GHEEN GIVES BOND.

A PRELIMINARY HEARING YESTERDAY BEFORE ESQUIRE MILLER.

Nearly all The Witnesses Swear that the Deceased had a Pistol Drawn on Gheen.

The preliminary hearing in the case of Will Gheen, who killed Lee Miller, a young negro man, last Saturday, was held in the court house yesterday afternoon, Esquire D. M. Miller presiding.

The four companions of Gheen testified that Miller was advancing on him with a drawn gun when Gheen hit him with the rock that caused his death. Stella Holt, the disputable colored woman with whom Miller was living, said that he had no pistol.

Hon. Lee S. Overman and L. H. Clemen, Esq., appeared for Gheen, while T. C. Linn, Esq., represented the State.

After deliberation Mr. Miller announced that he would fix Gheen's bond at $500 and the bond of James Earnhardt at $250. Will King, John Earnhardt and James Sawyer were required to give bond of $25. Stella Holt was bound over to court in the sum of $100.

All but the woman gave bond, Mr. W. T. Gheen becoming bondsman for Will Gheen, and Messrs. P. A. Hartman and Milas Earnhardt for Gheen's companions.

PRETTY LOVE TOKEN.

MR. HUMPHREY GETS A BEAUTIFUL GOLD WATCH.

The Spencer People Presented Him With a Token of Their Regard and Love Last Evening.

Rubens Humphrey, the general secretary of the Southern Railway department, Young Men's Christian Association of Spencer, left last night for Philadelphia where he will have charge of a branch of the Y. M. C. A.

The Spencer school children at the close of the day's session yesterday marched over to the Association building to bid Mr. Humphrey good-bye and presented him with a beautiful fountain pen.

His Spencer and Salisbury friends gave him an elegant gold watch and chain which was delivered to him at the Association last night in the presence of a host of his friends that had gathered to bid him good-bye.

Mr. J. C. Henley in presenting this watch spoke in part as follows: "Mr. Humphrey: About the 1st of August, 1900, the idea was conceived to establish a Young Men's Christian Association at Spencer.

An important thing was to secure a man suitable for General Secretary and after we had viewed the country our eyes were centered upon Rochester, New York, where a man was found by the name of Rubens Humphrey. A few began to bring up objections saying that he was a Northern man, that in short he was a Yankee, but that objection was cleared up.

Now as you are about to take your departure it is with sorrow that we shall say good-bye to you and as a token of our gratitude for your many kindnesses and the high esteem that we have for you, about 9 o'clock this morning the idea was conceived to make you a nice little present which I now present to you with the compliments of the people that you have made happy and that have learned to love you since you have been in our midst.

Hopeing that we may all be remembered in your prayers and that you may return soon to visit us and assuring you that the hearts and homes of the people of Spencer will always be open to you, wishing you abundant success in your new field and praying that God's richest blessings may be showered upon you all through life, I now present to you this watch.

It may one day fail to tick but never will our hearts cease to beat in sympathy with you."

SCHLEY'S WITNESSES.

RAYNER WANTS TO ASK QUESTIONS ABOUT CERTAIN SIGNALS.

Will Argue That the Whole Fleet was Placed Under the Command of Admiral Schley.

Washington, Oct. 16.—In the Schley court, Capt. Cook and Lieut. Sears corrected their testimony yesterday. Commander Mason, executive officer on the Brooklyn during the Spanish war, was called to relate his observations of Schley's conduct during the Santiago campaign.

Officers of the Brooklyn will be called, to be followed by those of the Oregon. It is understood that Schley's witnesses will practically be confined to persons aboard these vessels.

Rayner presented a number of questions to the court, which he said he desired to ask one of Schley's witnesses concerning certain signals sent from Sampson's flagship on the morning of July 3rd, before that vessel left for Sibony, for the purpose of allowing Sampson to consult Shafter.

These signals, Rayner contends, placed the entire fleet under the command of Schley. Their relevancy is urged for this reason.
