MR. OVERMAN SPEAKS.

THE AUDIENCE ENTHUSIASTIC.

The Amendment Will Not Disfranchise Any White Voter—The Political Issues Discussed by the Speaker.

Hon. Lee S. Overman, of this city, Democratic elector-at-large for North Carolina, spoke in the court house here last night to an attentive audience.

He was introduced by Mr. W. H. Burton in a few choice words.

Mr. Overman began by saying that when he was invited to speak he accepted with pleasure, that he had a message to deliver.

He spoke recently some 360 miles from here. In obedience to the Democratic call he went to Eastern North Carolina, and "I tell you," he said, "the half has not been told. I was greeted," he continued, "with a procession that touched my heart—a lady led the procession and there were numerous banners on which were inscribed 'White Supremacy.'"

An old gentleman came on the stand and presented him with a bouquet of flowers and said, "carry back a message from Bertie county to the western counties and ask them to keep us from disgraceful rule."

You are, he said to the audience, representatives of the greatest people on earth. Our fathers established this government and by the help of God we will rule.

Abraham Lincoln, I honor him, hesitated about freeing the negro. He looked with horror upon the emancipation of the negro.

The 15th amendment to the constitution was passed by the Republican party by fraud, the people of the South having no voice in passing it. The Republicans claimed that it was a necessity. If it was a necessity the State amendment is not only a political necessity but a social necessity.

The Republican party in the eventful days after the war, disfranchised 30,000 white men. The Democratic party never disfranchised a white man.

THE AMENDMENT WILL NOT DISFRANCHISE ANY WHITE MAN.

The Republicans, under carpet-bag and scalawag rule, had the executive, the Legislature, every department of government and rioting, turmoil, shame and disgrace were rife.

In 1876 the Legislature was gained by the Democrats led by Vance. Quiet, peace, honor and prosperity then reigned.

The race question is to be settled. The people are talking about it. It's going to be settled. The people have been worried about it at every recurring election. It will be an old old story until we settle it at the election.

The days of '95 and '96 when the negro again dominated the State were blacker than those after the war.

Here he referred to Jim Young, a negro politician, director of the orphan asylum at Raleigh, and of the terrible riot at Wilmington.

What the Democrats want, he said, is peace and quiet. They say we want to drive out the negro. We will protect him.

Patriotic men in the north are favoring the wiping out of the 15th amendment.

The races, he said, can't live together in peace with equal rights.

Here some fellow said, "you can't prove it."

He did prove it. This is no new question. Our neighbors in the South—South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana have a similar law. A preacher from one of these States told him that since the law was in effect the negro was a better laborer. Of the Mississippi law the supreme court had decided that it was constitutional. In Virginia the people would soon have a qualification amendment.

Senator Pritchard who had made the statement that the amendment was unconstitutional was unmercifully walloped. He then named some of those leading lawyers of the country who said it was constitutional.

He mentioned that every little revenue officer, marshal and Republican cross-road politician said it was unconstitutional and scouted the idea of their setting their opinion before these noted men.

Senator Cullom, he stated, said qualification was intelligence and inheritance.

The negroes are not allowed to vote in Hawaii but they must vote in the United States. Mr. Pritchard was mentioned in this.

A citizen can not be denied his vote on account of class.

Every white man who can vote now and who will have his name registered—and a book will be kept for that purpose—will be forever eligible to vote. After 1908 voters coming of age will be required to read and write, and this was the crowning virtue of the act. It will cause parents and children to take an interest in education.

Mr. Overman spoke for about an hour a half and awakened much enthusiasm as was exhibited by frequent cheering.

CHILDREN TO HONOR AYCOCK.

Prof Coon Asks the School Children to Turn Out.

As Hon. Chas. B. Aycock will speak in this city next Monday and as he is the only candidate for governor who has ever taken so bold a stand for the school children of the State, therefore it will be a fitting tribute to him that the school children of Salisbury honor him by their presence at the speaking Monday. I therefore, ask the teachers and school children of the city to meet at the white graded school building at 9 o'clock Monday to take part in the demonstration in honor of the speaker named above. I would further ask all the children of the city, whether graded school children or not, to meet with us and take part in the exercises.

I hope that all the teachers and children will do what they can to aid us in making a favorable appearance on this occasion.

REPUBLICAN NOMINES.

BOTH NAMED BY ACCLAMATION.

Foraker Made Nominating Speech and Roosevelt and Others Seconded It—The Convention Wild With Enthusiasm—Western Man Nominated Roosevelt.

[SPECIAL TO DAILY SUN.]

Philadelphia, June 21.—The convention hall is filling rapidly. Roosevelt is non-committal this morning. Disavows any interviews quoting him as ready to accept the vice-presidential nomination, but his friends say he will bow to the will of the convention. There was great cheering as Hanna, Depew, Roosevelt and others entered the hall. The Kansas delegation carry a banner claiming it was the first to declare for Roosevelt.

Archbishop Ryan made the opening prayer and the convention was called to order at 10:32.

Editor Young, of the Des Moines Capitol, has been selected to make the speech nominating Roosevelt.

The nomination of President now being in order Senator Foraker was recognized and began his speech re-nominating McKinley, amid great cheering. Foraker finished his speech at 11:15 and the audience went wild for McKinley. Banners were caught up and waved, the bands played and the thousands of delegates and spectators cheered.

The demonstration lasted for fifteen minutes. Then Roosevelt took the platform and the uproar was renewed and lasted five minutes. He said he rose to second the nomination. He was applauded at every word he spoke. Thurston followed and Verks, of Kentucky, also seconded McKinley's nomination. At this point the delegates howled for a vote but Chairman Lodge then recognized Knight, of California, who also seconded the nomination.

McKinley was then renominated by acclamation amid a scene of wild cheering and great demonstration.

ROOSEVELT NOMINATED.

Lodge ordered a call of roll for the nomination of Vice-President. Alabama yielded to Young of Des Moines who withdrew Dolliver's nomination in favor of Roosevelt. Murray, of Massachusetts, withdrew Long's name and seconded Roosevelt's nomination.

Roosevelt was nominated by acclamation.
