ROWAN'S DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Rowan's Democratic ticket named by the convention Saturday is a good one. It is composed of the leading and most influential Democrats in the county.

Hon. Lee S. Overman and Mr. D. R. Julian, who were nominated for the House of Representatives, will add strength to the ticket in Rowan. They will also add a tone to the House in Raleigh. They have both seen service in the Legislature and made a reputation for parliamentary work not only for themselves but for the county. The convention did well in naming these gentlemen for the places.

The convention also did well in nominating Messrs. W. G. Watson for Clerk of the Court, J. M. Monroe for Sheriff, H. N. Woodson for Register of Deeds, J. Samuel McCubbins, Jr., for County Treasurer, Dr. E. Rose Dorsett for Coroner and C. M. Miller for County Surveyor. They have each held the various places for which they were named for a number of terms and have filled them ably and satisfactorily. They will do so again.

The nomination of Mr. Geo. H. Page for cotton weigher after heated voting and against two strong candidates for the place indicates that he is held in high esteem by his fellow Democrats in Rowan. Mr. Page is a young man, is a leading Democrat in Litaker township, from which he hails, is a good farmer and is qualified for the place. He will fill the position well and acceptably.

The nomination of Messrs. J. Frank McCubbins, Sanford Henley and P. D. Linn for county commissioners shows that they stood well in Rowan. They are all three sterling Democrats and eminently fitted for the responsible positions to which they were named. Their nominations and elections will give the county an entire new board of commissioners but they will give good service. They are well known throughout the county.

Now that the ticket has been named every Democrat should go to work, nor hold up until election day, not merely to elect the candidates but with the purpose to give them the largest majority the Democrats of Rowan have ever given them.

The Populists and Republicans may put out a fusion ticket. They have little or no hope but have called a convention and are marshalling their forces.

Democrats then should be on the alert to carry Rowan to a great victory.

The Asheville Citizen says it is a matter of profound thankfulness on the part of every patriotic North Carolinian to note the unmistakable signs all over the State, even thus early in the canvass, that the intelligence, the moral worth, the property owners—in other words, the white people and Democrats—will carry this State at the November election. This is highly gratifying to a large class from a purely political standpoint, but there are thousands who look upon the reclamation of the State from the crowd now in control as infinitely more important than the success of any political party. Bad as the known record of those at present administering affairs in North Carolina, it is possible that the full lengths of their rascality, the uttermost depths of their crimes and the last measure of their infamous rule will never be known until they are driven from power and the light of honest inspection is turned in on their deeds for the last four years.

—One of our exchanges says that some 25,000 Democrats in North Carolina failed to vote in the last election. It is to be hoped that in the coming campaign every man advocating good government in the State will feel it his duty to cast his vote for the right men to give it to us. It is far too important for any man to hold back and let his neighbor do his work for him. And it is not only the duty of each citizen to cast his own vote for the right men, but to use his voice and time in seeing that his neighbor does likewise.

—Captain Young, commander of the Utah artillery, who distinguished himself in the land battle at Manila, is a grandson of Brigham Young, the famous Mormon. He is a graduate of West Point, but of late years has been practicing law at Salt Lake City.

—In 1880 we imported $71,266,699 worth of manufactures of iron and steel, and exported $14,716,524 worth. In the fiscal year 1897-98, we imported $12,615,913 worth and exported $70,367,527 worth. But our manufacturers still need "protection" from foreign competition.

—The public will appreciate the sensitiveness of the man who wrote that he was not officially connected with the North Carolina Penitentiary; that he was merely confined there.—Wilmington Star.

—As flag raisers the Southern boys are in it. It was a Southern boy who raised the first American flag in Cuba, and Lieut. Brumby, another Southern boy, raised the flag over Manila.

—Admiral Cervera says he wants to come back to this country to study it and learn what makes Americans so mighty in war and so generous and hospitable after war.

The Last Movement in Cabarrus.

Mr. J. E. Moose and family visited his father's parents in Cabarrus county recently. He reported that Cabarrus will return to the Democratic fold. In one neighborhood he found six former Populists who have been strong in that faith but who will vote with the Democrats this year. They all say that their reason for deserting the party was because they needed reforms in the government of the county and State. They now see how great a failure has been made by the so-called reformers, and they are willing to return.—Stanly Enterprise.

Florida's Natural Wells.

The natural wells in the western part of Alachua county are a great curiosity. They are of various depths and dimensions. Some of them are dry, while others are bottomless, reaching down to subterranean streams whose sources and outlets are unknown. Some of the wells are not more than six to twelve inches in diameter, while others are large enough to be driven into by a team of horses. They drain a large acreage of some of the finest land in Florida. From all appearances it is evident that they have existed from the earliest times.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

Dr. G. Q. Colton, a famous American dentist, who died in Rotterdam the other day had pulled more than a million teeth. He was a writer of some note and was wealthy. He was the first dentist to use "laughing gas", in practice.
