Witchcraft and sorcery are generally supposed to be obsolete, nine persons have been arrested at Toronto, Can., charged with being familiar with the black art. The specific charge is that they "unlawfully did practice sorcery, witchcraft and enchantment in attempts to tell fortunes." The act under which the arrest was made is of the reign of George II., and the punishment is fixed at £100 fine and one year's imprisonment. The alleged witches and wizards are phrenologists, palmists, clairvoyants and spiritualists. Only two of them spent the night in the cells, the others being bailed out in sureties of $400 each.

It is said that polygamy is practiced in our new possessions, the Philippine Islands. One of the rulers has a harem similar to the sultan of Turkey. Have we got to take all this in when we annex them and at the same time register a vigorous kick against the seating of Mr. Roberts, of Utah, in congress because he persists in coming to Washington with his three wives?—Winston Journal.

Klondike geese ought to be in demand. One recently received by a New Jersey man from a friend in the Klondike, was found when being prepared for cooking, to have and ounce of gold dust in its gullet.

It has been said that all the mean acts of his life are quickly brought before a drowning man. The same might be said of a candidate for office.

There's not an act of a man's life lies dead behind him, but it is blessing or cursing him every step he takes.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has lame back and weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, headache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents a bottle at Theo. F. Kluttz & Co's drug store.

Punish the Poor, Elevate the Rich. In Wilkesbarre, Pa., recently, a poor woman who had stolen a cheap pair of shoes because she needed them, was compelled to walk around a public square carrying a banner upon which was inscribed "I am a thief." In Harrisburg, Pa., a number of members of the legislature are insisting upon electing a rich man an United States Senator while he is under indictment for embezzling large sums of money belonging to the State. Such is the tendency, punish the poor thief whose necessities compelled her to steal a pair of shoes. Elevate, honor and protect the rich thief who steals large sums of money from the State.—Raleigh Visitor.

The Unvarnished Truth.
Every man who is loyal to his country and to its people will encourage every enterprise that is beneficial and upbuilding to the county in which he lives, and, it is unquestionable, that the county newspaper does more for the stimulation of home industry than any other factor; therefore, it is every man's duty to subscribe to his county paper and pay for it.—Yadkin Ripple.

And every man who will not do this should be drummed out of the community by a vigilance committee appointed for that specific purpose. It is a deplorable fact, however, that nearly every locality has in its midst people of this kind and many legitimate business enterprises which would have added greatly to the healthy business growth of the communities in which they were located, have been destroyed by the reports of these busy bodies and persistent agitators of public peace and good morals.—Winston Journal.

The Deadly Grip.
Is again abroad in the land. The air you breathe may be full of its fatal germs! Don't neglect the "grip" or you will open the door to pneumonia and consumption and invite death. Its sure signs are chills with fever, headache, dull heavy pains, mucous discharges from the nose, sore throat and never-let-go cough. Don't waste precious time treating this cough with troches, tablets, or poor, cheap syrups. Cure it at once with Dr. King's New Discovery, the infallible remedy for bronchial troubles. It kills the disease germs, heals the lungs and prevents the dreaded after effects from the malady. Price 50 cents and $1. Money back if not cured. A trial bottle free at Theo. F. Kluttz & Co's drug store.
