BOUNDARY LINES OF VOTING PRECINCTS.

The SUN desires to call especial attention to the notice of the boundary lines of the voting precincts in Salisbury township which has appeared in this paper for several days. There are more or less changes made in the boundary lines from the former lines. It is important then for the citizens to become familiar with the boundaries. Unless they do there is likely to be confusion and dissatisfaction on election day. Each voter should study the new boundary lines, find for a certainty in which voting precinct he resides so as to be able to vote and to avoid controversy.

The notice will appear in the SUN for some time, there will therefore be no excuse for not knowing the boundary lines nor in what voting precinct each one must vote. It will be observed that the greatest change, perhaps, is in the East ward voting precinct. The voters in that precinct should look carefully over the line and get fully acquainted with its boundary.

Too much emphasis can hardly be placed upon the fact that it is necessary for the voters to know the boundary lines well. They must know the lines if they would be able to vote.

The change, however, will only effect a part of the citizens of the town, those living near the former boundaries. We desire, though, to call the attention of all to the change so that no mistake will possibly be made.

—The Spanish soldiers are better off as captives in the United States than they were as free men in Santiago. They are treated kindly and fed well. Besides, they can sell every button on their coats at $5 apiece and can get $25 for any sort of old Spanish hat.

—According to the Iron age the exports of the United States in the year ended June 30, 1898, including agricultural products, exceeded the exports of Great Britain in the same period by about $80,000,000. The outflow of grain in the twelve months was extraordinary and broke the record. It is the first time that British exports have been exceeded. In the last ten years British exports have averaged an excess over ours of some $70,000,000. The United States is evidently distancing all competitors in the extent of its material resources.

—Says the Wilmington Star: We cannot relieve our State of the blight of Russell, but we can elect a Legislature which will protect her, tie Russell's hands, make him powerless and a cipher for mischief. Four years of Russell is pretty rough, but with a Democratic Legislature we can stand Russell for two years more, for then it will be simply Russell without Russellism which for the past two years has given North Carolina such an unenviable notoriety.

—The Naval Board of Construction have agreed to recommend that contracts for the construction of three battleships authorized at the last session of Congress be awarded one each to the Cramps of Philadelphia, the Union Iron Works of San Francisco, and the Newport News Company. Speed requirements will exceed 18 knots, and plans have been drawn up for what the construction bureau believes will be an ideal fighting ship.

—The close of the war has brought the country to the question of reducing the army of 250,000 to a peace footing. At Washington the opinion prevails that the force will be gradually reduced to 100,000—the cavalry and artillery to go first, to be followed by a large number of infantry.

—Admiral Walker is confident that the Nicaragua canal commission will be able to report to Congress at its next session. The Admiral regards the canal project as practicable and worthy of execution.

—The Anglo-American League presented to Col. John Hay, retiring American ambassador, at London, an address expressing British friendship for the people of the United States.

—Officers of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union have sent a letter to Miss Nancy Leiter asking her to christen the battle ship Illinois with pure water instead of champagne.

—Foreseeing the failure of the Czar's peace proposals, Russian politicians and newspaper men are representing that an immediate conference was never contemplated.

—The editor of the Lemon Springs (Moore county) Hustler, a hitherto Populist paper announces that he will vote the Democratic ticket this year.

Andree, the Arctic balloonist, has been found again, but the trouble with Andree is that he will not stay found.

One Minute Cough Cure surprises people by its quick cures and children may take it in large quantities without the least danger. It has won for itself the best reputation of any preparation used today for colds, croup, tickling in the throat or obstinate coughs. James Plummer.

When you call for DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve the great pile cure, don't accept anything else. Don't be talked into accepting a substitute, for piles, for sores, for burns. James Plummer.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Telegraphic News Condensed for the Convenience of Hasty Readers.

Aguinaldo is reported to have left Hong Kong to confer with President McKinley.

The old Fitzhugh estate, in Culpepper county, Va., has been sold to a Northern party for $10,000.

Six cases of yellow fever have appeared in Colonel Sargent's regiment of "immunes" at Santiago.

Madrid newspapers state that recent developments in the Cortes foreshadow the downfall of the Sagasta ministry.

The electric light works in Yennena, Switzerland, which supplied light and power to the whole canton, have been burned.

Restrictions imposed upon Spanish vessels have been removed, and they will be permitted to enter and clear from the United States.

The destitution among Cubans in Santiago continues to be appalling, and a new supply depot for free rations is to be erected there.

The National Association of Postoffice Clerks, which has been in session at Detroit, elected officers and decided to meet next year at Memphis, Tenn.

A special to The Evening Post from Richmond, Ky., says General Cassius M. Clay, the sage of White Hall, was granted a divorce yesterday from his girl wife, Dora Richardson Clay, by Judge Scott.

Two brothers who fought side by side at Santiago in Company H. Ninth Massachusetts, died within an hour of each other Thursday at Montauk. There were seven other deaths there that day.

The American schooner John H. Plate, Captain Ives, from New York bound for Brunswick, Ga., is supposed to have been lost in the recent storm. It is reported that parts of a vessel on which that name was painted came ashore on Tybee Island a few days ago.

A terrific cyclone swept over the northern part of Pennsylvania late Tuesday night, killing three men, six horses, fourteen cows, and destroying a number of barns and outbuildings. Orchards were ruined and corn and buckwheat were blown down in the path of the storm, which was about a quarter of a mile in width. The storm lasted about fifteen minutes.

John Boyd, a wealthy farmer, and his daughter, were found dead in bed at Newark, O. They had been strangled to death. A son-in-law of Boyd was found unconscious. The house had been ransacked from top to bottom. Boyd had considerable money loaned out among persons living in the vicinity, and because of this fact some persons there believe the murder was committed by some of Boyd's neighbors.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D.: "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at Theo. F. Kluttz & Co's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

Tough Experience.

Mt. Pleasant comes forward with the news of an attempted suicide of a young man near there, says the Concord Standard. It is thought a disheartened love affair was the cause. The young man attempted it with a grape vine, but fortunately the vine was too long and his body hit the ground. When his father ran to him, the boy told him "to go on away, he was dead." The boy was disappointed in two ways; he was not dead, and his pa didn't go away until he had worn out a section of that grape vine on his lovesick carcass.

It was tough, the vine and the incident.

But Dewey Came Along.

Greensboro Telegram.

There was a long, lean and lank coon with pipe-stem legs bound about with leggings and wearing a blue coat and campaign hat at the depot this morning. Some one asked who he was and a darkey who was posted answered. "He was in de fight at Sineago."

The lank soldier was then questioned and he said: "Yes, I foun' de battle of Sineago, an' I tell you dat was a hot fight. We foun' about three hours an' it 'gin to look lack de Spanions 'gwine drive us out o' town, but 'long 'bout sundown Mr. Jewey he come 'long an' jined us and we jes cleaned 'em up."

Between Friends.

"He said I was a poem," she told her dearest friend gleefully.

"Oh, well," replied her dearest friend, "some people know so little about poetry that they think there's nothing to it but feet."—Chicago Post.
