RAILROAD WORK.

Plans of the Transfer Shed are Here—
More Engine Pits.

Mr. E. A. Wilson, contractor, of this city, has the contract to build ten new engine pits at the Southern's Spencer shops.

Mr. Wilson also has the contract to build a new depot at Hay Market, Va.

The plans for the large transfer shed to be built here soon, as mentioned in the SUN recently, are now in the hands of a contractor in Salisbury for a bid. Work on the shed will probably commence in the near future. The contract has not yet been awarded.

The City Cigar Company.

The city cigar company will open a business in the room recently occupied by Mr. H. C. Trott, as a saloon, on Inness street, next door below the Climax barber shop. The room is now being remodelled and repaired for the company. Cigars and fruits will be handled. Mr. J. R. Harris, of Person county, will manage the store.

Genuine Smallpox.

A gentleman who came down the Western this morning tells us that the case of smallpox several miles out from Marion is genuine. The victim is a man who has just returned from San Francisco. Since he arrived at his old home he has met many friends and it is feared that there will be a spread of the disease.

The Covered Bridge.

Complaints are made every now and then by citizens living beyond the covered bridge of the condition of that bridge. It is the wish of all, we believe, that it be torn away and one put up similar to the other bridges over the main line of the Southern near it.

DELIGHTFUL SOCIABLE.

Last Night at Mr. Rendleman's—
Those Present.

Another of those delightful sociables for which Salisbury is noted was that given at the home of Mr. J. A. Rendleman last night by Miss Alice Rendleman.

From 8 to 12 mirth and laughter held sway. The parlor was decorated with holly and mistle-toe. The sitting room was draped in red. After some time had been spent in social intercourse the guests were invited out to the dining room. The dining room was draped in blue. After the refreshments were served the guests returned to the parlor. In spite of the efforts to retain him, Father Time sped swiftly on and all too soon the time came to say good bye.

The following were present: Misses Myrtle Scarborough, Kate McCanness, Bell Rendleman, Alice Rendleman, Edna McCubbins, Mabel Hall, Cora Smoot, Helen Davis, Miriam Davis, Beulah Haden, Sadie Klutz, Mary Ramsay, Nellie Vanderford, Lillian Kizer, Messrs. J. M. Russell, Rob Haden, Rob Ceit, Haden Holmes, Bruner Stewart, Travers Brown, Sidney Heilig, Clarence McNairy, Will McCanness, Prof. Simon.

Care For Confederate Graves.

Auditor Ayer is in receipt of a letter from the Chief of the Record office, General Marcus A. Wright, requesting the names of the Confederate cemeteries in the State and the number of veterans buried in them.

Auditor Ayer hasn't the information and he desires that those persons who can give the facts desired by the War Record Office, write him at once.

While General Wright did not state his object in requesting the information, it is believed that he is following up President McKinley's utterance at Atlanta, in which he declared that the time had come when the government should care for the graves of the Confederate dead.

The gathering of this information is very likely the beginning of a movement on the part of the administration to carry into effect the President's suggestion.

Double Quickened.

Three men were before Mayor Linn this morning charged with being tramps. Two of them were soldiers, regulars, and one was a farmer boy. The three were given 10 minutes to get out of town and they went down the street at a double-quick pace.

Supposed Horse Thief.

Last night at Mr. Elliott's, at Woodleaf, his family thought they heard a horse thief in the barn. A guard was set and neighbors were called in. When they opened the door they found Mr. Elliott in the barn. It was quite a joke.

The SUN this morning received three names from Camp Columbia, Cuba, to be placed on the subscription list. The Salisbury boys in that camp will be enabled to keep themselves posted on the home affairs.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Young Lady's Awful Fate at High Point Yesterday.

A horrible accident occurred at High Point yesterday shortly after noon, in the railroad yard in front of the Jarrell hotel.

A correspondent of the Charlotte Observer writes of the accident:

Miss Eleanor Stanback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stanback, of Trinity, was struck and instantly killed by the Asheboro train as it was backing in the yard, getting ready to leave on its afternoon trip.

Miss Stanback, in company with two young lady friends, was going towards the waiting room, when a freight train, north-bound, came in sight. The young ladies, at the sight of the freight train stepped to the left. This put Miss Stanback on the Asheboro track. The moving cars were close behind her and many people saw her danger, but the noise of the moving trains prevented her hearing the shouts of alarm. She was struck on the shoulder by a flat car, knocked forward and one of the trucks passed over her head and arm. The other ladies had a narrow escape.

The deceased was a student of Greensboro Female College and has many friends in the State. She is a niece of Mrs. F. A. Woodard, of Wilson. Our community has never had as great a shock, and the sympathy of all goes out to the sorrow-stricken parents.

The young ladies who were with Miss Stanback were badly shocked by the accident.

Superintendent Arendell.

A change has been made in the office of superintendent of the penitentiary. J. M. Mewborne having resigned, the governor has appointed Capt. W. H. Day.

It is understood that the new superintendent will give Mr. F. B. Arendell, formerly of Salisbury, a place. In speaking of this the Raleigh Post says:

Capt. Day stated that he would tender the next appointment to Mr. F. B. Arendell, of this city. It is understood that Capt. Day will appoint Mr. Arendell superintendent and warden of the central prison in this city. Capt. Day's determination to select Mr. Arendell was all unknown to that gentleman, and of course a great surprise to him. The fact that he was thus selected is a tribute to his ability and fitness to manage such a large institution. Certainly Captain Day could make no better selection if he should search the State.

Mr. J. B. Kerns was named as executor.

Mrs. Verble's dowry of personal property was not willid.

Interesting News Condensed from the Lincoln Journal: The increase in business of Lincolnton post-office has been so large during the past year as to place it in the list of "presidential" offices, and on Saturday last Postmaster F. A. Barkley received his commission. His salary is now $1,000 per year, with an increase allowance for clerk hire.

News was received here Monday night that a grown daughter of Mr. Reuben East, living near Walnut Cove, had committed suicide that day by taking poison. Four children were playing around a fire in the yard at the home of Mrs. Jenkins, at the water works, popping firecrackers and shooting a toy cannon, says the Greensboro Telegram. They were in a small play house, and in attempting to throw a lighted firecracker through the door, it struck the post and fell into a box of powder, which exploded, badly burning three of the children.

Fayetteville Observer: A Fayettevilleian has a queer clock in his room. It is a family heirloom and has for eight years remained on his mantelpiece without running. Last night at 11 o'clock he was startled by hearing the clock strike eleven times, and on examination, found the clock running regularly. No cause can be assigned for its strange caper.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock Monday night, there was a terrible explosion in Henderson, which shook every house in the town, the jar breaking many lights in adjacent buildings. The wrecked house was a small brick building, containing three rooms in the rear of stores occupied by Beacom Bros., and R. L. Teiser, used by them as warerooms. The cause of the explosion seems a mystery, opinion being divided. In the room occupied by Teiser was a keg of powder. This is what caused the damage.

The second annual session of county supervisors of public schools was held at the capitol in Raleigh Tuesday night. C. H. Mebane, State Superintendent, delivered an address. He said that during the present year there had been changes of 19 supervisors, one of these having been removed for unfaithfulness to duty. The Superintendent said he was laboring to secure separation of public schools from politics, carrying out the idea of the late Calvin H. Wiley. He also urged separation of public schools from church schools. He paid very high tribute to the press of North Carolina as doing grand work for public schools.
