

THE EVENING WORLD.

JNO. M. JULIAN, Editor and Proprietor.

SALISBURY, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY DECEMBER, 2 1896.

VOL. 2. NO. 72.

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN SALISBURY. THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN THE CITY

IN AND ABOUT TOWN.

Jno. Bailey went up the Western road this morning.

W. Reid Crawford returned to Asheville this morning.

Popular prices at the opera tonight, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Capt. Tom McFee went to Raleigh this morning.

"Still waters run deep," at the opera house to-night.

Capt. C. W. Lee, of Manchester, Va., was in the city last night.

The play tonight will abound in funny passages. Go and see it.

J. L. Shupinz, of Woodside, came in on the Yadkin this morning.

Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon over two inches of snow had fallen.

The doors of the waiting room at the depot are being fixed with springs.

W. E. Neal, a prominent grocery man of Richmond, was in the city this morning.

D. M. Miller's horse ran away this morning and tore his delivery wagon into pieces.

Rain, snow or moonlight, the Buckler Stock Company will play at the opera house tonight.

Mrs. R. M. Eames returned this morning from a visit to her son, R. Eames Jr. at New London.

Mrs. J. D. Brown, who was so unwell for some time, continues to improve, we are glad to learn.

Mrs. J. J. West went to Charlotte this morning, where she will enter the hospital for treatment.

Will Capps left this morning for Athens, Ga., where, as announced in the World, he has accepted a position with a jewelry house.

Overshoes are something you are bound to have during winter like this. The Burt Shoe Co. talks overshoes in their new ad today.

Rev. and Mrs. C. Clapp, nee Miss Vivian Patterson, were in the city this morning on their way to China Grove, to visit Mrs. Clapp's mother.

The Demorest Medal contest will be held in the Y. M. C. A. hall Friday night. No admission will be charged. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Besides the work on the outside Mr. M. L. Ritch's bar is undergoing considerable repairs in the interior. When completed, his restaurant will be one of the prettiest in the State.

The ladies who have promised to furnish music for the Demorest Medical contest Friday night are requested to meet at the Y. M. C. A. hall at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

C. M. and H. M. Brown are never behind when it comes to supplying footwear for stormy weather. They have overshoes in abundance and will tell you about them in their new ad. tomorrow.

The Salisbury boys want to know what is the matter with Concord and Charlotte. They have been trying to arrange for a game of football with the teams of these cities but they don't show up.

Clearing Thursday.
The weather bureau forecasts a clearing up tomorrow. The forecast is as follows:
Threatening, with rain or snow, clearing Thursday.
The threatening and snow parts of this forecast have both arrived in full blast.

Every one who has used the Meadow Stock Farm will say it has no superior and is impossible to get better.

MONTE CRISTO LAST NIGHT.

A Good Crowd and a Good Show. Changed Program Tonight.

There was a much larger crowd out at the opera house last night to see Buckler's Big Stock Co. in Monte Cristo than on the previous night. The excellence of this company and the real merit of their performers had become generally known, and doubtless was instrumental in drawing a better house.

The play last night was heavier than that of Monday night and was in consequence more difficult of artistic interpretation and execution.

All parts, however, were well sustained.

Mr. George Buckler as Edmunde Dantes and afterwards in his other roles proved himself not one whit inferior to what his strong acting of Monday night bespoke for him.

Miss Eleanore Newton, as Mercedes, was graceful and full of her character, while all the other parts were pleasingly rendered.

Miss Fern Dayton in her specialties proved a favorite and was highly encored.

The orchestra is a splendid one and their music is the very latest.

Tonight this company will fill their last date here and a large crowd should go out. The opera house will be comfortable. The play announced for tonight is "Still waters run deep."

Mrs. McConnehaugh Dead.
Mrs. Alice McConnehaugh, wife of Dr. J. L. McConnehaugh, died this morning at 5:30 o'clock of pneumonia.

Mrs. McConnehaugh had only been sick a short while and this sad news will be a great shock to her many friends. The deceased was a good Christian woman and a loving wife and mother. She was about 32 years old. She leaves five children, the youngest an infant just two weeks old.

The funeral services will be conducted from the house on Chestnut street tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock and the remains will be interred in the Lutheran cemetery.

Dr. McConnehaugh has only been living here since August, he having resided in the county near Mill Bridge previous to his removal here. The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved ones in their great sorrow.

The Report is Incorrect.
Says the Charlotte Observer: "The reports of Attorney General Osborne furnishes the information that for the two years it covers there was not a legal execution in the State. Upon the face of the question this appears to speak well for the State. We do not know whether it really does or not. Very likely a good many of our fellow citizens, who are going in and out among us daily, ought to have been hung within the past two years if not before."

We presume that this refers to the report embracing the past two years up to November. If such is the case Attorney General Osborne is entirely incorrect. There have been at least four legal executions in North Carolina during that time to our knowledge, two having occurred in Salisbury.

REV. MEYER AND OTHERS.

He Writes The Recorder That Lutheran, Reformed and Methodist are Bigoted and Intolerant.

The following letter written by Rev. F. H. Meyer, of this city, is interesting only in that it shows what unmitigated cheek a newcomer like Mr. Meyer possesses in assailing the people of Rowan county:

"The thing we expected has come to pass. The school committee at Dunn's Mountain, consisting of Lutherans, has forbidden us the use of the schoolhouse. This is the second time I have been shut out of a public schoolhouse during my brief career as a Baptist preacher—the first time at Chestnut Hill, Salisbury, where the school committee consisted of Methodists and Reformed; and this time at Dunn's Mountain, where Lutherans, Reformed and Methodists are alike opposed to Baptist preaching.

