YOUNG PEOPLE ELOPE.

Miss Hunsucker and Mr. Chambers Visited Fort Mill, S. C.

When the "old folks" object young lovers find a way to marry. Some times, however, young people find a way without ascertaining whether or not the old folks object.

Saturday night Miss Bertha Hunsucker, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. J. W. Hunsucker, left home to spend an hour or two at a neighbor's. Late in the night her father went over to the neighbor's to see why she had not returned and was told that she had not been there. Miss Bertha had gone to the depot with a friend and boarded the southbound fast mail.

Young Mr. Obe Chambers, of the Spencer shop force, also boarded this train, the two going to Fort Mill, S. C., where they were married at 11 o'clock Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers returned to Salisbury yesterday morning to receive the forgiveness of the bride's father and the groom's mother.

The young couple have the best wishes of many friends.

That Jim Crow Order.

Saturday we mentioned that, it was understood that the Southern would, on and after that date, put white people in one car and colored people in another. There was an order to that effect but another order was sent out Saturday that the original way would be continued. That is the first-class car will be first class to white and colored and the second class car will be second class for white and colored.

Pension Board.

The pension advisory board of Rowan met to-day with the county commissioners. The board met recently and considered applications for State pensions. They met to-day with the commissioners to make their report.

Good Young Man Dead.

Mr. Hodge Phifer, of the county, died Sunday morning at 2 o'clock, of that dread disease consumption. He was 22 years of age and a most excellent young man. He was the son of Mr. M. L. Phifer. The interment was made at Third Creek church to-day.

Mrs. Lilly Sick.

Mrs. Joe Lilly is quite sick at Norwood. We understand that her recovery is not expected. She has fever.

A Suggestion.

I would like to remind the City Fathers that many citizens would like for them to consider and discuss at the July meeting the advisability of buying the Chestnut Hill cemetery. It is believed it could be made a source of revenue as well as a credit to Salisbury. Think and advise about this plan. CITIZEN.

A BAD ACCIDENT.

Young Fred Bostian Loses One Or Both Feet in Virginia.

News has been received here by letter that young Fred Bostian has lost one and perhaps both feet. Fred left here some weeks ago for Norfolk, and, we understand, was at the time of the accident, working for a railroad company.

He was coupling cars when he slipped and fell and the wheels passed over his legs. The letter received here stated that Fred would probably lose one foot and one leg. He is in a hospital at Norfolk.

Killed by Train.

A gentleman who came in from the north Saturday night was telling of a man who was killed by the train beyond Raleigh Saturday evening. A Raleigh letter says:

Wesley Booth, a white man, aged 83, who lived near Cary, was struck by a Southern Railway engine this afternoon three miles this side of Cary and instantly killed. He was driving across the track and was under the influence of liquor. He was in a wagon and the latter was made into kindling wood. He had a jug of whiskey and the liquor flew all over the engine and even into Engineer Rippey's face.

Increasing Capacity.

Mr. C. A. Rice, to keep abreast with his increasing trade, is enlarging the building at his lumber yard establishment on Kerr street, near the railroad crossing, by having another room added to his storage room, work now being nearly completed. The building he has been using was of twelve cars capacity. The new room he is erecting has a capacity of eight cars. This will give him a much larger area in which to store his lumber. We are glad to note the improvement Mr. Rice is making.

Children's Day.

Yesterday was Children's Day at Harris chapel, near China Grove, and appropriate exercises were held. There was a very large attendance upon the service and an interesting program was given. A number from Salisbury attended service.

REV. C. A. ROSE DEAD.

He Passed Away Last Night—A Good Man Gone.

Rev. C. A. Rose is dead. This announcement brings sadness to many homes throughout the county and State. For Rev. Mr. Rose was well-known and much loved.

Mr. Rose had been sick at his home, at Zeb, this county, for three weeks but had improved and was thought to be getting along well. On last Wednesday, however, he had a chill and took a relapse. He continued to sink until last night at ten minutes to 12 o'clock when he breathed his last. He suffered with acute Bright's disease and typhoid fever. The deceased was about 42 years of age, and leaves a wife and six children. He was president of the North Carolina Lutheran Synod and also pastor of the Lutheran and Bethel Lutheran churches in this county.

Mr. Rose was one of the Lutheran Church's grandest preachers and will be greatly missed by that denomination.

THE FUNERAL.

The funeral service over the remains of Rev. C. A. Rose, will be conducted from Luther's Chapel, his home church, near China Grove, tomorrow morning at 11:30 o'clock. The body will be taken through the country, the funeral party leaving Zeb at 8 o'clock in the morning. At the request of the family officers of the Synod—Rev. L. E. Busby and Rev. C. B. Miller—will conduct the funeral service. These will be assisted by several other ministerial members of the Synod.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Seventy Delegates in Attendance On Ninth Annual Meeting.

The ninth annual session of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, is meeting in Central church, Concord.

AN ATTEMPTED ASSAULT.

On Saturday night Mrs. Blackwelder's Room in Cabarrus.

Saturday's Concord Standard had the following:

On Wednesday night, the 28th, a crime was committed in our county which will no doubt make a big trial at the coming term of court. It is a case of attempted assault on the wife of Mr. David Blackwelder, of No. 6 township. It is a bad affair and we will only state it in as few words as possible gained from the trial in the court room to-day (Saturday) before Esquires C. A. Pitts and Addison Crowell.

On Wednesday night about 11 o'clock some one entered the room of Mrs. Blackwelder and attempted the crime. Her throat bore demarcations. Her husband was away from home that night. She screamed and called the name of a negro, Chales Barringer, who jumped from the window hurriedly, and the negro responded to the call, as also did a young man, Robt. Goodman who lived near there. The negro who slept in the kitchen is the accused one and was arrested between midnight and daybreak and brought here for trial. The woman testifies that she believes he is the one, but her vision was somewhat obscured. The community succeeded in keeping the matter quiet until they could gain their evidence. The negro, though, worked for Mr. Blackwelder Thursday and Friday.

In default of a $500 bond the negro was confined to jail to await court.

The foot had slipped into the horse's mouth and the heel was hung over the lower teeth, requiring two pulls by Mr. James before the foot could be loosened and the horse allowed to rise.
