A GREAT SPEECH. LIGHTS DISCUSSED. SEE PRESIDENT. AN OPERATION. $50,000 REWARD. ARMED SUPPORT. PLANS OF RELIEF.

MR. KLUTZ'S REPLY TO MR. LINNEY.

A Patriotic Speech that Won Much
Applause—The South Defended
By Our Able Congressman.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Congressman Klutz, in the House to-day, delivered a speech in answer to Linney. Mr. Klutz said: "Mr. Chairman—On yesterday, when the House resolved itself into committee of the whole for consideration of the Indian appropriation bill, my distinguished friend from North Carolina, Mr. Linney, evidently thought that the House had resolved itself into a Court of Appeals for the consideration of the North Carolina election law, or at least into a forum for the manufacture of campaign speeches for home consumption. In replying briefly to his diatribe against the people of the South in general, and the good people of North Carolina in particular, I shall add no word of sectional or personal bitterness to this discussion.

"Would to God, sir, that we could let the dead past bury its dead, and that we could leave the great questions settled by our great war where they were settled by the dread arbitrament of arms. In a conversation, about the close of the Spanish-Cuban war, which I had with the honored chief magistrate of this great republic, a man who, while I differ from his politics, I honor as every able patriot and honest American does, he said to me, sir, that the war was worth all that it had cost, if it had done no more than to obliterate sectionalism and to bring all the people of all sections of this great country into a common understanding with each other once more. It was a noble sentiment, sir, nobly expressed, and worthy the chief citizen of this great republic; and it was a sentiment to which I most ardently responded, a sentiment to which I believe that the thinking people of this country, without regard to politics or to sections, most heartily subscribe.

"And yet, sir, when, as my friend from North Carolina said, foreign soil is drinking up the blood of American heroes, Northern born, Eastern born, Western born and Southern born, thank God alike, Fitz Lee and Joe Wheeler, along with Lawton and Otis and McArthur have demonstrated that Southern people are loyal to the flag of our fathers and that when it is unfurled they are willing to go as far as the farthest in defence of American rights and American liberties (applause). When Worth Bagley, of North Carolina, laid down his life and crimsoned the deck of the ship with his warm life blood, poured out as libation upon the altar of his country's need, and when as volunteers had been called for, battalions have come from the savannas and plains and mountains of the South, and side by side have fought with your boys from East and North and West, in upholding the honor and glory of that flag which, I thank God, waves once more over a re-united country (applause). When these occurrences are taking place I hear a note of discord and it comes, I am sorry to say, from two North Carolina Republicans, in coarse, bass note from the Senate wing of the capitol, and in high treble of mountain region of North Carolina—a discordant note endeavoring to rekindle fires of sectionalism which, thank God, had almost expired, and to re-open again questions which ought to remain settled."

Mr. Klutz was rapturously applauded when he closed.

MEETING OF ALDERMEN
LAST NIGHT.

Petitions Read—Hog Ordinance—Matter Deferred Until Next Meeting—A Counter Hog Ordinance.

The city aldermen met in regular session last night. The question of the electric lights, which is of much importance to the citizens of the city, was the first matter of note considered. Messrs. J. B. White and H. W. Reilly, representatives of the Salisbury Gas and Electric Light Company, were present in the interest of their company.

A report was read from Mr. J. Newman of the light committee. A report was also read from W. B. Ryder, electrician, and who had been employed by the board to test the candle power of the arc and incandescent lights. This showed that the lights were furnished at the required power.

Mr. White stated upon inquiry that a test of the lights may be made at any time. A deduction from the light bill will be made when the lights do not burn. Arrangements will be made to ascertain and keep a record of the number of lights out each night. This subject will be discussed at another meeting.

One or more reports were made from special committees. A petition requesting that the ordinance to abolish hogs from the town be repealed was brought up on its second and last reading. It was read and action deferred until next meeting.

HOG ORDINANCE.
By request of the board we publish the hog ordinance.

Be it ordained that on and after March 1, 1900, it shall be unlawful for any person to keep or feed on his or her premises, any hog or pig within the corporate limits of the city of Salisbury. Any person violating this ordinance shall be fined twenty-five dollars for each hog or pig so kept or fed as aforesaid in said city.

All ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed. This ordinance shall be in force from and after its ratification. Ratified Dec. 7, 1899.

The following counter ordinance was put on its first reading: Be it ordained, That any family living within the limits of the city of Salisbury shall keep not exceeding two hogs. Provided that no hog pen shall be located within less than 100 feet of any well used for domestic purposes or within less than 10 feet of any line or line fence. Any person violating this ordinance shall be fined five dollars.

This ordinance shall be in effect from and after its ratification. C. H. SWINK.
This January 18th, 1900.

Petitions were read from citizens of various parts of the city about changing the location of lights. Laid over until next meeting.

Other petitions were read and noted.

Bills were ordered paid. The board then adjourned.

Washington, Feb. 2.—A Kentucky delegation, consisting of Senator-elect Blackburn, Representatives Rhea, Smith, Allen, Gilber, and Ex-Representative Shempe called on the President to protest against any federal interference in that State.

The Kentuckians said that federal interference would be sure to result in some trouble, as the first movement of the troops would cause an uprising not easily quelled.

Blackburn when he left the President said the interview was satisfactory.

BRITISH TO ATTEMPT AID FOR LADYSMITH.

Boers and British Throwing Shells—Great Fire Raging Along the Veldt.

[SPECIAL TO DAILY SUN.]
London, Feb. 2.—There is every indication of a wholly new movement on a big scale in progress for the relief of Ladysmith. The War Office jealously guards the secret, but the noticeable activity there day and night for the past week confirms this. A hint of big developments leaked out from high official sources.

Military experts agree that the surprise is probably a movement of force to relieve Ladysmith by long detour as far as Colenso under General Kitchener by a strong corps, which organization has been kept a close official secret.

Modder River, Feb. 1.—A great fire has been burning along the veldt since yesterday afternoon. It is two miles in length and extends along the plain between Jacobsdal and Koyjes dam. Some British officers believe it was started at the scene of the movement of some forces who have been summoned eastward. The fire burned all night.

It is believed that under the cover of smoke some recent reinforcements that have arrived at Magersfontein marched in the direction of Barkly West and Komdoddsberg districts.

The British long range artillery left in the front threw shells in the direction of the Boer position.

The Boers were shelled by the British from the west for half an hour in the forenoon, probably to cover the movement referred to. Their shells hit nobody. Boer losses, if any, are unknown. The British troops here are eager for the aggressive movement to begin.

London, Feb. 2.—The Times publishes in a special despatch from Sterkstroom stating that the Boer emissaries are distributing leaflets and working throughout Basutoland to incite the tribe to rise against the British. One inducement held out to the Basutos to revolt is the promise to restore their territory to them.
