VOL. VII.

SALISBURY, N. C., MONDAY EVENING, MARCH 19, 1900.

NO. 16.

ADMIRAL DEWEY HERE.

A Pronounced Characteristic of the Admiral Demonstrated.

Admiral George Dewey, accompanied by Mrs. Dewey and party, was here a few minutes this morning on his way to Savannah. The party travelled on a special train, composed of two cars which passed here about 9:40.

When the train pulled up the Admiral was seated in the rear of the second car and he remained seated, despite the many calls for "Dewey" until he spied a kodak. Then he came out on the platform and said "howdy," and showed his human nature by speaking of the weather. "This is 'Dewey' weather," remarked some wag under an umbrella, and the Admiral laughed at the pun.

In the meantime "Chix," the penny photographer was endeavoring to get a picture of the Manila hero. "You taking my picture? well, wait till I get my hat," and the Admiral re-appeared in a moment with his silk hat on. "You want me to look at it (the camera); I'll just look pleasant, eh?" and the Admiral looked as pleased as any of the hundreds of children who have recently had pictures taken by Chix.

A lady admirer had a pretty carnation passed through the crowd to Dewey. This gave him a chance to show one of his peculiar characteristics. "Thanks, I'll give this to my wife," and he handed it to Mrs. Dewey. Another carnation was sent up by the same lady. "I want the Admiral to have this one," said the lady. "Thanks," said the Admiral, as the flower was handed him, "I'll give this to Mrs. Dewey, too," and it also went the way of the "Dewey home."

"That's right," remarked some fellow. "You give her everything."

Mrs. Dewey came to the door and was introduced by the Admiral. Like her husband she is also not afraid of the "kodak fiend," and was willing to have her picture taken, but this was made impossible by the scarcity of plates on hand.

There were a number of people down to see the Manila hero despite the bad weather and the uncertainty of the hour of his arrival.

Quo Vadis.

A large audience witnessed Aiden Benedict's presentation of Quo Vadis at the opera house Saturday night. The historic play was well presented, each member of the cast being an artist.

The dramatizer had followed the lines of the book well and those who had read Quo Vadis had no difficulty in recognizing each of the scenes.

Mayor's Court.

Two negroes named Smith and Kelly were arrested Saturday night by Officers Torrence and Shaver for an affray. On Smith's person was found a pistol.

A negro Hanes was arrested for beating a woman.

A white man named Alman, from Concord, was run in Saturday for being drunk and down.

Klutz All Right.

It is said there will probably be no opposition to the renomination of Theo. Klutz from the Salisbury district. Why should there be? Klutz is all right. Wish our district had a man like him in Congress.—Winston Sentinel.

K. O. P. SERVICE.

AT M. E. CHURCH.

A LARGE AUDIENCE.

Three Addresses—The Subjects Were the Principles of the K. of P., Friendship, Charity and Benevolence.

The Knights of Pythias as well as many others directed their way to the First Methodist church last night, the exercises being devoted to the interest of that order, and the church was crowded with people, some being turned away from want of room.

Instead of the annual sermon three addresses were made on the three great principles of the Knights of Pythias order, Friendship, Charity and Benevolence.

The Uniform Rank met with the Knights in their castle hall at 7 o'clock and escorted them to the church.

The exercises were begun with a song followed by prayer from Rev. Erwin.

Rev. H. L. Atkins, the pastor, announced Rev. J. T. Erwin who would address the audience upon Friendship. Rev. Erwin defined the word explaining that it was near to love. He spoke for about fifteen minutes and made a splendid impression.

Rev. John Wakefield next delivered an address upon Charity, presenting his subject in a strong manner, and without defining the word. His words were well chosen and the explanation of his theme rendered in language seldom heard such way. He spoke for perhaps fifteen or twenty minutes and made a fine talk.

