THE WORLD.
The World has been revolving in total... darkness ever since the Cincinnati... Convention. It is now veering around... into light. Obstinacy, and down-right... foolhardiness have succumbed to the... stern logic of events.
Hear it in its issue of June 24th:
In this singular and most surprising... conjunction, the World aims at the facility of a photograph. It... tries to aid its readers in seeing things precisely as... they are: "extending nothing and setting naught... down in malice." We have such a feeling of... intense disgust at the course things are taking, and... at the same time, such a sentiment of loyalty to the... Democratic party, that we quite throw aside all at... tempts to thread the intricacies of political intrigue... and renounce all other ambition than to represent... things as they are unwilling to deceive ourselves or... deceive our readers, and think we can render no... better service than to furnish honest Democrats the... materials for forming their judgment. We are reluctantly... constrained to believe that the indorsement of... Greeley at Baltimore is one of the absurd possi... bilities of American politics.

INFAMOUS JOHN POOL.
This treacherous political rascal, ever ready to hang, down, or otherwise destroy his political superiors, has added to his long list of villainous deeds, by prostituting his high prerogative as Senator of the United States, and the Post office Department, in sending through the mail bags of the country free on his own frank, one of the most diabolical anonymous circulars, entitled "Read and Circulate," ever drawn up by mortal man.

This circular is an unmitigated falsehood from beginning to end, and grossly slanders every individual named in it. It was concocted in the dark hours of mid-night, in the city of Washington, by the ring-leaders of the one man power. It was printed for, and sent into the country by John Pool, and over his own frank. This is not only a crime, but a plain violation of existing law. This circular has been sent into the country for no other purpose than to intimidate voters.

As this circular was brought to our notice only a few moments before going to press, we can not give it that indignant notice it deserves. John Pool should be arrested immediately for intimidation. The above cut represents Grant holding in his hands a nest of thirty-seven eggs, which, of course, corresponds to the number of States in the Union. His renunciation by the office holders at Philadelphia was a foregone conclusion. Grant has beenajoined into the false belief by his army of corrupt officers, that a persistent det of four months on these eggs, laid at Philadelphia, with an expenditure of half million dollars of the peoples money in purchasing and otherwise corrupting voters, they will hatch on election day, the 5th of November next, thirty-seven full pledged chickens for himself.

What we desire to know now, is, what has become of this large amount of the peoples money that was paid into the hands of that other General by the hard working people for the purpose of paying off the debt of the Nation? Has Abbott got it? Has Estes got it? Or have they got it conjointly? We know the Treasury of the United States is without it. Has the Commissioner of Internal Revenue compromised this large defalcation of a few thousand dollars? "We the people" have the right to know. Men and brethren, how long? Oh! how much longer can you tolerate these carpet-bag valures.

THE AMERICAN AND MAJ. ROBBINS.
The Statesville Intelligencer, the last issue of the American, in commenting editorially upon Maj. Robbins' speech in this place on the 22d instant, says:
"The charge is made and substantiated by record and public history, that the said Maj. W. M. Robbins did receive the $20,000 as a bribe."
In its issue of April 22nd, 1872, referring to the same matter it says: "We always believed that the charge against Major Robbins was a slander. Again, on February 24, 1869, when this slanderous tale, according to the American, was fresh in the minds of every one, the American expressed Mr. Robbins' remarks relative to the whole transaction and editorially noticed as follows:
"We find in the Raleigh Sentinel a statement of Maj. W. M. Robbins, in relation to the charge which had been made against him of receiving twenty thousand dollars for getting a certain measure through the Legislature. We do not believe that Major Robbins acted from a wrong motive in this matter, as he says, although it was unfortunate, at the present juncture, that he was not more thoughtful and guarded in accepting even a present in consideration of any vote he may have given. It was a step from the legislator to the lawyer, at least. The statement of Major Robbins will be seen in another place, and, we hope, be deemed satisfactory."

