OUR ADVERTISERS.

The SUN desires to call the attention of its readers again to its advertisers. A careful examination of its advertising columns will show you where you can find almost everything necessary for a well kept house. Do you need anything for your larder, then consult the grocery advertisers. Have you any wants in the way of fancy goods, then read what the dry goods merchants say. Are you desirous of purchasing clothes, see the clothing advertisers. Are you needing drugs, consult what the druggists say. Have you a desire to secure stationery, see advertiser. Are you wanting furniture, see the furniture advertisers. Are you in need of shoes, read what the shoe advertisers have to say. Do you want soaps, tooth brushes, candies, cakes, overcoats, hats, caps, umbrellas, rubbers, etc., see the advertisers.

The SUN enjoys a liberal advertising patronage. Its proprietors appreciate the favor and in turn would have every patron read the advertising columns. They have had frequent assurance from the advertisers that benefits have resulted. They desire the advertisements to do all the good they can.

The advertisements in the SUN are eagerly read. They are filled with announcements of many things needed in your home. They inform you where your wants can be supplied without wasting time looking for it. Be sure to read each advertisement.

Christmas will be here soon; you will want holiday goods, you will want to buy your friend a present, you will want a nice outfit, you will want something; the advertisers direct you where to procure them.

Used by British Soldiers in Africa.
Capt. C. G. Dennison is well known all over Africa as commander of the forces that captured the famous rebel Ghalishe. Under date of Nov. 4, 1897, from Vryburg, Bechuanaland, he writes: "Before starting on the last campaign I bought a quantity of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used myself when troubled with bowel complaint, and had given to my men, and in every case it proved most beneficial." For sale by James Plummer, druggist.

—The gross earnings of the railroads of the United States in November were $17,648,678, a gain of 8.2 per cent. on the same month last year, and 18.4 per cent. better than in November, 1892. Taking the leading systems of railroads in the various sections of the country together for comparison, Dun's Review finds the Southern, Central Western and Granger roads making the best showing of gains. The increased iron business of the South is said to have increased largely the earnings of the Southern Railway and the Louisville and Nashville.

Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. Russia's Difficulties.

Although the talk of war between Japan and Russia is pooh-poohed at the capitals of these countries, it is noticed that both powers are getting ready for a conflict as fast as possible, and Russia is trying to borrow money in every market. She is said to have obtained some $14,000,000 in this country for some railroad bonds, and seeks to obtain more by saying she has bought and will buy vast quantities of railway and other material from us. The more we lend her the more she will buy from us. No doubt, but there is a question how long Russia can continue to pay. The friendly critics assert that the money-lenders of Europe who know her condition best have positively refused to lend her more. For the current year the deficit is estimated at $49,000,000. Last year it was $53,000,000. Yet the current appropriation for military purposes is $25,000,000 more than last year, and the famine continues over a wide area.—Baltimore Sun.