"From this it seems to me that the Lutherans, Reformed and Methodists are quite as bigoted, intolerant and exclusive as Baptists were ever accused of being; and it is vain for us to look to them for liberality and tolerance enough to allow us the use of a public school building. Brethren, will you not come to our rescue in this plight, and help us to build a church of our own? Above all, however, pray for us that God may grant us the presence and power of the Holy Spirit to prosecute the work at Dunn's Mountain in spite of all opposition."

"F. H. MEYER."
Salisbury, Nov. 27, 1896.

Tat, Tat, Squire. This Won't Pass.
Squire Guffy's reasons for not being elected are set forth in the Statesville Landmark this week. Says the Landmark:
Mr. J. C. Turner went to Rowan last week to visit C. A. Guffy, Esq., and the two enjoyed a hunt together. They got a turkey piepee (supposed to be wild turkeys,) and Squire Guffy killed two squirrels at one shot.

"Squire Guffy was the fusion candidate for register of deeds of Rowan at the recent election and he offers this explanation as to why he didn't take the office. He says when he returned from the canvass all the ladies in his neighborhood impertuned him so not to move to Salisbury that he (after the election) sent his Democratic opponent word that he could hold on to the office; that the ladies wouldn't give him (Guffy) up. Mr. Woodson, Mr. Guffy's Democratic opponent, might say that it was the number of Democratic votes in Rowan that kept the latter from taking the office of register, but the above is Squire Guffy's explanation and we give it.

Marriages During December.
Register of Deeds Woodson had an exceedingly busy month helping to marry people during November.

"During this month the number of licenses issued were 27. Seventeen were to whites and ten colored.

Mr. Erwin Changed.
Mr. Robt. Erwin, who for the past several months has been on the road between Salisbury and Asheville, has been put on the yard at Asheville. Mr. Erwin assumed his duties at Asheville today.

FINEER & ANTHONY.

Mrs. Terann's New Book.

Says yesterday's Asheville Citizen:
Prof. J. M. Tiernan was in town yesterday and today, returning to Salisbury this afternoon. He is just from Mexico and on the way to Chicago to buy mining machinery. Prof. Tiernan is engaged in gold mining about 90 miles from the Pacific in Mexico, and will return thence in about three weeks. His interests there are continually growing more important and prosperous, and require all his time. He reports Mexico as the most prosperous country on earth today, and says that money is, if anything, too plenty there. Capital is pouring into the country, labor is well remunerated, and silver dollars form the sole current funds of the people.

Mrs. Tiernan, "Christian Reid" is soon to have a new book out, published by the Appletons, and those who have read it pronounce it to be her best work.

A December Wedding.
The following invitations are out:
Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Roueche announce the marriage of their daughter, Agnes Helene, to Mr. Lucian Haywood Harris, Wednesday, December sixteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, Salisbury, North Carolina.

Miss Roueche is a very popular young lady of this city and Harris is a well known mail clerk on the Western.

After their marriage the couple will spend some time in Northern cities and will then return to Hickory, where they will reside.

"The White Crook."
The attraction on Dec. 8th will be Ed. F. Rush's Spectacular Extravaganza "The White Crook." Mr. Rush has produced many burlesques, but in "The White Crook" he has striven to give a performance that would excel any previous effort. "The White Crook" is said to be scintillant with extravagant and humorous situations, incidents and dialogue, while the music is bright and melodious. The production has been mounted superbly, costumed beautifully and interpreted by an excellent company, while pretty girls, bewildering and picturesque ensembles are sure to delight.

A True Bill for Murder.
The grand jury before adjourning Saturday evening found a true bill for murder in the first degree against E. A. Barner, who killed his tenant a week ago tonight. We understand that the bill was brought at the request of the solicitor.

There were summoned before the grand jury on this case none but the witnesses for the State. Three good white men testified at the inquest of the coroner's jury in behalf of the defense, who were not summoned to appear before the grand jury.

The Lutheran College.

Says today's Charlotte Observer:
Rev. Mr. King, of the Southern Lutheran College, has been in Pennsylvania for a few days past, consulting the architect relative to some changes in the original plans of the buildings which it has been thought advisable to make. It has been on account of these proposed changes that the work has been delayed on the grounds here. After the plans had been adopted, the board saw where improvements could be made, and the architect has now embodied them in the revised plans. Mr. King is expected in Charlotte within the next ten days, when the work will be commenced with as little delay as possible.

The excavations for the foundation lines have already been dug, and these will not be materially changed. It is reasonably sure that the college buildings will be ready for the proposed opening of the big institution next October. The committee on building wants to be right and to make no mistake at the start, and in this the members have displayed sound judgment. Once the work begins it will be pushed rapidly to a finish, and next October will see a cluster of magnificent buildings on the wooded hill overlooking Charlotte from the east.

An Interesting Fact.
Says today's News and Observer: Sheriff J. M. Monroe, of Rowan, yesterday brought three new convicts to the penitentiary. Speaking of the contest for the Legislature in his county Sheriff Monroe said that it was that Walter Murphy, the Democratic candidate, was elected by 500 majority over Gus Price, son of Capt. Chas. Price, both of the young men having been at the University at the same time and both great football players.

A Wreck Yesterday.
The Western train which should have arrived here at 7:30 last night did not get in until 2 o'clock this morning. The cause of the delay was kept a hide bound secret among railroad men but we learn that a wreck occurred yesterday between Knoxville and Chattanooga. The extent of damage could not be ascertained.

Marriage at Woodleaf.
Miss Alice Elberson and Mr. Chas. M. Foil, both of this city, were married Sunday at Woodleaf by Esquire W. A. Thomason.

The young people have a large number of friends here who wish them all happiness and joy.