Rev. H. L. Atkins then made an address upon Benevolence presenting a definition to the word stating that it meant good will. The subject was painted in a beautiful way by the speaker reciting one or more stories where distressed Knights were shown the good will to which his words were directed. He spoke about fifteen minutes delivering an excellent address. The exercises were closed by a prayer from Rev. Wakefield. The doxology and benediction.

The Knights were very much pleased with the exercises and are loud in praise of the addresses.

HUNTING BLIND DAUGHTER.

Who Left Home at Night Without a Known Cause.

Mr. Jim Moore, of Scott's, Iredeell county, ten miles from Statesville, was here last night looking for his daughter who left home between midnight and day yesterday morning.

Mr. Moore has no idea why his daughter left and didn't know where she had gone until he learned at the Statesville depot that she had bought a ticket for Durham. As she had only five dollars her ticket took all her money but seventy-five cents.

The girl's name is Ida; she is eighteen years old and almost totally blind. Thinking she might have missed connection here Mr. Moore made inquiry but learned that she had gone on second 36 yesterday so he proceeded to Durham. Mr. Moore tells us he has eight children and four of them are blind.

MR. GOODMAN GETS PATENT.

Another Improvement in Agricultural Implements.

Mr. Jno. K. Goodman, of Mt. Ulla, this county, has made a new and useful improvement in the way of a combined land roller, stalk chopper and clod crusher, for which a patent has recently been allowed.

The machine is entirely metal, except the frame in which it runs. Mr. Goodman has had one in successful operation on his farm and neighboring ones for twelve months or more and it does its work right.

It is in three sections of hollow cylinders, mounted on a shaft, equipped with steel blades for stalk cutting and clod crushing, and can be run for single or double row cutting, as for corn or cotton stalks; or broad cast for clod crushing, weed cutting, &c., The blades can be readily detached for use a plain land roller.

Mr. Reed's Death.

Speaking of the death of Mr. W. W. Reed's brother, the Concord Standard says:

On Friday night Mr. Joel Reed, one of Concord's oldest citizens, breathed his last. In the forepart of the night he was seized with an attack of asthma, to which he was subject. His heart for some time has been affected, and it was realized by his physician that his heart was very weak. Shortly before 4 o'clock in the morning his heart could not overcome the strain and in a few moments he breathed his last.

He was seventy-five years old and leaves a wife and six children.

Dr. R. A. Shimpock, who was here to-day, tells us of three weddings at Gold Hill yesterday.

Mr. J. W. Rector was married to Miss Margaret Ludwick, Mr. Jenkins officiating.

Mr. Charlie Montgomery and Mrs. Hannah Shaver were married by Rev. Mr. Bradley.

THE REPUBLICANS TO RESIST.

Kentucky Prisoners Have Not Been Given a Hearing—Trouble Still Expected.

[SPECIAL TO DAILY SUN.]

Louisville, Ky., March 19.—Powers, Davis, Hazelship and Culton will not have the examination to-day as promised by Judge Moore. When the prisoners are arranged the prosecution will ask to continue till Thursday on the ground that many witnesses can not be present till then. The members of the organization take an oath pledging their property and lives.

Smallpox Scare at Yale.

[SPECIAL TO DAILY SUN.]

New Haven, Conn., March 19.—Talks with the Yale authorities indicate that the grounds of the smallpox scare is greatly exaggerated. The case of Bailey, of Middleton, is now pronounced measles by Dr. Potter, the attending physician. A case in Wall street is also pronounced measles. President Hadley told the students this morning at the chapel that the community was unduly excited, but he recommended that they be vaccinated. Regular exercises of the university will not be suspended.

Wires Crossed in Peculiar Manner.

[SPECIAL TO DAILY SUN.]

Franklin, Pa., March 19.—The Western Union wires were crossed in an extraordinary manner north of this place Sunday. A lineman sent out to relieve the trouble has handed in the report. He found wires 8, 19 and 21 crossed by a dead calf and removed the trouble. The report was literally true that half of the calf was tangled up in the wires causing them to be crossed while the balance of the calf was on the ground. How the calf got among the wires is a mystery but it is supposed that it was thrown there by a locomotive.

