Married 81 Years.
Uncle Peter Stansley and Aunt Susan Stansley have lately celebrated the eighty-first anniversary of their marriage at Sandusky, Ohio. They are negroes of Northern birth and both have lived in the immediate vicinity of their present home since 1818, and of their 12 children the four younger ones survive.

Uncle Peter, who is 102 years old, recalls incidents of the War of 1812, and remembers watching from the shores of Sandusky bay the return of Commodore Perry after his victory at Put-in-Bay. Aunt Susan is 94 years old, and is remarkably strong and well considering her extreme age.

Proved Guilty.
"That pretty young postmistress of the village where we spent the summer was a regular flirt."
"You don't say. Then, why didn't you report her to the government?"
"Why, what for?"
"Trifling with the males."
Philadelphia Bulletin.

I have never heard but three defenses of imperialism. The first is the financial argument that there is money in it. The second is the religious argument that God is in it. The third is the political argument that we are in it and can't get out of it.—W. J. Bryan.

Discovered by a Woman.
Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night, and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hannick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at Kluttz & Co's drug store. Regular size 50c. and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

Anyone wishing to learn this course will do well to see me before leaving for some college and paying from 10 to 12 times the amount it will cost here at home. I guarantee to give as thorough a course as you can get anywhere. I furnish all necessary books and individual instruction for $10. Only a half dozen more students can be accommodated. They can begin any time. Students can learn and not interfere with their other business. Teach either boys or girls. See me for liberal inducements to students.

The Office of Admiral.
The office of Admiral was not created for the navy of the United States until the second year of the Civil War. Previously the grade of captain was the highest in the service, although the title of commander had been accorded to commanders of squadrons and naval stations. The grade of rear admiral was created on July 16, 1862; that of vice admiral, on December 21, 1864, and the highest grade of all, that of Admiral, on July 25, 1866. The rank of Admiral in our navy is relatively equivalent to that of General of the army; vice admiral to lieutenant general, and rear admiral to major general. The pay per annum of Admiral is $13,000; the sea pay of vice admiral, $9,000, and of rear admiral, $6,000. The general management and direction of our naval affairs rests entirely with the Secretary of the Navy and his department. The admirals of all grades and other naval officers are subject to his orders, and their duties are purely those of commanders.—Leslie's Weekly.

Diversify! Diversify!! Diversify!!!
The Smithfield Herald says that the farmers of Johnston county are more prosperous than in several years. "Diversification of crops has brought this about in Johnston county," adds the Herald. It is becoming clearer every year that the only hope of better times on the farm lies in diversifying the crops. The day of all cotton or all tobacco has ended with wide-awake farmers. They are planting for big crops of hog and hominy, and means to live at home and board at the same place. That's the road that leads to better conditions.
Plant hog and hominy, sow peas and grow cabbages, raise chickens and turkey and sell eggs—add these and other like things to cotton and tobacco and the farmers will live better.
Diversify—that's the hope of the Southern farmer.—Raleigh News & Observer.

Five Toasts.
A story is told that recently in Los Angeles, Cal., a group of gentlemen of foreign birth chanced to meet. One was a Russian, one a Turk, one a Frenchman, one an American and the other an Englishman. The gentlemen became bosom friends, and finally a champagne supper was proposed, at which each gentleman, to be in keeping with the times, was to give a toast to his native country, the one giving the best toast to be at no expense for the wine. Here are the five toasts.
The Russian—Here's to the stars and bars of Russia that we never pulled down.
The Turk—Here's to the moons of Turkey, whose wings were never clipped.
The Frenchman—Here's to the cock of France, whose feathers were never picked.
The American—Here's to the stars and stripes of the United States of America, never trailed in defeat.
The Englishman—Here's to the rumpin' roarin' lion of Great Britain that tore down the stars and bars of Russia, clipped the wings of Turkey, picked the feathers off the cock of France and ran like hell from the stars and stripes of the United States of America.

The attention of those who are disposed to slur at the patriotism of the South, because its sons have not fallen over each other to enlist for imperialistic service in the Philippines, is respectfully called to the official figures, which show that Georgia furnished more volunteers for the war with Spain, in proportion to population, than any other state in the Union.

Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. Church, South, Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house, to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by James Plummer, Druggist.