DEATH.
We make no excuse for the space consumed on the first page of this issue, of what we consider to be the most comprehensive and effective illustration of the financial death of the Southern States, we shall be able to lay before our readers during this Canvass.
This illustration is, indeed, a startling statement of Southern State indebtedness. It is copied from FRANK LESLIE'S Weekly Illustrated paper, and it sorrowfully shows at a glance the enormous debt fastened upon the people by the corrupt and thieving Radicals in little less than three years. Notwithstanding all this thievery the Radicals have the audacious impudence to ask the people to vote them another lease of four years power. For what do they ask it? Simply to steal. Countrymen! will you fold your arms and listlessly gaze upon these figures longer without thought as to your duty in this canvass. Down with Radicalism, and up with Greeley and Reform. Upon this same subject Blasting Powder, a campaign paper published at Raleigh, N. C., and edited by John Spelman, Esq., for the small sum of 25 cents for the August campaign, says: Leslie presents these figures on a huge blackboard, the "National Trustee" calling his Steward to an Account. The trustee stands beside this frightful picture, pointing to the result, and looking down sorrowfully on four striking figures, absolved and disengaged, below. The figures the sacred two hundred million, we need not say, are Grant, Butcher, Morton and Canfield.

PRESS ASSOCIATION.
Gentlemen of the Press, organized last July after the Baltimore Convention, an Association for North Carolina. There be a full attendance of the brethren of the quill in order to advise and confer as to the best method not only as to how the Press should be conducted and controlled in the interest of a greater moral and political good in the future, but as to how the Press of the State can, with one universal breath, power the enemies of Constitutional law, and of good government.

THE AVENUE CONFERENCE.
A meeting of the gentlemen of the quill, in order to advise and confer as to the best method not only as to how the Press should be conducted and controlled in the interest of a greater moral and political good in the future, but as to how the Press of the State can, with one universal breath, power the enemies of Constitutional law, and of good government.

HONEST OLD HORACE.
Tune—"Rally Round the Flag."
"We have joined a band of Liberals to save our country's name,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
We have heard from all the democrats, and they will do the same,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
Greeley forever, hurrah boys, hurrah!
Down with Long Branch and up with Chappaqua!
And we will rally round the old white hat, we will rally once again,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
We will beat the man they nominated on the fifth of June,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
For we are all going to vote for the chief of the Tribune,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
We will welcome to our ranks all the true and brave,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
They can never vote for Grant because he is a knave,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
We will turn the rogues from office, with all their click and clank,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
For we are all going to vote for the good old honest man,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
Then away with party names, our freedom for to save,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
For we can never vote for Grant and be the tyrant's slave,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
We are gaining in the East and we are gaining in the West,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley.
We're going to have the honest men, and they may have the rest,
Shouting for honest Horace Greeley."

STUPENDOUS FRAUDS IN PENNSYLVANIA.
The Philadelphia Press, an out-and-out Grant paper, of great influence, and edited by Col. John W. Forney, is dissatisfied with the Radical State nominations, which has at its head, Gen. Hartranft as candidate for Governor, avers that in Pennsylvania, "the vault of the State Treasury is the most polluted locality in the State Government, and in its dark and impenetrable recesses there are more frauds hidden than those which damned the King of New York." Nor is this all. The Press also alleges that there can be found in the records of that Treasury the fullest evidence of "a long-continued series of stupendous frauds."
One Wm. H. Kimble was the Treasurer, and he admits having written the subjoined letter:
TREASURY DEPARTMENT OF PENNSYLVANIA, Harrisburg, March, 1867.
My Dear Titian: Allow me to introduce to you my particular friend, Mr. George O. Evans. He has a claim of some magnitude that he wishes you to help in. Put him through as you would. He understands Addition, Division, and Silence.
Yours, W. H. KIMBLE.
To Titian J. Coffey, Esq., Washington, D. C.
Whichever way we turn our faces, North, South, East, or West, our eyes behold naught but fraud and oppression under the Grant dynasty.
Is the unanimity of sentiment throughout the Country against Grant and his party of thieves to be wondered at any longer?
After the Baltimore Convention we shall expect to see Col. Forney advocating the Cincinnati ticket.

LETTER FROM HORACE GREELEY TO HIS POSITION IN REGARD TO THE DEMOCRATS.
From the Hartford Times.
The following is an extract from a private letter to a gentleman in this State. Though it was never intended for publication, the gentleman to whom it was addressed has deemed it of sufficient interest and importance to justify its publication.
New York, June 11, 1872.
"I have no possible claim to Democratic support, and never made any. The Democrats will of course be governed by a consideration of their own interest. It is nowise proper or probable that they should be influenced in making their decision by any consideration personal to myself; and if they could be, I do not desire it. Hence I have said nothing to any Democrat, unless he first addressed me. And, even then, I have gone no further than to say that, if I should be elected, I would treat all those who supported me alike, not asking whether they had been in the past, Republican or Democrat."
HORACE GREELEY.
