There may be a well-founded prejudice against specifics of a certain kind, but do not let the fault of harmful nostrums be visited upon such a superb preparation as this. Give it a trial and you will find that it is not only positively harmless, but a thorough health promoter. Mme. Ruppert's preparations are all guaranteed to be beneficial, and have proven so in thousands of well attested cases. James Roebuck, a young unmarried man from near Everett's, was killed in the planing mills at Parmele Saturday evening. He was putting a large belt on the drive wheel under the planing department, when he was caught by the belt and mangled to death before the machinery could be stopped. One arm was torn off and thrown some distance and one leg was also torn off. The belt had to be cut to get his body out, and he breathed one time afterwards.—Greenville Weekly.

While boring a well Thursday afternoon on the farm of E. B. Borden, near this city, the workmen were delighted to find the water gushing forth from the pipe and spouting in a bold stream five feet above the ground. This is the first artesian well ever bored in this section, and many of our citizens have decided to try their luck in boring deep wells.—Goldsboro Headlight.

"Dear Harry," wrote his chum who was in camp at Key West, "I have had only one letter from my girl since I came down here. Are you looking after her, as you promised?"

"Dear Jerry," wrote his friend in response, "I am—six evenings in the week."—Chicago Tribune.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D., "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at T. F. Klutz & Co's drug store. Regular size 50c. and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.
