

are aware, sir, I have no respect for a secessionist; I still have a greater detestation and contempt for a fanatic." "Good evening," said Sumner, and left in a huff.

LOCAL.

Look Out for the Printer's Devil or his Representative.

Many of our advertising customers, by special indulgence, owe us for advertisements. We shall call on them to-day, and shall expect each and all to be ready to make settlement.

Those who have advertisements now in the paper marked till forbidden, must designate the length of time which they desire to have them inserted, and pay accordingly.

We need money, and are compelled to have it. We cannot work for nothing. Every thing we get, or have done, we have to pay the cash for it at once. We have been using the scraps of paper about our office. This will soon be out and we must have a new supply. We have indulged our customers in our advertisements; we do not believe they are willing to see this state of affairs continue.

Our books already show a sufficient amount done us to enable us to get along smoothly and without continually making us reproached for the want of means to carry on business; but our patrons seem to think that we can carry on without money. Hence we call upon our friends and patrons to do us the kindness to pay us, at least, what is due us.

A MALE SCHOOL.

Leonidas Brown of our city proposes to open a male school, and we wish him much success. Mr. Brown is, in every way, qualified to conduct a school in an acceptable manner, and will, no doubt, give entire satisfaction. Let our citizens give him a fair chance. There are many boys here and in the vicinity growing up in ignorance and idleness who should be going to school. Mr. Brown proposes to instruct them and improve their morals. His terms will be moderate. Send your children to school.

THE HOSPITAL.

The Hospital at this post was closed yesterday. The sick were sent to Greensboro where a post hospital has been established. Neither Union nor Confederate soldier now remains. We went to the cars and bid farewell to the last one of them yesterday morning. But one "Rebel" was sent off—Smith Gruber. He was in good spirits and our most earnest wish is that he and the others may reach their homes in safety.

Meeting of the Stockholders of the N. C. Railroad.

The Meeting of the Stockholders of the North Carolina Railroad held at the Court House in this city on Thursday last was largely attended. The State Directors present were Messrs. Boyden, Smith, Johnson, Brown, Swenson, Dick, and Leach. The reports of Committees were received and other business of importance transacted. The question of having a National Bank connected with the road was largely agitated. The following were the officers elected:

- Nathaniel Boyden, President.
- Mr. Wilkes, Superintendent,
- Mr. Lee, Treasurer,
- Mr. Stagg, Secretary.

The following board of Directors on the part of the Stockholders were elected: Thos. Webb, C. P. Mendenhall, D. A. Davis, John L. Morehead.

Departure of Col Hickey.

The 181st Ohio left yesterday for home carrying with it Lt. Colonel Hickey, late commanding this Post. Col. Hickey carried with him the best wishes of the people of Salisbury to whom he had become endeared by his kindness, magnanimity and urbanity. He is the last military commandant of Salisbury the post as a military post being abolished yesterday by an order from Genl. Schofield, and the government of affairs was turned over to the city authorities.

The 52d Pennsylvania.

The 52d Regt. Penn. Vols. under command of Col. Conyngham, Lt. Col. Hennessy left here on Thursday for home carrying with them as a trophy to deck their State Capitol, the first flag that waved over Fort Sumter after its reoccupation.

ENROLLMENT.

The process of enrollment of all able bodied citizens has been progressing under Mayor Lunniss at the Town Hall the past three days. Some neglected to enroll themselves and they will have to pay a penalty of ten dollars and do double duty.

POLICING.

The work of properly policing the city is still going on and the citizens seem fully alive to the importance of the duty. This is as it should be, for cleanliness is the first law of nature.

OUR CITY.

Our city has shown many evidences of returning prosperity the few past days. Many strangers have filled the hotels, new stores have been opened; the streets have been thronged by happy people who wear on their countenances the happiness that peace has brought.

SODA WATER.

Call at Perkins & Parrow's, Cowan's Brick Row and get a glass of soda water. It is a pleasant beverage for warm weather.

OUR ANTHEM.

BY AN OFFICER OF THE 23d ARMY CORPS.

Peace is the din of war
Silent the crash of arms,
Peace reigns both near and far,
No more shall dread alarms,
Start us from peaceful sleep
To deadly fray!

Shout, shout from East to West,
Gladly from North to South,
Proclaim the land at rest,
Sound it from the cannon's mouth
No more the land shall weep
For war's array!

Triumph, our arms has crowned,
Victory at last is ours,
Let the glad news go round,
Telling all Earth's great powers
That our dear land is saved
From endless woe!

Thanks to thee, God above
That thou in thy great might,
Hast shown to us thy love,
That thou hast turned our night
Into the brightest day,
While we rejoice!

Let all our powers unite
While we loud anthems sing
That truth, not might is right,
Praising our Mighty King,
That He our land has kept
Safe in his hand;

Thus let it ever be,
While countless ages roll
Oh! keep us brave and free,
Spreading from pole to pole,
Stretching from sea to sea,
United, strong!

Hail! to the noble brave,
Who in our country's night
Sprang forth her name to save,
Impelled by conscious right,
Honor their noble worth,
Till time shall end;

Peace to the noble dead,
Nobly they fought, they died,
Freely their blood they shed,
Poured out the crimson tide,
Ne'er let their names be lost,
Their worth forgot;

Hushed be all angry strife
No more let bitter words
Threaten our country's life,
Sheathed be our swords,
Henceforth our motto be,
United, free!

Nobly our flag shall wave,
Over each land, and sea,
While kings and despots rave
Our mighty power to see,
While we in glory rise
They'll sink in gloom!
And meet their doom!

Correspondence of the "Banner"

Tone of the Christians.

Mr. Editor:—I have recently had the privilege of reading a number of Northern religious newspapers of several denominations—Presbyterian, Methodist and Episcopalian—and were no little surprised to see that they were all discussing the question of a re-union with the churches of the South and the terms upon which that re-union should be effected. But I was more surprised at the spirit of these discussions as being utterly devoid of any thing like conciliation, sympathy or respect, towards Southern churchmen. All their proceedings in Ecclesiastical bodies look more like a gratuitous attempt to stigmatise and abuse Southern christians under the pretence of protecting themselves from the sin and reproach of admitting them to their communion than of any desire to see a restoration of brotherly love between us. And when I consider that these newspaper discussions and actions of Northern churches have taken place without a single application on the part of any Southern church to return to communion with them, the wonder is magnified a hundred fold.

IN MEMORIAM.

Died on Sunday night the 10th inst., very suddenly, from congestion of the lungs, JAMES A. FOX, Esq., in the 34th year of his age. Mr. Fox had not long been a resident among us, but by his many amiable and noble traits of character he had endeared himself to all with whom he was thrown in association. His place among us will be deeply felt.

Mr. Fox was born in Mecklenburg county, and after receiving his license to practice law, removed to Georgia to pursue his profession and strengthen his failing health.

Before the war, he had returned to Charlotte, and was among the first to answer the Governor's call for troops. He remained in camp until his utterly shattered constitution impetively demanded his discharge which was freely granted.

In August, 1864, he married the amiable and accomplished Mrs. Benbury, and entertained every hope of enjoying with his bride a long and pleasant life, but alas! when hope is highest how quickly are all our pleasant dreams dispelled. He had, however, early put his last thoughts, and we have every reason to believe that he lives in the communion of the spirits of just men made perfect.
