No arrangements have been made for services at the Lutheran church to-morrow.

There will be the usual services at St. Luke's Episcopal church to-morrow.

There will probably be no services at the First Presbyterian church as Dr. Rumpke is absent, attending Presbytery. He may send some one down to-night to conduct services, so that the worship at that church will listen for the bell.

There will be the usual services of the Methodist church at the morning and evening services at the usual o'clock.

Mr. Moore, superintendent of the Thompson orphanage, will preach at the Baptist church to-morrow.

The Concord telephone people are working on the line from their town to China Grove, and will have it completed Tuesday night. So Salisbury and Concord will be connected by the second phone line next week.

Mont Amena Female Seminary opened September the 6th with a most encouraging enrollment. The total number of students is eighty-four, representing the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. The majority of these are boarding students.

Rev. Geo. H. Cox, president of the Board of Trustees, delivered the opening address. The senior class numbers eleven.

YESTERDAY AT ELM GROVE.

Mr. Graham Spoke a Small but Attentive Audience.

Mr. W. A. Graham, of Lincoln county, spoke at Elm Grove, near here, yesterday.

He addressed a small but attentive audience. A majority of his hearers were Presbyterians, but he heard from all.

He spoke on the same subject as he did Thursday afternoon, when he took up national politics, handling it very well.

Elm Grove neighborhood has a strong Populist contingent, there being only two or three Democrats living anywhere near.

Those at the speaking yesterday seemed desirous to learn the truth, and the conditions now prevailing in the State.

Mr. Graham's speech was a great deal better than the one he made at the same place on Thursday.

County Clerk, Mr. J. M. Foster, will accompany him on his tax collecting trip, which will start first of October. It is likely that the candidates for county clerk will accompany him as in former years.

A Wedding.

New Citizens.

Strawberries.

Rev. C. Plyler has ripe strawberries, not many but enough to show that strawberries will ripen in September. It is something unusual to see ripe berries in this part of the country so late in the season.

At the University.

J. A. Caldwell, of Salisbury, has been elected one of the editors of the Tar Heel.

Warren Klutz is manager of the foot ball team. He has gone to Charlottesville, Va., to make arrangements for the annual foot ball game with Virginia on Thanksgiving Day.

Street Repairing.

The condition of Main street is such as to cause comment by a number of people in passing. Several gentlemen were heard discussing the subject this morning. One of them very soberly suggested that a bridge would soon be needed across the gully which runs down the middle of the street in front of the postoffice. The rains of recent months have made there what looks now like a goney-dry branch.

POPULISTS COME OVER.

A Leader Comes Over to the Democrats and Makes a Speech.

Yesterday was a great day in Chatham county. There was a speaking and barbecue at Goldston in that county which was attended by two thousand people.

Hon. Lee S. Overman, of Salisbury, was present and made one of the speeches of the day. When he had finished a leader of the Populist party in the county came forward and made a speech. He stated that in the future he would work with the whites men of the State. He had fought four years in the civil war, but during the remainder of his life he was going to fight for good government, the white man's government, and that he would be found with the Democrats. "He has been the leader of the Populist party in Chatham but in his speech yesterday he renounced the party and became a Democrat."

AFTER A SOLDIER.

He is Wanted in Asheville—An Officer Here.

From the Asheville Citizen we see that Fred Houston, who about eight months ago held the position of yard conductor on the local yards of the Southern at Asheville and who left that city very suddenly under a cloud, has been located. Houston is charged with forging the names of railroad men to checks. As soon as his associates suspect that Houston went to Jacksonville and then to Philadelphia. There he joined the First Pennsylvania regiment, giving his name as James K. Brown. This regiment passed through Asheville yesterday, homeward bound from Camp Poland, Knoxville.

Feast of Rosh Hashanah.

The solemn feast of Rosh Hashanah (new year) 5659 was inaugurated yesterday evening by the Hebrews of the world. This is the last day of the year 5658 A. M., according to ancient Jewish chronology. At 6 o'clock yesterday all Jewish business houses in the city were closed and will not be open for business again until 6 p. m. this evening.

The New Year is a festival of sacred character.

