LEE LAST NIGHT.

Another Large Audience—A Good Performance—Last Exhibition.

Lee and his company of hypnotists gave their fourth exhibition at the opera house last night to another large audience. The programme consisted of new features and the audience was highly entertained throughout the evening. The special scenes were the sleigh ride in which Mr. Maupin took the part of the gentleman and Fred Rouche imagined himself a fair young damsel. They courted and made love and finally the lady consented to a kiss. The balloon ascension was great; the boys entered the basket and were carried above the clouds, then they soared above Niagara Falls and on over lake Erie. Here the balloon began to descend and the boys, fearing they would be dashed into the water, donned their shoes and coats and plunged into the lake (jumped and fell flat on the stage floor) and swam ashore. In this scene the motion of the legs and arms of the imaginary swimmers were perfect. The printing office scene was really an exact reproduction of daily happenings in this office. The remarks of the supposed typesetter (who is a compositor) were familiar to the members of the craft who were present. His exclamation when dropping his rule: "Tramp printer coming," has been repeated thousands of times in every office in the country, as a printer considers the dropping of his composing rule as a sure sign of the approach of a travelling typo.

Mr. Lee advertised that he would build a human wood pile out of men of our city and last night he fulfilled that promise to the letter. The men were put in a cataleptic state (made as stiff as a corpse) then piled up like a stack of crossties.

This afternoon a matinee was given especially for the benefit of the ladies who wished to go upon the stage and test the experiment of hypnotism.

To-night the engagement of this popular company closes here and they will no doubt have a crowded house. Mr. Lee announced last night that if requested to-night he would repeat any scene which he had given during his engagement here.

For genuine fun these exhibitions can't be surpassed.

"CADDY" CAUBLE HURT.

Jumped From Train at Greensboro—Will Die.

News was current on the street early this morning that "Caddy" Cauble had been run over by a train and killed at Greensboro some time last night. On inquiry it was stated that he was "beating" his way on train No. 38 going north and jumped from the train at Greensboro with the result as above. Some one stated that he was killed instantly. Few particulars of the occurrence could be learned here.

A special to the Greensboro Record shortly after noon to-day asking for information in regard the matter brought the following reply about 2:30 o'clock:

Greensboro, N. C., Jan. 21.—Cauble was riding the blind baggage and jumped from the train here. He fell and the wheels ran over him. His leg was cut badly, arm cut off and jaw smashed; he will die. He is at a boarding house and a doctor is in attendance. RECORD.

EXAMINED YESTERDAY.

The Asylums at Morganton—Found in Good Condition.

Mr. T. H. Barnhill, Representative from Pitt county—and one of the eight committee appointed by the Legislature, three being from the Senate and five from the House, to examine the Asylum and the Blind Institution at Morganton, passed through here to-day returning to Raleigh.

Mr. Barnhill told a SUN reporter that the institutions were examined yesterday and that everything was found in good condition and much improvements were being made.

Mr. Barnhill was a special committee to examine the Blind Institution, but he visited both places.

The committee went to Morganton Thursday. The remainder of the committee, except Mr. McIntyre live in the Western part of the State and hence instead of going back to Raleigh today went home to spend Sunday. Mr. McIntyre went to Asheville.

Hurt in a Runaway.

Mr. Monroe Byrd, a farmer, who lives on the Mount Pleasant public road about four and a half miles from the city was quite badly hurt in a runaway yesterday. He was driving his horse near his home when it became frightened and ran. Mr. Byrd was thrown from his vehicle striking on his face and cutting a painful gash in his temple. He was unconscious for several hours.

Dr. J. W. Long was sent for and sewed up his wound. We trust Mr. Byrd was not seriously injured.

TWO CATASTROPHES.

A Boiler Explosion and the Collapse of a Mill Floor.

The following news was received yesterday from a friend now at Conover:

EDITORS SUN:
Let me give you a few words of our bad luck that happened at and near Conover. This morning the boiler of Messrs. Pestwood & Co., near here blew up and strewed some of the casting about 400 yards, but did not hurt any one, and there were six men standing near when it bursted. The damage is not known.

This evening about 4 o'clock the mill house floor of the Farmers Milling Co., of which I am miller gave way with 25,000lbs. of flour and 30 bushels of wheat and a ton of bran went down through the floor and Mr. W. J. Honsucker and J. H. Bowman and myself landed in the basement. All were lucky but myself and I have a mashed leg and foot after my ride of 10 feet with several hundred pounds of flour on top of me. We guess the damage will be $75 or $90. The first we saw of our engineer he was going out the door on his hands and knees thinking the whole house was falling.

New Railroad Proposed.

From the Charlotte News we note that the citizens of Charlotte are agitating a new railroad, to have the Norfolk and Western extended from Winston to that city.

The News says: "It is a well known fact that when the old Ohio River and Charleston road sold to the S. C. and G. road, it was stipulated in the contract that the road should be extended to Charlotte within a certain specified time, which limit will expire within the next five or six years, so at the end of this time if this road has not built into Charlotte, the contract will be void."

It adds that in the near future a public meeting will be held to discuss the situation.

The citizens of Salisbury would do well to look after the extension of the road to this place.

Child Burned.

The 11-month-old daughter of Wesley Ketchie, living near Gold Hill, came near being burned to death last week. The little one's clothing caught fire and she was burned from her heels to the back of her neck. Mrs. Ketchie had presence of mind enough to extinguish the blaze before sufficient burns had been received to cause the death of the child.

Mr. Will Haynes, for some time yard conductor at Spencer, and who lived at that place moved his family to Salisbury yesterday. Mr. Haynes has accepted a job at Chattanooga, Tenn., as night yard conductor for the C. S. Railroad and will shortly leave for that place to assume charge of the position.

Notice to Water Consumers.

TO THE CITIZENS OF SALISBURY: I desire to call the attention of the citizens to the fact that the habit of leaving the water spickets open and allowing the water to run all the time so as to prevent the pipes from freezing, is greatly endangering the property of every citizen in town. The pressure in the stand-pipe is so much lessened that in case of fire late at night it would be impossible to get the necessary pressure to control the fire. Besides, with 100 or more spickets open, direct pressure from the pumps will not be sufficient to overcome the trouble. It is earnestly hoped that the citizens will heed this warning, before some disastrous fire occurs and much property destroyed in our town.

Very resp'y,
T. C. LINN, Mayor.

TO CURE A GOLD IN ONE DAY.
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All Druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25 cents.
