Last night some one entered rs. J. B. Bost's house, near the eight depot. Entrance was ef- cted through a kitchen window of the thief helped himself to ings in that part of the house, king a number of articles. It is ought he was frightened away nen Mrs. Bost heard a noise and ent to the front door to investi- te. This was between three and ur o'clock this morning. An attempt was made to enter rs. Lewis' house, nearby, but the ief was evidently frightened av while trying to enter a rear	Statesville and Salisbury base- ball teams played an "exhibition game" at Statesville yesterday. A new idea in baseball tactics was introduced—one team, apparently striving to make as many runs as possible, the other seeing how low they could stay—the idea be- ing to have as great contrast as possible. The new way was a great success—the score being 35 to 0. Statesville got the 35. It was a case of boys with no team practice, against a nine of salaried ball players, constituting one of the best teams in the State, and besides the Salisbury boys	Newman hospital noticed a quan- tity of smoke which seemed to in- dicate a smouldering fire in the building. Instead of sounding an alarm which would have caused considerable commotion and ex- citement among the patients and others they telephoned Mr. Swink, of the fire department, to come and investigate. Messrs. Capps and Glover rode out and found a flue had become choked which threw the smoke out in the rooms. The trouble was soon remedied and without any alarm. The la-	ized in Salisbury. Messrs. Wil- liams and Beaver, of the firm of Clark, Williams & Beaver, are in- terested in securing names for the new lodge. An Elks lodge was organized in Greensboro the other day and, as one is soon to be organized here, the following from the Greens- boro Telegram will be of interest: The.
