SALISBURY, N. C., JULY 27th.

National Democratic Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, ALLEN G. THURMANN, of Ohio.

FOR CONGRESS 7TH DISTRICT, JOHN S. HENDERSON, of Rowan.

Democratic Nominees.

FOR GOVERNOR, HON. DANIEL G. FOWLE, of Wake.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, THOMAS H. HARRISON, of Alamance.

FOR ASSOCIATE JUSTICES SUPREME COURT, HON. JOS. J. DAVIS, of Franklin.

FOR SUPREME COURT JUSTICES, HON. JAMES E. SHEPHERD, of Washington.

HON. ALPHONSO CAVERY, of Burke.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE, WM. L. SAUNDERS, of Orange.

FOR TREASURER, DONALD W. BAIN, of Wake.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, SIDNEY M. FINGER, of Catawba.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL, THEODORE F. DAVIDSON, of Bancombe.

FOR AUDITOR, REV. G. W. SANDERLIN, of Wayne.

It is said that there will be an incident candidate for the legislature, also that there may be one for sheriff. The men have not made their intentions known to the public yet.

Mr. Sanderlin says that there is no such thing as an old man never will be old he is about three-thirds right about that.

An old colored man speaking of Mr. Sanderlin was heard to say, 'dat de man dat I see guine to vote for de next election. I likes his talk, I tell you I dose an if you niggers vote for him you will be votin' for de right man.'

The town of Chetopa Kan, has passed a law prohibiting boys under fifteen years of age to be on the streets after eight o'clock at night. It would be a good thing if every town and city in North Carolina would pass such a law.

Now is the time for the business man to advertise, crops will soon be laid by and the farmers will be coming in to buy their supplies for the fall. This is a national and state campaign year, and every one that can, wants to read the papers to get the campaign news, and in this way the advertisements will reach more people. Our subscription list is increasing, and the business men will do well to hand in their advertisements at once and let the people know what you have for sale. A man that does not advertise does not have his full share of the trade. How much more will it pay him to give the editors of his town papers a chance to live, and in that way get more trade than to hold back a few dollars and say that the people know where to get goods cheapest. That may be so, but if you will notice that the people always go to the ones that are made familiar to them through the columns of the newspaper. So, business men, men who want to build up the town and get more trade, the best thing they can do to accomplish it, is to give the papers a good advertisement, persons from abroad, when they see a paper with good home advertisements always say that that is a business place, and its advertising merchants do a good paying business, and are regarded as the safest of firms by all.

The cannon ball passenger train on the Alabama division of the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad ran through an open switch, thirty miles from Chattanooga. The engine turned over, and the engineer and fireman were fatally injured. The switch had been misplaced by two negroes, who were caught and both confessed. They were taken to Cleveland to escape lynching.

It seems that there is something more than fun in the assertion that the Chinese favor the election of Harrison. The New York Star states it as a fact that the Chinese of that city are actively at work raising a campaign fund to assist the Republicans.

A Novel Device.

Eight miles from Lynchburg, Va., another dreadful catastrophe took place on the Norfolk and Western R. R. before day on Sunday morning last. A misunderstanding to the right of way between two trains is said to have been the cause of the accident. A material train was running backward, and was dashed into a heavy train of freight cars going at considerable speed, the engine of latter actually mounting on top of the wreck of the material train, and crushing and grinding everything in its way. Nine cars of the freight train were torn all to pieces, and merchandise was scattered in every direction.

Eight bodies have already been taken from the horrible ruins, and it is said that there are two more still buried under the crushed cars.

The coroner's jury in the case of the Norfolk and Western railroad wreck rendered the following verdict.

"We find the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company guilty of neglect in sending complicated orders, not easily understood by the employees of the company, as shown by evidence adduced before the jury, and for failure to designate engine No. 3, which would have prevented this collision, and it is the opinion of this jury that the Norfolk and Western Management should be held responsible for the results of the disaster.

"Vote for the Country."

Owning the right to vote I will not hand it over to a party or a party leader, but will exercise that right as best suits myself and in accordance with my own views of the duty which the citizen owes to his country. I believe that the man who votes for country before party is a patriot and that he who votes for party before country is a traitor, in whose hands the ballot is as dangerous to the country's weal as the dagger in the hands of the assassin is to the man against whom the assassin has a grudge. I will not vote for sentiment or spite, but will vote to accomplish a result. My vote will be cast for that party or man who will do the most good for the city I live in, the State of which that city is a part, and the country of which that State is the keystone. If my advice would be taken all working-men would vote just that way.—T. V. Powderly.

Early Training For Boys.

Boys cause great anxiety as to their future. They are to be citizens of the future, and on their training much of the country's welfare depends. Next to Christian principles and proper motive, labor, mental as well as physical, should be insisted on in the training of boys.

Labor, in itself, not only disciplines and practical preparation for an active life, but it accustoms the mind to methodical habits, gives it ease and alertness in practical achievement, and by profitable occupation of the mind, it prevents idleness.

In youth, the mind is in its most formative stage, and, by a law of nature, it is obliged to be active for either good or evil. Therefore, it should be taught early to work along the lines of sound principles and enduring incentive. Should be held out to the youthful aspirants. Early habits and impressions are hard to change, and, if they are of the right kind, make a solid foundation for a noble and useful life.

Is It Too Late.

It may be too late, quite too late, to set right mischief once done to over consequences, to stop the working of the evil that we have set in motion. But is not too late, it is never too late, to come to God. If you can't be what you might have been, yet you can still be something that Christ will love and value—a humble penitent soul. If you can not serve God as you might have done—may, if you have done harm that you can never undo—yet you can still give Him what he values more than all the service—a will surrendered to his will. If it is too late for everything else, it is never too late to join the service of Christ.

The Dear Little Pig.

A raiser of pigs tells how to prevent sows from eating their pigs, as some animals are prone to do. At the suggestion of a friend the writer tried the simple preventive of feeding two or three pounds of bacon to the sow the day before farrowing, and two more the next day or two afterwards. She ate no more pigs but proved to be a valuable stock bearer. The evil disposition referred to is chargeable to a morbid appetite all animals have when breeding.

Words and their Use.

As Miss Angeline, who lives at the South End, came down to breakfast the other morning, looking a trifle puny but very happy, her mother, looking sternly toward the daughter, cleared her throat and remarked in a serious tone of voice:

"My dear, Edwin stayed much later than usual last night, did he?"

"Oh, no, mother!"

"Be careful, my child; I am quite sure of it."

"No, indeed, mother, he didn't stay at all late. Why, what makes you think he did?"

"Because I happened to be awake when he was going out, and I heard him whisper to you at the door 'Just one!'"
