ENGINEER WALTON KILLED.

In a Head-End Collision on the Western Near Hickory This Morning.

There was a head-end collision four miles this side of Hickory this morning about 2 o'clock in which Engineer T. Y. Walton was killed and several others of the train crew were injured.

Mr. Walton was in charge of a light engine No. 224, going from Spencer to Asheville. On the main line four miles east of Hickory this engine collided with east-bound freight train, No. 74, Engineer John Cline in the cab.

Reports from the scene of the collision are that the two engines and six cars were demolished, Engineer Walton was killed and two brakemen were injured.

The track was blockaded and the east-bound fast train due here at 10:30 this morning was delayed several hours.

Mr. Walton was a popular engineer. He lived at Spencer. Mrs. Walton and Charlie, brother of the deceased, accompanied by Rev. D. P. Tate and Mrs. Gambol and Mrs. Eagle left this morning for Hickory. Mr. Walton's remains will be interred at Morganton, the home of his relatives.

It is learned that Fireman Oscar Moody, of the freight train, was also killed.

Echoes of Yesterday's Election.

"We lost the State" remarked one negro to another at the depot this morning. It was truly a fight of white against black and the whites were victorious.

"I carried Boone township by a majority of 100" is the report Mr. Phillip Sowers, a heretofore Republican, brings from Davidson county to the Democratic headquarters. When such influential men as Mr. Sowers come over to the Democratic, or white man's party, it is no wonder there was a landslide in the State.

It can be truthfully said that the Populists in the county contributed very little towards the Democratic majority, but the Republicans in good numbers voted the Democratic ticket helping to raise the majority to the number of 1450.

Real Circus Ariels.

Flying, with or without wings, has hitherto been deemed impossible to man; but the wonderful and daring male and female European, Asiatic and American aerialists with the combined great Adam Forepaugh-Sells Brothers circuses appear to have artistically solved the problem. At all events, many of their tremendous flights, dives, leaps, evolutions, catches and buoyant movements in mid-air seem far beyond the physical limitations of wingless creatures. Such a sensational and startling exhibition by such a number of great artists is without precedent or parallel.

Rev. W. A. Lutz also passed through this morning on his way to the synod. He will represent the N. C. Synod.

Child Burned to Death.

A little child of Mr. L. M. Holsbouser, who lives near Rockwell, was burned to death yesterday evening. The child was left on the bed while its parents were picking cotton. The bed clothing caught fire and the result was the child was burned to death. The interment was made today at Lower Stone church.