MR. SCOTT LINDSAY'S DEATH.

A Friend Writes to Mr. Will Lindsay From Dawson City.

Mr. T. Henry Deal writes from Dawson City, under date of Feb. 26th to Mr. Will Lindsay concerning the death of Mr. Scott Lindsay.

From the letter we learn that Mr. Lindsay was complaining only for a week or two and was in bed but a few days. He was only considered to be in a dangerous condition for several hours before his death which occurred on February 21st, at 5:15 a. m. Death was caused by pneumonia. Mr. Lindsay had as good attention during his illness as he could possibly have been given anywhere.

Mr. Deal says "He had one of the largest funerals in the city as the whole town loved him. The floral decorations were fine. There were about a hundred ladies present. The A. C. Co. boys had a picture of the casket taken. He was buried in a zinc lined iron box so the body can be removed at any time."

The interment was made on February 25th at 4 p. m.

ON TO PRETORIA

IS ROBERTS' PLAN.

AFFAIRS AT MAFEKING.

Commandant Oliver Retreats—Peace meeting Broken Up—Methume Near Kimberly—Germany's Position

[SPECIAL TO DAILY SUN.]

London, March 19.—Mafeking is not relieved so far as is known here. It is probable that the converging of troops toward Mafeking indicates a much more serious purpose than merely its relief. Judging from Methuen's presence at Warrentown and the capture of the nearby passage vaal, Fourteen Streams, keen observers believe Roberts meditates an advance in force on Pretoria via Rustenburg which might be started at Fourteen Streams or Klerksdorg and would coincide probably with the advance via Bloemfontein and Natal.

London, March 19.—Mafeking still holds out but the city is in desperate plight. Plumers force from the north has reconnoitered within fourteen miles and the Boer force is hurrying out the railroad behind him.

Methuen's force is forty-four miles from Kimberly.

London, March 19.—Scenes of violence continue to mark the meetings held by advocates of peace. It is almost impossible for peace men to hold a meeting in any town in England now.

Many projected meetings have been abandoned upon the advice of the police.

Edinburgh students would have killed a speaker at the city hall meeting but the police rescued him just in time.

Berlin, March 19.—The Foreign office positively declares the statement to be untrue that Germany and the United States will continue peace negotiations with England in regard to South Africa.

The foreign office considers Salisbury's reply to the peace telegram from Kruger and Steyn also as answer to all powers endeavoring to intervene.

London, March 19.—A despatch to the Times from Aliwal north states that Commandant Olivier has retreated towards Koonstad. He commanded that all the food be taken to Rouxville whereupon the inhabitants appealed to Gen. Brabant for assistance which for the moment Brabant is unable to give.

Cape Town, March 19.—Owing to the quarrelsomeness of Col. Schiel, German officer in charge of the Boer artillery, who was wounded and taken prisoner at Elandslaagte, he has been removed from the prisoners camp to a transport.

ADMIRAL DEWEY AND CHIX.

Most of Admiral Dewey's few moments' stop here this morning was taken up in posing for photographs by (Mr. M. B. Davis) "Chix, the Penny Photo Man."

As soon as the Admiral arrived in his private car he was spied by Chix, who let out an unearthly yell "Hurrah for Dewey" and was joined by hundreds of other enthusiastic voices and after repeated calls of Dewey! Dewey!! he came out on the rear platform, where Chix was waiting his chance to shoot. When Mr. Dewey saw him he said "Wait until I get my hat." Stepping inside he re-appeared with his silk hat on and proceeded to pose; Chix made four shots at him, getting some elegant plates. Then the Admiral requested him to "take his wife also," but Chix explained to his sorrow that he had fired the last shot at him. He then stepped to the car and thanked the Admiral for posing and shook hands with him, being the only man in Salisbury who took advantage of the chance to shake hands with America's greatest fighter, Dewey.
