will not run regularly for a week or two yet, the run today being more for a test. The machinery is of the highest order and everything runs smoothly.

The Last Issue Saturday.

The last issue of the Herald was printed Saturday afternoon. Today Editor Whichard is busy straightening up his affairs and as soon as this is completed his plant will be moved to Hickory. He will probably be accompanied by J. X. Roueche, who has been associated with the Herald in the capacity of foreman since it began publication.

Salisbury Forging Ahead.

Under this caption yesterday's Charlotte Observer had an excellent write up descriptive of the improvements going on in Salisbury. The Observer totals up the estimated cost of improvements now being made here at $440,000. In these figures none of the new residences in course of erection are included. These would run the figures up to nearly $500,000.

The following is the list of improvements as shown by the Observer:

Methodist church	$ 3,000
Shaver buildings	15,000
Woodson and Shaver buildings	4,000
Kesler Mill	75,000
Flour Mill	12,000
Opening Main Street	15,000
Southern Railway shops	300,000
Dunning store	1,000
Richard's dwelling houses, 25 at $600	15,000

THE JOURNEY IS O'ER.

Miss Mamie Gill, after weeks of suffering, passes into the beyond. A lovely character.

Yesterday morning just as the sun's first rays were filling the city with the gladdening light of a summer's perfect Sabbath, a beautiful spirit was passing from the abode of life and entering the portals of the great, the unknown beyond. The immortal soul of a lovely character was winging its flight through the valley of the shadow, over the dark stream beyond the grave.

After weeks of suffering Miss Mamie Gill breathed her last yesterday morning at 6 o'clock at the home of her mother on west Main street. Her death was not an entirely unexpected one as she had been hovering between life and death for two weeks or more. Yet she had appeared to rally in the last few days and hopes were entertained that she might continue to improve. The direct cause of Miss Gill's death was enlargement of the heart.

Miss Mamie Gill was born at Gold Hill, this county, and was 23 years of age. She was a devout member of the Catholic church. Most of her life has been spent in Salisbury and all who came in contact with her learned to love her for her many admirable traits. She was a young lady of sweet disposition and gentle manners and all were her friends.

Mr. H. C. Williams went to Charlotte yesterday morning where arrangements were made for the interment, which took place this evening. The remains, accompanied by the family, were taken to Charlotte on the vestibule this morning.

Mill Bridge Wins.

A match game of ball was played at Mill Bridge Saturday evening between the home team and a nine from Grant's Creek. The visitors were defeated by a score of 15 to 5.

A Mill Bridge "rooster" furnishes us with the names of the players.

The Mill Bridge nine were: F. A. Shoaf 1st b., G. F. Houck r. f., G. A. Steel 2nd b., E. H. Harrison s. s., H. E. Miller c., W. J. McCorkle 3rd b., J. H. Shuping c. f., J. C. Sloan l. f., O. O. Harrison p.

The Grant Creek team was: G. G. Blackwelder r. f., E. O. Beaver s. s., John Miller l. f., until catcher got crippled; C. E. Freeze 3rd b., Calvin Miller 1st b., J. S. Freeze p., J. D. Freeze 2nd b., C. J. Freeze c., M. A. Basinger c. f.

Frank Howard To Be Hung at Concord.

Many of our citizens remember that one night several months ago a bright light was seen against the southern sky. The next day the WORLD published that the barn, several horses and an out house of to Mr. Gillon, of Cabarrus county, had been burned.

Suspicion fell upon Frank Howard, colored, and he was jailed. At one time the accused man confessed that he "meant to burn everything on the premises, Gillon and all his family."

Howard was tried at the Cabarrus term of Superior court last week and found guilty of arson. Saturday morning Judge Greene sentenced him to be hanged on Friday, August 28th

NOTICE—All parties who intend going to Asheville on the excursion tomorrow can secure accident tickets of Ernest H. Brown.

Don't forget the excursion from Concord to Wilmington Thursday, August 6th. Round trip only $3.00

DAUGHTER DEAD, MOTHER INSANE.

Victims of the Chute. The Mother Permits Her Daughter to Go Boating and the Daughter is Killed. A Tragic Affair.

On the tragic death of the three picnics at Knoxville last Thursday hangs another tragedy, sadder and more touching in its details than the original catastrophe. It is well remembered how a young lady and two gentlemen rowing along Lake Ottosee were struck by a boat precipitated from a chute and instantly killed. In addition to these seven others were badly injured, perhaps fatally. The subsequent events are told us by Capt. L. A. Frazier.

It appears that Miss Fibbs, the young lady who was killed, was the daughter of an engineer. She appealed to her father for permission to join a picnic party on the lake but he refused to give his permission. The young lady afterwards sought her mother and obtained her consent.

She was only 16 years old and her father knew full well that the chute which inclined from a height above to the lake's brink was nothing less than a death trap.

She went however and as related above met a fearful death. When the news was borne to her mother of the sad accident the shock was so sudden and the realization of her own indirect responsibility for her daughter's death so stunning that she became deranged instantly and it is feared will never recover her mind. It is a sad affair all around but particularly so in the case of the mother, who with less intent than thought of danger, brought death to her lovely young daughter.

A Reel Team from Charlotte.

