Robert B. Vance.
Cherokee Scout.

General Robert B. Vance has gone to join his Revolutionary fathers and Confederate comrades and all the loved ones who have gone before. Farewell kind, brave brother; farewell on earth forever! We can meet your kind, cheerful face here no more; we can grasp your brotherly hand no more. Farewell brave comrade, soldier's leader, we can follow you into battle no more forever! But soon we will follow you to sleep in Carolina clay with our Revolutionary fathers and late comrades until the resurrection day, when the tactian sound calls all the sleeping hosts of the Carolinians to march to the great, grand parade on high in that beautiful unknown, peaceful clime to be reviewed by the great I Am.

In beautiful Riverside Bob and Zeb, sons of Buncombe's pride, peacefully sleep side by side. Here rests two of Buncombe's bravest and best sons, loving brothers, whose earthly work so well was done. The grand old lofty peaks of Buncombe will raise their heads into the sky to watch over their undisturbed remains, where they peacefully lie. Farewell, General Robert B. Vance, farewell on earth forever! True Christian, brave soldier, honest, wise statesman, kind, loving husband and father, noble, true friend. Grand old Buncombe, my native land, mourns your irreparable loss. Your active earthly work is done and well done, but, thank God, your rest and happiness is just begun.

How Little Emma Prepared for Santa Claus.

This is the season of the year when Santa Claus pays all little boys and girls a visit. And their mammas tell them that if they have been good and obedient Old Santa will bring them candy, dolls, little toy wagons and the like. Most children believe this and they should for Santa never fails to visit each little girl and each little boy who have gotten out of their naughty ways.

We happened to get hold of this story which actually happened not very far from here. The sweetest little seven-year-old girl that I ever saw whom I shall call Emma had heard her good mother tell nice stories about Santa's visits, how laden with all kinds of toys and candies, late in the night he would climb the walls of the buildings, descend the chimneys that he might leave good children something beautiful for Xmas. Santa, she knew, was a very old man, but that he dearly loved every child in the land. And Emma had after wished she could see him. But Santa, you know, never lets children get sight of him. Nor had little Emma forgotten the nice presents Santa had brought her the Xmas before. And all during the year she had tried to be as sweet and as good as she could be. And so she looked forward to this Xmas morning as a happy one.

Her mamma has told her that Santa preferred to put his gifts in stockings hanging by the fire-side. But she said to her mamma: "Spouse he'd bring me a big doll, how could he get it in my stockin'?" Of course this was explained.

However, little Emma had concluded that her own stockings were too small for this occasion, so she decided to appropriate something else. Late in the evening before Xmas Emma stole into her bed room and after a fruitless search for something larger pulled the pillows from its case which she substituted for her stocking. This she hung upon a chair by her bed. Upon a large piece of cardboard fastened to the same chair she had almost illegibly scratched this: "Santa my stockings is hangin' on de close line so des put my crismas in here." L. W. Chamberlain's Pain Balm Cured Others. Why Not You?

My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. One day we saw an advertisement of this medicine and thought of trying it, which we did with the best of satisfaction. She has used only one bottle and her shoulder is almost well.—Adolph L. Used by British Soldiers in Africa. Capt. C. G. Dennison is well known all over Africa as commander of the forces that captured the famous rebel Galishe. Under date of Nov. 4, 1897, from Vryburg, Bochuannaland, he writes: "Before starting on the last campaign I bought a quantity of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used myself when troubled with bowel complaint, and had given to my men, and in every case it proved most beneficial."
