Death of the Rev. Dr. Witherspoon. It will be seen, by an obituary in to-day's paper, that this eminent Minister of the Gospel died at his residence near this place on Sunday last. Connected; as he had been, with the Presbyterian Church here from 1816 to 1832 as its Pastor; having been, as it were, the first to plant the standard of the cross in this community; he had a strong hold upon the esteem and affections of our citizens. His funeral took place on Monday, and in respect to his during the solemnities, and nearly all the citizens in the village attended the services. In the eloquent tribute to the memory of the deceased, as a part of the funeral sermon, it was very appropriately sug-gested that a monument should be erected by the members of the Presbyterian church and other citizens of the town, to the memory of Dr. Witherspoon, as he had done more, perhaps, than any other man for the morals of the place. We hope the suggestion will be carried into effect.

PROSPECTUS OF THE

FAYETTEVILLE JOURNAL. THE undersigned proposes to publish in the town of Fayetteville, N. C., a weekly newspaper of the first class, to be entitled THE FAYETTE-

VILLE JOURNAL. Regarding the editorial office as one of surassing responsibility, it will be the constant aim of the undersigned so to walk in his high ocation as to render the Journal in all respects worthy of a cherished place in the confidence and esteem of its patrons. Its columns will be devoted to all those matters and things usually found occupying the front ranks of Journalism such as Polities, Agriculture, Commerce, Man-ufactures, the Arts Sciences, Literature, General Information, &c., &c.

The undersigned is not without experience in the business in which he proposes to embark, as well as some other branches of knowledge that may contribute to the value of his labours as a journalist; and possessed of the facilities presented by Fayetteville for the making up of a varied and valuable country paper, he flatters himself that he will be able to meet, in his editorial capacity, all such requirements as a generous public may make at his hands. As above given out, the columns of the Journal will be devoted in part only to the considera-tion of political matter. At some seasons this will doubtless be a main part: at others, considerable more variety may be expected. But, at all times, the best exertions of the editor will be used in aid of those who have at heart the improvement, moral and intellectual, of the rising generation, the prosperity and advancement of the good town of Fayetteville, and the physical development of the rich and varied resources of the entire State. To those who know the editor, an exegesis of his political views would be altogether supererogatory: to those who do not, it is but fair to say, his principles were formed in that school of which the sage of Ashland was recently the great head. In other words, he is a Whig of the straightest sect-ever holding to the conservative doctrines of the immortal Washington and those who stood around and supported his administration. Thus much, in fairness, it is deemed proper to say: but, aside from its poliduce a medicine above the knowledge of the trons the means of acquiring a thorough collegiate tics, it is believed, the paper will contain good things enough to make