It is called in the Bible the day of the blowing of the shofar (Num. xxix., 1) and of memorial (Lev. xiii., 24). The lesson of the day is that of life's uncertain tenure. Followers of the faith are reminded of the fact that they are one year nearer the inevitable grave. Prominence is, therefore, given to the thought of self-investigation. The books of life are balanced, and the good and evil deeds recalled. Emphasis is laid upon the thought of God as Universal King and Ruler, as the Divine Justice that governs the world.

AFTER A SOLDIER.

He is Wanted in Asheville—An Officer Here.

From the Asheville Citizen we see that Fred Houston, who about eight months ago held the position of yard conductor on the local yards of the Southern at Asheville and who left that city very suddenly under a cloud, has been located. Houston is charged with forging the names of railroad men to checks. As soon as his associates suspect that Houston went to Jacksonville and then to Philadelphia. There he joined the First Pennsylvania regiment, giving his name as James K. Brown. This regiment passed through Asheville yesterday, homeward bound from Camp Poland, Knoxville.

Houston was seen and recognized by Conductor Thomas E. McLean.

As soon as the military train pulled into the station Officer McDonald, W. H. Deaver and a number of railroad men began an effective search for the forger and soldier. When found he said he had been getting along very well since leaving Asheville.

Col. J. L. Good told the officers they could not have Houston, so a telegram was sent to Secretary Alger asking that Houston be given into the custody of the civil authorities at Greensboro. Hoping that the Secretary of War would grant the request, Deputy Sheriff McDonald left on passenger train No. 12 with the intention of following the train. On arriving in Salisbury, however, the officer found that the train was too far ahead, and therefore returned.

Attention Young Men.

There will be a meeting in the Sunday school room of the Methodist church to-morrow evening at 5 o'clock to which all those who were interested in the late Young Men's Christian Association of this city are cordially invited. Other young men are also invited to attend. It will be a social meeting and it is hoped that a large number of the young people will be present.

HAS SAILED FOR PARIS.

Takes There Will Be No Hitch With Spain's Commission—A Defense of the Surgeon General.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE SUN.)

New York, Sept. 17.—The American peace commissioners have boarded the Campania and will sail this afternoon for Paris, France, to meet the commissioners of the Spanish government and to finally settle the terms of peace between the two countries.

When questioned Judge Day, chairman of the commission, said: "I suppose you would like to know exactly what are the conditions of the treaty and what we think about it, together with the impressions in Paris of the Spanish commissioners."

We had a conference with the cabinet before we left Washington and will hold our first meeting aboard the steamer this afternoon. We all understand the wishes of the cabinet and believe there will be practically no change after our conference with the Spanish commissioners.

"We think America's terms will be regarded as reasonable. Therefore we believe the work of the commission will not be impeded by useless discussion."

BUSINESS DULL AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, Sept. 17.—There is practically no business at the White House. The President was driven to St. Matthews church where Cardinal Gibbons said mass for the repose of the soul of the late Empress of Austria. It was a most imposing service and was attended by President McKinley, members of his cabinet and the diplomatic corps. Ambassador Cambon returned to the city especially to be present.

SHIPS GO OUT OF COMMISSION.

Washington, Sept. 17.—The Navy Department is making arrangements for the care of vessels which will go out of commission and be held in reserve at League Island navy yard. One line officer and one engineer officer will be assigned to each vessel the principal of which are the cruisers. Minneapolis, Columbia, Ram Katharin, Dynamite Cruiser Vesuvius, Auxiliary Cruisers Yankee, Dixie, Yosemite, Marine Transports Badger and Panther. Besides the officers there will be a small force of enlisted men.

SURGEON GENERAL'S DEFENSE.

Washington, Sept. 17.—The Surgeon General's office of the army department to-day gave out a statement concerning the responsibility of the medical department of the army which said among other things: "It would require a superhuman power to meet the expectation of many of those who have criticized the surgeon general."

"His responsibility is great, but it is impossible for him to personally administer or supervise the medical administration of the armies in the field. For this reason there were appointed chief surgeon for each military department, each army corps, each division and each brigade. These chiefs are responsible to their commanding generals, and the surgeon general has no authority over them. To hold the surgeon general responsible for the conduct of five hundred or more regimental surgeons, appointed by the Governors of the States, most of them without military experience, is absurd."

"The same is true regarding the six hundred contract doctors employed."
