THE U. D. C. IN SESSION.

MEETING AT MRS. T. B. BEALL'S.

Mrs. Henderson Resigns the Presidency—Resignation not Accepted

Gen. Robert E. Lee's birthday was duly observed and recognized by the Daughters of the Confederacy, Chapter No. 78, at their business meeting at the residence of Capt. T. B. Beall, on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 10th. Miss Bessie Henderson represented her mother, Mrs. John S. Henderson, who sent in her resignation as president of the chapter and gave over the gavel to a successor. But the chapter being grateful for all the good work so faithfully done by Mrs. Henderson when she was president of the chapter could not accept the resignation. This chapter of Rowan county is the third ever organized in this State and has ever been forward doing good work for the many causes brought before it. After much friendly talk and pleasant pro and cons, Mrs. Henderson was retained as president of the chapter with thanks and appreciation by all of its members for having organized it and for her continued good work during the past five years.

It was motioned then that all of the faithful and tried officers be re-elected, which was given by a rising vote.

Mrs. Jno. S. Henderson, president; Mrs. T. B. Beall, 1st vice-president; Mrs. E. B. Neave, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. F. J. Murdoch, 3rd vice-president; Miss Bessie Henderson, secretary; Mrs. C. R. Barker, treasurer.

The next business was the announcement that $25 had been promised the Bull Run and Manassas cemeteries by the State at large instead of $250 as was printed. This chapter having already sent $5 for this purpose, this matter was disposed of. The next object was the Vance portrait which is to be painted for the North Carolina room in Richmond. $10 was given to this fund. Mrs. Murdoch here presented the cause of the sufferers from the flood at Galveston, Texas, at Camp Wharton as described by Gail Gordon. Mrs. Thomas Murphy being present reported that the $30 made at her residence by a concert for the Lee monument, she desired turned into the treasury of the chapter and when asked if she had any particular object she desired to receive the good of it, replied she preferred it going to the relief of the living. Mrs. E. B. Neave motioned to give $25 of the amount to Camp Wharton, of Texas. This carried and the treasurer authorized to forward this amount. The next and very important matter to be considered was the Arlington dead which are to be removed and buried elsewhere according to an act of Congress, $25,000 having been appropriated for exhuming, but no means for transporting for burial.

North Carolina desires to bring her dead to the State to reinter. The State president to further investigate and notify the chapters the amounts needed for this most important object. The next matter reached was the little chapter of children, the Southern Cross, which works with much energy and devotion. $5.00 was voted them to be sent them by the Treasurer, Mrs. C. R. Barker. Miss Henderson then read an account of the Montgomery convention, showing a membership of 20,000 members in the organization, with more than 400 chapters. Of this number the membership of North Carolina is 1200, with 27 chapters. Mrs. Tiernan presented the cause of Old Blanford Church, near Petersburg, Va.—the scene of so many battles, and where so many North Carolinians fought and were killed. This appeal to preserve this church came from A. P. Hill Camp of Veterans. It was built in 1738. It is to be non-sectarian, and each State to put in a memorial window. Tho' late

Mrs. Tiernan fascinated her hearers with the richness and music of her voice and fain would have listened longer. $5.00 was given to this object, making in all $45 paid out in one afternoon.

The State President reported a paper to memorialize the Legislature in behalf of the Soldiers Home. This paper contains the names of 1,200 women—Daughters of the Confederacy—with the seal of the State and its colors, "Red, White and Red." Mrs. H. A. London is chairman of the committee, and a member from every chapter has had a notice to be present at the presentation of the memorial. Miss Bessie Henderson will represent the chapter of Salisbury No. 78.

The work of the chapter this year is to be for the "Cross of Honor" to be presented to Camp Fisher before its reunion in May. The chapter is greatly increased in energy, devotion to work, interest and members. Ten new members have been enrolled since last meeting in November. During the year the chapter will meet every month.

Mrs. Murdoch read an interesting letter from Miss Daisy Murdoch, of Springfield, Illinois, telling of the hardships, suffering and death of Confederate soldiers of that place in 1864. She reports condition of graves, &c. The secretary was asked to write Miss Murdoch a letter of thanks for their kindness and courtesy to this chapter and that this interesting letter be placed on file for future reference.

Chapter adjourned to meet fourth Wednesday in February, the time and place to be hereafter appointed. MEMBER.

QUEEN IS DYING.

CAN LIVE BUT A FEW HOURS
LONGER AT BEST.

IS GROWING WEAKER.

The Prince of Wales Also Suffered a Severe Attack of Heart Trouble This Morning—Many Unreliable Reports Current—Great Distress at the Queen's Condition.

