COURT IN SESSION.

Convened This Morning—Number of Criminal Cases to be Tried.

The November term of Rowan's Superior Court convened this morning, Judge Allen presiding.

The grand jury chosen for the term are:

C. T. Bernhardt, foreman; E. K. James, P. A. D. Peeler, Alexander Parker, R. B. Harris, R. F. Carter, David Beaver, W. A. McCorkle, David M. Bean, John C. Bringle, James R. Rufty, H. W. McNeely, O. T. Rankin, Jonas Lippard, Geo. Whitlock, Crawford A. Miller, J. M. Brown, J. B. Goodnight.

No cases were tried during the morning session which was short, court adjourning at 11 until 2. The fighting case from Gold Hill was called this morning but was postponed until after noon.

The grand jury was hard at work this morning but had not sent up any true bills before court adjourned for the morning.

There is the usual crowd in attendance.

A number of criminal cases are to be tried at this term.

Farewell Sermons.

This is a season of farewell sermons by preachers who are members of the Western North Carolina Conference. Yesterday Dr. Weaver, who comes here this year, preached his farewell sermon in Greensboro. Agent Crutchfield, of the Southern, who was in Greensboro yesterday, says there is general regret among all denominations in the city over Dr. Weaver's departure.

Dr. W. H. Leith, who has been in Morganton for the past four years, was in the city and left this morning for Randleman, where he will serve this year.

Decision To-morrow.

The Supreme Court is expected to file to-morrow its decision in the James case, in which attorneys for the plaintiff asked the court to issue execution direct against the Western North Carolina Railroad and to enjoin it from further proceedings or from interfering with the execution of the judgment.

No Excitement.

The Winston Sentinel, in speaking of the earthquake shock last week says "much excitement was created in Salisbury." This is a mistake. There was no excitement here. The shock lasted less than four seconds and we have not seen any one who was excited.

Musical.

A most enjoyable occasion was that of the meeting of Mrs. Annie Livengood's music class Saturday evening with Miss Alma Whitlock. Each of the performers did themselves credit and the evening was one long to be remembered by them.

CLEARANCE SALE—Cheap felt hats, infant's caps and army hats at cost. Finest line of Millinery in the city. All going very cheap. Small lot of infant's Cashmere cloaks to close.

MRS. J. W. KERR DEAD.

A Good Woman Gone to Her Rest—Funeral Service To-morrow.

Mrs. J. W. Kerr is dead. The sad news was sent out yesterday evening from her home where loving relatives had been ministering to her. She died at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Kerr was forty-four years, three months and twenty-two days old. She was born in Saxes, Coburg, Germany, and when she was only five days old her parents left with her for America. Of the thirty-five children on board the vessel she was the only child that survived the voyage. Her parents located at Raleigh, this State, from which place they removed to Goldsboro where she grew up to womanhood. They afterwards moved to Wilmington. Mrs. Kerr's maiden name was Hennie Prempert.

She was married to Mr. John W. Kerr on the 7th of January, 1878. Shortly after that time Mr. and Mrs. Kerr moved to Salisbury. They have since made their home in this city.

Several children have been the result of the union but only one, Master Rennie, now nearly 11 years old, survives.

Mrs. Kerr was taken sick with typhoid fever seventeen weeks ago yesterday. After seven weeks she began to show signs of improvement. She was then operated upon for a tumor. She stood the operation nicely for three weeks. Then she became partially paralyzed from which time she gradually sank until yesterday evening when death relieved her.

Mrs. Kerr was a most generous lady, giving to all who sought her aid. She counted her friends by the hundreds. She was indeed a loving friend to all who knew her.

Her place in the neighborhood in which she resided can never be filled. She was indeed a remarkable woman, dispensing gifts with a lavish hand.

The funeral service will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from St. Luke's Episcopal church, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Dr. F. J. Murdoch.

The interment will be in Chestnut Hill cemetery.

The SUN loses a kind friend in her death and extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved husband and son.

Over Four Hundred Performances.

WEDDING IN CLEVELAND.

The Thompson-Hall Nuptials on the 23rd—List of Presents.

Married, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. E. Hall on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, Miss Sallie Wells Hall to Mr. W. Frank Thompson, both of Cleveland, the Rev. J. A. Ramsay, of Hickory, officiating.

The wedding march (by Chopin) was played by Miss Murphy, of Tomohan, N. C.

During the ceremony, which was rendered in an impressive manner, a soft tone of music on the piano was being played. After the ceremony the parties repaired to the dining rooms where was spread a supper that would take the eye of anyone. Miss Hall is one of Cleveland's charming belles and was held in high esteem by all who knew her. Mr. Thompson is one of Cleveland's popular young men, having been raised in Cleveland, and has a host of friends who wish him and his lady a long and pleasant life, and Sambo joins in congratulations. There were a number of presents, all very useful and some very valuable.

The following are the presents: Picture, by Mr. W. A. Goodman; wedgewood vase, Miss Gertrude Hall; hand painted plate, Miss May Wood; rocking chair, Mrs. J. W. Hall; wedgewood picture, Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Hall; pair towels, Mrs. Caudle; spread, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lyerly; vase, Miss Fannie McNeely; water pitcher, Miss Carrie Thompson; vase, Miss Catherine McNeely; tea spoons, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Hall; two silver salt cellars, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Johnson; after dinner coffee spoons, J. E. Alexander, of Baird, Texas, check by Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Hall, of Pittsfield, Illinois; box of flowers, by Mr. Ike A. Lyerly, of Ennis, Texas; cream ladle, Geo. W. Hall; picture, Miss Gussie Knox; wash stand set, Mrs. Alice Graham; music rack and table, by Mrs. H. H. and Miss Mary McNeely; China pitcher, Rev. S. S. Bust; China plate, Rev. B. B. Owens; Dumas' works, Jerry Heaspass, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; sugar spoon, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown, of Asheville; pickle castor, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Brown; butter knife, G. L. Baker; berry dish, A. S. Heilig; two salt and two pepper boxes, cut glass and sterling silver, by Miss Murphy; silk umbrella, by H. H. Hargraves and sister, of Carlotte; money, by Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Goodman; table napkins, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hall; towels, Miss Emma Graham; pudding dish, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Rosebro; check by sister, Miss Mary Hall; bed room set, by mother.

The couple expect to leave for Asheville in a few days where they will spend Christmas with relatives.

Two Deaths.

Mr. W. C. Boyd, "Billy" Boyd, as he was well known, died Saturday evening at his home in Concord, death being caused by heart trouble. He had been in bed only a couple of days and his death was unexpected. He was a wood workman and was known in Salisbury by a number of people.

Sunday morning Mr. Boyd's mother-in-law, Mrs. Leonard Krieger, died at the home of Mr. Frank Barrier, in Concord. Mrs. Barrier was her daughter. Mrs. Krieger was a widow and lived in Franklin township, this county. She was in Concord visiting her children. The interment, we understand, will be made in Franklin. The body was to have been brought through the country today.
