CALL TO DEMOCRATS.

Chairman Jones has issued an address to the Democrats of the country, the result of conferences which have been going on among the leaders of the several national parties for the past week, in which he makes an appeal for silver. The address is couched in apparently fervent patriotic phraseology, and Mr. Jones is no doubt earnest in his intention to bring about a reform of, or a change in the financial condition of the country. The consorting, however, with the Populist party and the silver Republicans, it appears to us, will throw a damper on the movement. This will be especially true in the South. There has been little in common heretofore with these parties and can hardly ever be.

The SUN will be glad to see the success of the Democratic party, but it not readily favors such a coalition. In fact what we would like to know is, would in case of success for the white metal under this arrangement be a success for the Democratic party. This is the question. We would like for some on to answer.

WANT A SPECIAL WALL BUILT.

The condition of cotton manufacturing in New England is not at all flattering. It has been evident for the past few years that the South would eventually become the seat of the great cotton manufacturing industry. The cotton mill men of New England are now trying to secure legislation looking to a continued tenure of their business.

The Charlotte News says of it: "The New England cotton mill men, being unable to compete with the Southern cotton manufacturers, are now trying to have a bill passed by Congress making eight hours a day's labor in cotton mills in all parts of the country. These New England mills have had the tariff wall built shutting them out from the competition of the foreign mills. Now they want a special wall built around them to protect them from the competition of the Southern mills. The passage of such a bill would be the grossest injustice. It is hard to conceive that the Congress will be prejudiced enough even to consider such a measure."

The News is right in its pronouncement in case of the passage of such a bill. But there is no telling what Congress will do for these manufacturers. It favored them before, it may do so in the present instance.

In speaking of William Jennings Bryan's proposed amalgamation of silver forces into a new party, Senator Morgan of Alabama says: "I would have the party stand on the principles which are its life. I would invite no amalgamation of parties. If other parties desired to fall in with us and vote for Democratic principles, I would welcome them, but I would have the Democratic party stand for principles irrespective of successes of a temporary character."

Bigamy is not a crime in Iowa at present. When the State's code of laws was revised the legal experts forgot to put in a section forbidding a man to have more than one wife at a time. The legislature is about to remedy the omission.

Chairman Pickens, of the Indiana State central committee of the National Democratic party has called a meeting of the committee for February 22, stating that the necessity which called the party into existence in 1896 still exists.

The Chattanooga, Tenn., district is one of the main strawberry producing sections of the South, and from present indications it is said the crop this year will be exceedingly heavy.

Pension Commissioner Evans returned $879 to a pensioner in Texas, who had sent the money back after receiving it, believing he was not entitled to it.

The Ohio Republican league held a convention at Columbus which was marked by factional differences, growing out of the recent senatorial contest.

Hannis Taylor, former minister to Spain, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination to Congress from the first Alabama district.

The only element of slavery lacking in the New England cotton mills is the sympathy which southerners had for their slaves.

Timely Advice.
Wilmington Review.

We would say to some of our Democratic contemporaries in this State. "You are too slow. Get a move on you and that p. d. q. We have got one of the hardest fights on our hands this year we have ever yet had."

The Landmark says there came near being a panic at the colored graded school of Statesville Monday. The report got abroad among the children that physicians would visit the school to vaccinate them. During the morning a piano tuner, with his kit of tools, entered the school room. He was at once sized up as a doctor who was to do the vaccination act; there was some screaming and an attempt to jump out of the windows, and it was some time before quiet was restored.

Kiss Defined.

Some time ago a London paper offered a prize of 10 guineas for the best definition of a kiss. Among the many clever answers received, the following were the best:

"The best known smack that will calm a storm."
"Nothing divided between two."
"The thunder-clap of the lips that follows the lightning glance of the eyes."

"A report at headquarters."
"When the lips of lovers meet in bliss, This pleasing term is called a kiss."

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Young Sid Grigg Kills Sweetheart and Himself.

Shelby, N. C., Feb. 16.—Yesterday evening about nine miles from this place the saddest tragedy the county has ever known took place.

Sid Grigg, a boy seventeen years old, loved Ella Williams, who was sweet sixteen.

Young Griggs' love was unrequited and Ella refused to run away and marry him.

SHOT HIS SWEETHEART.

Yesterday evening while on her way home from school with her two little brothers, Griggs rose from the side of her path where he was in waiting, and with a pistol shot his sweetheart through the breast.

She fell, fatally wounded. Not satisfied that the wound was fatal he walked to her side and shot her twice while she was lying on the ground dying.

THEN KILLED HIMSELF.

Then he turned the same pistol on himself, put the firearm to his temple and blew off the top of his own head. He died at once. Both the murderer and his victim will be buried today in the same graveyard. Both belong to good families in this county. The tragedy has caused great sadness and sympathy for the families of those involved in the distressing affair.

Governor Taylor's Oratory.
Chicago Times-Herald.

Once in the United States Senate, Governor Taylor might be trusted to make its dry bones to rattle in its capulous envelope. Wit and humor and fancy are his. He strikes the alternate strings of gladness and sorrow. He touches human loves and hatreds with a sure hand. No more subtle fencer has ever proved his right to a place in the grand assault at arms. Those who hear him admire him; those who know him love him. "Gentlemen, the one aim, in the midst of an impassioned address to Northerners and Southerners, 'gentlemen, you read much and are told much of Mason and Dixon's line. That is right. There it is, and there it shall remain—a crimson scar of honor across the brow of our country—the dividing line between cold bread and hot biscuit."

Tennessee may honor him or pass him by. No man may press all of the hidden springs of politics. Petty jealousies, revenges, venality, misunderstandings, misrepresentations, promises of reward, hopes and preferment, cabals, conspiracies, chicanery and honest preferences, all have their places in a Senatorial contest. This one is no exception to the rule. But whatever its outcome, Taylor will still love his State with all the warmth of his ardent nature. "Tennessee," he says, "long, but lean, bathes her feet in the southward rushing waters of the Mississippi and pillows her head upon eastern mountains that are gloomy, grand and beautiful—mountains that a man may stand upon their summit and tickle the feet of the angels."
