WOMAN'S GENEROSITY HE IS NOT WANTED. POINTED QUESTIONS. SPENCER DIRECTORY. QUEEN'S WILL READ. THE BODY REVIEWED. LEGISLATURE TODAY.

REFUSES TO ACCEPT DOWER FROM THE ESTATE.

Mrs. Burleyson says it was intended for the first wife's children and refuses any share.

Mr. J. Ed. Dorton, of Gold Hill, spent yesterday and this morning in Salisbury on his way home from Concord, where he had been looking after the estate of his father-in-law, the late Benjamin Burleyson. Mr. Dorton's wife is dead but left a little daughter, who will come in for her mother's estate. Connected with the settlement of the estate comes a story as strange as true. Mr. Dorton called our attention to the following item in the Concord correspondence of the Charlotte Observer:

"An instance of generosity and unselfish sacrifice occurred in this county when the estate of the late Benjamin Burleyson was in the hands of his administrator that seldom has a parallel in the records of any court. Mr. Burleyson's last wife was Mrs. Blakely, of Lancaster, S. C., who brought to her new home one son by her first marriage. Mr. Burleyson had seven children and thus a family of eight children were gathered under one roof. Their home at Flow's, in this county was one of plenty and prosperity and to all human view, a long and peaceful life was before a happy family. On one sad evening last year Mr. Burleyson was fatally hurt and died in a few hours. The widowed mother, with broken hopes, thought only of the welfare of those left to her care and considered the financial prospects which were before her family, and declaring to the administrator that her property in South Carolina was sufficient for the maintenance of herself and her son, refused to accept any part of her legal right in Mr. Burleyson's estate."

Mr. Dorton says that Mrs. Burleyson stated that she knew that her deceased husband had saved and accumulated for the sake of his children and as she had been married to him only three years and having means of her own she would refuse her dower.

The estate is valued at $12,000.

Suits Against Southern.

The Winston correspondent of the Charlotte Observer says:

Miss Etta Rayle and her brother, Albert, are in Greensboro looking after their suit against the Southern Railway, which is to be tried at this term of court. They claim $5,000 each for injuries sustained two years ago. A train ran into their buggy throwing them out and inflicting injuries which kept them in their rooms for several months. The horse they were driving was killed and the buggy demolished.

Mr. Reid Moving.

Mr. J. H. Reid is today moving from the stand he has occupied on Main street since he came to Salisbury to the new store room in the Savings Bank Building. This is one of the best store rooms in the city.

HE IS NOT WANTED.

Oddie says he is. Authorities says he is not.

The Mecklenburg Darkey, who escaped from the Chain Gang is released on instructions.

Jim Oddie (or at least this is the name by which he is known to most of his Salisbury friends of color) who was arrested Monday afternoon by Officers Cauble and Torrence, has been released.

And the most peculiar feature connected with Oddie's release is that the Charlotte authorities claim that they do not want him and he says that they do.

Some time ago the Mecklenburg officers wrote the officers here and stated that Oddie was an escaped convict and authorized his arrest. The officers have been vigilant and watched for Oddie since then and only succeeded in catching him this week. In view of this fact it is very peculiar that the Charlotte people should have written that they did not want him.

Despite the fact that Oddie admitted that he was an escaped convict there was nothing left for the officers but to release him.

BRITISH SUBJECTS HERE.

Students at Livingstone College Express Their Grief and Sympathy.

On the receipt of the sad tidings of the queen's death, Frank Arthur, Wm. Hockman, J. Edman Aggrey, Ed. Edinboro and C. A. Ottley, British subjects, now studying in Livingstone College, met and sent resolutions of condolence to Ambassador Paunceforte and through him to the bereaved royal family, expressing their inexpressible grief because of the death of their dear motherly queen, their sympathy with the royal family, and emphasizing their continued loyalty and allegiance to the King—Emperor Edward VII. Aggrey, Arthur and Hockman represent the Gold Coast, West Africa; Edinboro, St. Kitts, B. W. I., and Ottley, British Honduras.

J. R. McCrary, Esq., of Lexington, is in the city today.

Capt. Charles Price went to New York on No. 36 this morning on local business.

POINTED QUESTIONS.

A Correspondent Says the Temperance People of Rowan Will be Put on Record Monday.