Said yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "Nineteen of the best racers of the old Pioneers and Hornets will be chosen tomorrow night to compose the racing team which goes to Salisbury to the firemen's tournament. Chief Culpepper, a member himself of the old volunteer company, will train the men, and if Charlotte does not win the prize she "will most."

Judge Russell Here.

Judge Daniel L. Russell, the Republican nominee for Governor, was in the city a short while yesterday morning on his way to Marshall where he will spend several days with Senator Pritchard. On his way to Marshall after leaving Salisbury Judge Russell was introduced to George Hanger, the popular conductor on the Western. After inquiring as to his destination Mr. Hanger asked Judge Russell if he intended making any speeches. Judge Russell replied that he might possibly make a speech while in Madison county. "Well after the roasting you have received from all sections of the State I wouldn't make any in another county in the State were I you," said Mr. Hanger. Judge Russell's reply, unfortunately, is not recorded.

FOR SALE.

A paying shoe business in Salisbury. Average sales $20,000 annually. Address A in care of the World.

Don't forget that D. W. Snider is at the Rowan House and will do all kinds of repairing on sewing machines and organs. He furnishes the best of recommendation as to work and reliability.

Cy Watson Here.

Cy Watson, the Democratic nominee for Governor of North Carolina, passed through the city this morning on his way to Charlotte where he will speak tonight at 8 o'clock. At the depot "Gov." Watson was surrounded by a group of admiring friends.

The Conference Meets Next Year At Albemarle.

Presiding elder J. R. Scroggs returned this morning from Thomasville where he presided over the district conference of Salisbury district. The conference adjourned last night and will meet next year at Albemarle.

The Sunday Fight.

The usual Sunday fight with the usual large crowd of spectators took place on Liberty street yesterday at noon.

The participants were two colored women, sisters. The fight had reached that point where the colored race's favorite weapon, the razor, had been brought into action when the star of an approaching policeman was seen in the distance and the sisters quieted down.

Forceful Trespass and a Affray.

There was an interesting trial before esquire J. M. Horah this morning. Joe Miller, colored, was the defendant charged with forcible trespass and an affray with Gaston Carter, who was the plaintiff. R. Lee Wright represented the plaintiff and the defendant was represented by J. J. Stewart and J. L. Rendleman. Both parties were bound over to court.

Wanders Back and Was Caught.

One Saturday night in April Bob Boston, colored, was knocked in the head by Clarence Hargrave, also colored. Shortly afterward Hargrave left this part of the country and went to Boston. But his longing for home was too great and he returned.

Saturday night he was discovered by Policeman Pool and locked up. He will be detained until the next term of Rowan's court.

Boston, who came near dying from the effect of the injury, has recovered.

Where The Doctor is Needed.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Jno. H. Verble, who has been ill for some time, is still improving.

Mrs. Jennie Johnson, who has been very low with fever, is somewhat improved to day. Mrs. Johnson's sister has arrived from Florida and will remain here until Mrs. Johnson grows stronger, when she will be removed.

We are glad to see Jas. Kennerly, who has been confined to his home at Zeb for some time, out again to day.

The excursion from Concord to Wilmington will leave Salisbury at 8 o'clock Thursday morning. Round trip only $3.00. Will be gone 48 hours. Will be run by H. C. Graber, Leonard Bros. and Luther Darr.

Concord's Advance Agent Here.

Henry Ritz came up from Concord last night to make arrangements for the part the Concord reel team will take in the tournament here this month. He tells us Concord will send a running team of 25 to the races. A large crowd of spectators will also be here from our sister town.

The Boys Leave Tomorrow.

The game of ball between Salisbury and Asheville will be played tomorrow afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. The boys will leave Salisbury in uniform and will take the cars immediately on their arrival to Asheville for Allendale Park, where the game is to be played.

Physical Culture.

The public meeting at the Y. M. C. A. hall yesterday evening was conducted by Dr. J. G. Ramsay. Dr. Ramsay's theme was "physical culture" and he made a plain, practical talk, based upon scriptural admonitions. The doctor spoke of the evils of improper dress and diet and the influence they exert upon the moral nature of men and women. Speaking as an aged physician, from experience, his words were words of soundness and were listened to actively.

Mr. Kluttz at Gastonia.

Hon. Theo F. Kluttz, of this city, captured Gastonia with his eloquence Friday night. Says the Gastonia correspondent of the Charlotte Observer:

Hon. Theo F. Kluttz addressed a large audience in the Lineberger-Torrence hall last night in behalf of the Democratic party. It is the opinion of all who have expressed themselves to your correspondent, that Mr. Kluttz made a fine speech. He dwelt mostly on national issues, and told how at Chicago Wm. J. Bryan captured the convention by his matchless effort, and his description of this speech and the Democratic nominee was indeed eloquent. He then took the Republican platform, and showed how that party was trying to side-track the main issue, the money question, and that they were trying to make issues out of the tariff and other things, which were really not issues at all. Mr. Kluttz stands flatfooted on the Democratic platform, and he made a strong argument for free silver and the other declarations in the platform. The Democratic party has no abler champion in North Carolina to day than Theo F. Kluttz.

Tickets for the excursion tomorrow will be on sale at E. H. Marsh's this evening until 9 o'clock.

A few ladies and gentlemen's second hand wheels for sale or will rent to good riders.
