Unquenchable.

My love is like the dewy rose She wears upon her breast, Her breath is like the wind that blows

Balm-laden from the west; Her smiles are like the sunlight shed On wavelets as they roll, And Prethe blue sky overhead, Her purity of soul.

Her generous thoughts are like the rain That falls on high or low; Her kindly gifts to age and pain

None but the wretched know, Her sympathies are broad as day And starry as the night, And when there's darkness on the way

Her presence sheds a light! Such were my thoughts when Love But now, when Love is old, Each fairly of my pen or tongue Is silver turned to gold.

Curious Facts About Flowers.

Within the antartic circle there has never a flowering plant been found. In the arctic region there are seven hundred and sixty-two kinds of flowers; fifty of these are confined to the arctic segion. They are really polar flowers. The colors of these polar flowers are not so bright and varied as our own, most of them being white or yellow, as if borrowing these hardy bues from their snowy bergs and golden stars.