The following communication handed us by one of Salisbury's prominent citizens is published by request and indicates that the article in yesterday's SUN, described the Prohibition fight now on among Prohibitionists here with accuracy:

MR. JOHN M. JULIAN:
MY DEAR SIR:—Is it possible that any person pretending to be a prohibitionist will oppose any action taken by a meeting of those who, "without distinction of party," are expected to meet and agree upon such action as may be deemed best to free the county and the town from "the curse of liquor stills and saloons?" If so, it will be proof conclusive that "the party" is clearer to that person than the PRINCIPLE for which he poses.

The question involved is one essentially and solely of morals and of police and economic policy. There can be no valid reason why any Republican, Democrat, Populist or Prohibitionist should not attend the meeting, called for next Monday, provided he desires to see "the curse of liquor stills and saloons" removed—much less reason for the last named than for the others. Now is a time when Republicans, Democrats and Populists, who are perfectly loyal to their respective parties, can, without compromising their political principles as party men, join hands with the party prohibitionists to try, with some prospect of success if all unite, to secure the great boon for the country which they profess to desire most earnestly.

It goes without saying that all must unite if success is to be achieved. Union is impossible when the success of political principles demands of true party men to stand by their respective organizations. Now, no such demand exists and all true anti-liquor men of all political parties can, without sacrifice of any other principle, come together and present an unbroken front to those who favor the liquor abomination. Surely no one will hesitate to act.

The above is prompted by your article in yesterday's SUN, predicting a bitter fight between political prohibitionists and anti-liquor men not belonging to that party. No such contest is possible, if all are sincere in seeking the accomplishment of the main object proposed by all nor will it be precipitated if conservative councils are needed. Let every anti-liquor man attend the meeting next Monday at 12 o'clock, noon, determined to act for a united effort to accomplish the result desired by all.

ANTI-LIQUOR.

Change of Partnership.

Mr. J. M. Ide has sold his interest in the drug firm heretofore known as J. W. Cornelison & Co., to Mr. B. W. Cornelison, cousin of Mr. J. W. Cornelison, of the former firm and traveling agent for the Paris Medicine Company, of St. Louis, Mo. The new firm will be conducted under the same name and same management. See dissolution notice in another part of this paper.

What goes into the home must be pure. Blue Ribbon lemon and vanilla extracts are pure, wholesome and delicious.

LAUNDRY—Citizens of Spencer can have first class laundry done by leaving orders Bryant's drug store or J. C. Henley's stable.

COL. HENDERSON'S DISTINCTION.

Has Voted in the Legislature For Three Senators

The News and Observer of this morning says:

"There are four members in the Legislature who cast their ballots for Hon. F. M. Simmons for United States Senator last Wednesday who had the pleasure of voting for Zebulon B. Vance in the legislature of 1879, twenty-two years ago, for that high position. These four veterans in the cause of good government are Senator J. E. Burroughs, of Vance; Senator S. B. Alexander, of Mecklenburg; Senator John S. Henderson, of Rowan, and Representative W. E. Audry, of Mecklenburg. Col. Henderson has had the honor of voting in the Legislature for Senators Vance, Ransom and Simmons."

Mr. Henderson is probably the only member in the present general assembly who has voted for three United States Senators.

QUEEN'S WILL READ.

HER WISHES IN REGARD TO FUNERAL TO BE FOLLOWED.

The Amount of Her Private Fortune and the Disposition of it Will be Kept Secret for a While.

Cowes, Jan. 25.—The Queen's will has been opened and her wishes in regard to her funeral learned. They will be carried out to the letter. This will be all the information regarding its contents that will be made known. The amount of her private fortune and the disposition of it will be kept a secret. The Princess Beatrice is the principal beneficiary.

Cowes, Jan. 25.—It is reported that the Queen's will provides for the payment of the Prince of Wales' debts. It is believed these amount to a million or more pounds. The will was read to the King and other members of the royal family. Princess Beatrice gets Osborne House and a considerable share of the estate. The Duke of Connaught gets Balmoral Castle and the Scottish estate.

THE BODY REVIEWED.

THE QUEEN'S BODY PLACED IN A COFFIN TO-DAY.

The Body Will be Removed From Osborne House Next Friday. The Route Selected to London.

Cowes, Jan. 25.—The Queen's body was placed in a coffin at ten o'clock this morning and brought into the dining room at the Osborne House, which has been converted into a temporary chapel. It is officially stated that the public will not be admitted to view the body. It will be removed from Osborne House next Friday and placed in the royal yacht Alberta. Saturday morning it will be carried on the train to Victoria station and thence to Paddington. The route will be the same that was recently taken by Earl Roberts when proceeding to Paddington Station and Buckingham Palace.