London, Jan. 21.—At noon the Queen had slightly rallied. There is no failure of strength.

London, Jan. 21.—A report was circulated at 11:30 that the Queen had died. It was soon shown to be untrue. Following the report came the official bulletin showing her Majesty was better. The Queen is kept alive by the administration of oxygen. The official bulletin is as follows:

Cowes, Isle of Wight, 11 a. m. The Queen has slightly rallied since midnight. Her Majesty has taken some food and refreshing sleep. There is no further loss of strength but the symptoms which give most anxiety are those which point to a local obstruction of the brain circulation.

London, Jan. 21.—A bulletin issued by the physicians at 11 o'clock indicates that they fear death may come suddenly as the result of pressure of blood-clots on the brain. This report gives strength to the report that her Majesty suffered a stroke of apoplexy, resulting in partial paralysis.

London, Jan. 21.—At 8:05 this morning a special train left Victoria station for the Isle of Wight with the Emperor William, Prince of Wales, Duke of York and Duke of Connaught aboard. The Prince was plainly a very sick man. An attack of heart trouble had forced a delay of start twelve hours. During that time the physicians had been constantly in attendance upon him and though he rallied sufficiently to undertake the journey widespread anxiety was felt lest the shock from his grief and the strain under which he is laboring may have a serious effect. When the train left it was reported by members of the royal family that the Queen was sinking rapidly.

London, Jan. 21.—Sir Alfred Gorroda, one of the physicians of the queen who on account of physical infirmity, is unable to go to Osborne House, said today to a correspondent: The queen, I understand, is in a high fever brought about by extreme anxiety and together with the natural weakness of old age it has seriously affected her heart but her majesty may linger in life weeks longer.

London, Jan. 21.—3 p. m. Speaker Gully received a telegram this afternoon to the House of Commons stating that the Queen was dying. Officials at Windsor Castle are preparing for a sudden return to court. The Lord Chancellor's department is significantly described as arranging for any eventuality. An official despatch from Windsor to the Exchange Telegram Company says a private message received from Windsor at mid-day says there is no hope for the Queen. She is sinking fast. It might, however, be noted that many reckless rumors are afloat due to the anxiety of the news agencies to outvie one another. Archbishop Canterbury has not yet been summoned to Osborne.

London, Jan. 21.—Prime minister Salisbury is in London holding a conference with Marquis Lansdowne, secretary of foreign affairs. The Premier will go to Osborne this afternoon.

EDITOR KLUTZ RESIGNS.

Mr. Whitehead Klutz Resigns as Editor-in-Chief.

Mr. Whitehead Klutz, one of Salisbury's most talented young men, who has been editor-in-chief of the University Tar Heel, has resigned his editorial position to devote his time to the study of law. The Tar Heel of last week says editorially:

It was with reluctance and great regret that the editors of the Tar Heel accepted the resignation of Mr. Whitehead Klutz from the editorship-in-chief. During the past season he has met with gratifying success in that proverbially difficult position. He has been unusually successful in the expression of the feeling of the student body on the serious questions that have arisen for discussion and his style both of thinking and of writing has been such as to attract complimentary notice not only from University students, but from the press away from the Hill. It is very far from easy to fill the place resigned by one so eminently suited for it as he.

THE MARKET SUSCEPTIBLE.

What Effect the Queen's Death Will Have on England.

Paris, Jan. 21.—The fall of the English markets on news from the queen has attracted some comment. Financial circles here, discussing the situation yesterday and today, generally held that no really important change in the public policy of England would likely result. That uncertainty if not apprehension for the moment was felt in some quarters of the London market. It is argued, however, that the situation in the Transvaal is so thoroughly bad that a change in any direction would have to be regarded as favorable. The French opinion as to the outcome in that regard is divided between those who believe that British war operations will be pursued more vigorously than ever and others who hope that those now serving will be disposed to facilitate peace negotiations on the basis of compromises.

Interest in the contest for mayor, which has opened up early in the season, does not abate but on the contrary increases.

"I haven't made up my mind," said Mr. Miller. "A large number of citizens have been to me and asked me to make the race but so far I have not given any positive answer about the matter. It is very likely, however, that I will run."

It is understood that Mr. Miller favors giving to the citizens the right to raise hogs within the incorporate limits.

Mr. D. L. Gaskill is also spoken of as a candidate and I asked him this morning if he proposed to make the race.

"I haven't made up my mind yet," replied Mr. Gaskill. "I have been approached on the subject but as it is so early I hadn't given the matter a great deal of consideration as yet."
